The Faculty of Medicine of the University of Chile is in a position to accept a limited number of medical students from foreign Universities who may be interested in carrying out elective clinical activities in internal medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, surgery, or primary care in rural areas.

The type of activities is defined according to the level of knowledge and previous training of the candidates.

The elective may last from one month to a maximum of one year, during which the candidate will participate with our students in regular clinical work and lectures, supervised by a staff member.

The candidate should fill in the application form enclosed. Additionally, he must be supported by his own school. The objectives of the program, an academic report (level of medical studies attained), and every other pertinent information must be stated.

We cannot offer financial support for transportation, housing or meals, but the candidates will be advised about the best available possibilities.

Applications should be addressed to the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine.

The Faculty carries out clinical and teaching activities for undergraduate as well as postgraduate students at the following teaching hospitals in the city of Santiago:

1. Hospital Clínico de la Universidad de Chile, J.J. Aguirre (adults)
 2. Hospital del Salvador (adults)
 3. Hospital Luis Calvo Mackenna (children)
 4. Hospital San Juan de Dios (adults and children)
 5. Hospital Roberto del Río (children)
 6. Hospital Clínico San Borja-Arriarán (adults and children)
 7. Hospital Barros Luco-Trudeau (adults)
 8. Hospital Exequiel González Cortés (children)
