Suppose that X and Y are compact topological spaces. Show, without using Alexander's Lemma, that $X \times Y$ is compact. (You may still use the fact that sets of the form $U \times V$, where U is open in X and V is open in Y, form a base for the product topology.)