The Voicing & Action Project is a collaboration between the Social Justice Institute of Case Western Reserve University and the people of East Cleveland to record and empower the voices of residents, past and present, by documenting history, discussing current events, and imagining a future for the city.

Dr. Rhonda Y. Williams and the Social Justice Institute invite you to celebrate East Cleveland with us and begin the conversation on where we go from here.

ECPL has generously provided the meeting space but assumes no responsibility for the program or its content.
