DESTINATION WEEKEND

Reed O'Mara (GRS, art history) is a fifth-year PhD candidate and Mellon Fellow in the Department of Art History and Art at Case Western Reserve University who focuses on the arts of medieval Europe, primarily illuminated manuscripts and Gothic architectural sculpture.

Her dissertation explores text-image relationships in Hebrew manuscripts and prints from Germany from the years 1230 to 1500. She is currently the curatorial intern in the Department of Manuscripts at the J. Paul Getty Museum.

Reed joined The Alumni Association of Case Western Reserve in 2024 as one of the New York Destination Weekend speakers and guides exploring The Morgan Museum and Library.
