COMPREHENSIVE CANCER CENTER

VELO SANO
100% for the cure

July 19 - 21

Case Comprehensive Cancer Center (Case CCC) is pleased to announce our 5th team for the VeloSano bike ride. The VeloSano ride has raised almost $17M in 5 years, with every one of those dollars going directly to cancer research, and with funds directly benefiting Case Comprehensive Cancer Center members. We are looking for support for our team and therefore our scientists who are working each day to discover advances in cancer care.

About the Case Comprehensive Cancer Center

The Case Comprehensive Cancer Center (Case CCC) is the coordinating body for all of the major cancer research activities of the largest biomedical research and health care institutions in Northeast Ohio. In partnership with University Hospitals and the Cleveland Clinic, the Case CCC is one of only 49 centers in the nation to hold a comprehensive center designation from the National Cancer Institute. Over the past 30 years the Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine has developed a range of programs and expertise in our coordinated approach to cancer research. These include: state of the art imaging technology, genomics and personalized medicine, stem cell programs, clinical trials and drug discovery. Under Dr. Stan Gerson's leadership, more than 380 physicians and scientists are committed to bringing forward new knowledge that will translate to hope and healing for cancer patients.
