Class 2001

Description:

I will be working at a community hospital in the suburbs of Paris, France (Centre Hospitalier d'Argenteuil) in the department of rheumatology under the supervision of the chief of service, Dr. Jean-Louis Feldmann. I will be participating in both outpatient clinics and inpatient hospital consultations. Please see attached letter.

Career Goals:

I will be pursuing a career in Internal Medicine with the intent of further specializing. I am currently undecided about which fellowship discipline I will choose. I am hoping this elective will allow me to compare and contrast the European vs. American systems of practicing a medical subspecialty in addition to adding to my general knowledge of internal medicine.

Language Skills/ Travel Experience:

I was born and raised in Ottawa, Canada where I attended a French school from K-7. I continued studying French at my American high school to the Advanced Placement level. In college, I took a few literature and conversation courses. I am fluent in both spoken and written French.

I spent one summer in the same Parisian suburb as a junior in high school. I have traveled throughout Western Europe on several occasions.
