Choral Music Education

CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY – Tenure-track position in Choral Music Education, beginning in the 2009-2010 academic year.

The Department of Music at Case Western Reserve University invites qualified individuals to apply for a tenure-track position in Choral Music Education, joining a team of four other music education colleagues. CWRU and The Cleveland Institute of Music cooperate in an integrated music program that provides the advantages of both a conservatory and a major university. Undergraduate and graduate students who matriculate at either institution may enroll in courses at both CWRU and CIM. Music education courses are taught at CWRU. The two institutions share a campus setting in University Circle, together with the Cleveland Orchestra, the Cleveland Museum of Art, and over twenty other cultural organizations.

Responsibilities include: Teaching undergraduate courses in choral music education methods and materials and conducting the Case Concert Choir. Other duties, dependent on qualifications, may include teaching courses in graduate music education and in the University's SAGES liberal arts program. Department teaching load is four courses/year.

Advantageous qualifications include: receipt of the doctorate by date of appointment; a minimum of three years of successful teaching in public school music; a distinguished record of scholarship, teaching, and service relative to career stage; a commitment to continued research, publication, service, and creative activity; a commitment to excellence in teaching; and college teaching experience. Rank is open, dependent on qualifications and experience relative to departmental standards [http://music.cwru.edu/MusicP&TGuidelines.pdf], although appointment at the rank of assistant professor is preferred. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Review of applications will begin November 3, 2008 and continue until the position is filled. Please send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a scholarly writing sample, three current letters of recommendation sent independently by each letter writer, a list of three additional references (include names, positions, and contact information, including email addresses), and a transcript of the highest degree earned to: Chair, Music Education Search, Department of Music, Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, OH 44106-7105.

Case Western Reserve University is committed to diversity and is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Applications from women or minorities are especially encouraged.
