Case Western Reserve University

DESTINATION WEEKEND

Paul Bugallo (GRS, theater) is a Spanish/Italian- American actor who was born in Miami but raised in Seattle. He earned his Bachelor of Fine Arts in Theatrical Performance at Central Washington University and went on to earn his Master of Fine Arts degree in Acting at the Case Western Reserve University and Cleveland Play House's Master of Fine Arts in Acting program. Paul has performed in theaters across the country, including the Seattle Repertory Theatre, Cleveland Play House, The Center House and improv theaters such as Second City Hollywood, Unexpected Productions, and Upright Citizen's Brigade.

He has also enjoyed success doing voice-overs for radio, podcasts, video games and immersive virtual reality experiences. Paul is just coming off directing Murder Blood Bear Story: Part 2 at the Hollywood Fringe Festival and has definitely caught the directing bug as he continues to expand his horizons.
