Case Western Reserve University
Department of Psychological Sciences
Tenure Track Faculty Position

The Department of Psychological Sciences in the College of Arts and Science at Case Western Reserve University (CWRU) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor. The successful candidate will specialize in psychological aspects of human communication. All applicants under consideration must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent by date of appointment and will be expected to develop a strong externally-funded research program, contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate educational programs, and provide service that supports the strategic plans of the department, college, and university. The typical teaching requirement is 2 courses each semester.

The new Department of Psychological Sciences, effective January 1, 2011, will represent the combined strengths of the current Department of Psychology and the Department of Communication Sciences. This distinctive new department will offer undergraduate majors and minors in psychology and in communication sciences; a minor in health communications; an accredited M.A. program in speech-language pathology; an accredited Ph.D. program in clinical psychology; a Ph.D. program in communication sciences; and a Ph.D. program in experimental psychology. The ideal applicant’s area of research will involve and integrate topics important for both psychology and communication sciences to enhance the research and education missions of the department.

Candidates should provide a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests and plans, a statement of teaching experience, and the names, addresses, and email addresses of four referees to whom we may write. Send electronic applications to Chair Lee Thompson, Ph.D. at lee.thompson@case.edu. Alternatively, applications can be mailed to Pat Maar, Department of Psychological Sciences, Cleveland Hearing & Speech Center, 11206 Euclid Avenue Room 410, Cleveland, OH 44106-7054. Complete applications received by January 10, 2010 will receive full consideration. In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.