

THE CWRU EMERITI ACADEMY

Invites you to Attend an Interactive Discussion on

Healthy and Independent Living in Retirement

Tuesday, April 9th, 2:00pm-4:00pm (includes a reception)

Toefer Room, Adelbert Hall

Eva Kahana, PhD, Distinguished University Professor and Pierce T. and Elizabeth D. Robson Professor of Sociology, Humanities, Applied Social Science, Nursing and Medicine; Director, Elderly Care Research Center; CWRU College of Arts and Sciences

Will facilitate the discussion among faculty experts and audience members

Kurt Stange, MD, PhD; Director, Center for Community Health Integration; Distinguished University Professor; Dorothy Jones Weatherhead Professor of Medicine; Gertrude Donnelly Hess, MD, Professor of Oncology Research; Professor of Family Medicine & Community Health, Population & Quantitative Health Sciences, Oncology and Sociology; CWRU School of Medicine

Will focus his remarks on Health Promotion

M.C. "Terry" Hokenstad, Jr, PhD, Distinguished University Professor Emeritus; Ralph S. and Dorothy P. Schmitt Professor Emeritus, Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences; Professor of Global Health, School of Medicine

Will focus his remarks on Opportunities for Independent Living

Please RSVP using this link: <https://bit.ly/2SOshJh>, or email us here: emeritiaffairs@case.edu