RIGHT TO PRIVACY: The Conflict Between Personal Choice and The Community
Barbara Greenberg, Lecturer

Our Right to Privacy seems to be changing daily. There is a continuing conflict between individual rights and those of the community for public safety, security and health and welfare. As well, issues of personal choice are in conflict with the first amendment issues of free speech and religion. The United States Supreme Court has spoken on some issues and others are to be decided in 2015. Our classes will look at the areas of most recent concern-technology, public health, and personal and family issues. Our discussions will include a review of decisions from the United States Supreme Court involving these areas and the Bill of Rights which gives us the basis for our right to privacy.

Sept. 8: The Right to Privacy-Where does it come from and when do we have it
   Topics will include: A review of the Bill of Rights Amendments applicable, and the beginning of a discussion of personal rights and the conflict between the individual and the community

Sept. 15: The Right to Personal Privacy
   Topics will include: Right to life, right to die, DNA, gene mapping, body searching at airports and police stops. Where is the line?

Sept. 22: Personal Choice versus Public Health
   Topics will include: to vaccinate or not, is it different now?
   Ebola/Influenza/Measles- who decides to vaccinate-parents, medical community, legislation (government)

Sept. 29: Family Issues
   Topics will include: marriage partners, health care, school issues, divorce, juvenile conflicts, private business choices verses public service

Oct. 6: Technology
   Topics will include: cell phones, social media, national security and surveillance issues