POLICY #1: PRIVACY AND SECURITY RULE DEFINITIONS
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The following words shall have the meaning assigned to them below whenever used in the Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") Privacy and Security Rules Policies and Procedures:

Business associate means with respect to CWRU a person who:

- i. on behalf of CWRU, but not as a member of CWRU's workforce, performs, or assists in the performance of
 - (a) a function or activity involving the use or disclosure of individually identifiable health information, including claims processing or administration, data analysis, processing or administration, utilization review, quality assurance, billing, benefit management, practice management, and repricing; or
 - (b) any other function or activity regulated by the requirements of 45 CFR, Subtitle A, Subchapter C (concerning the HIPAA administrative simplification requirements); or
- ii. provides, other than as a member of CWRU's workforce, legal, actuarial, accounting, consulting, data aggregation, management, administrative, accreditation, or financial services to CWRU, where the provision of the service involves the disclosure of individually identifiable health information from CWRU, or from another business associate of CWRU, to the person.

Case Western Reserve University or CWRU shall refer solely and exclusively to the designated health care components of CWRU, identified by CWRU for HIPAA compliance purposes in accordance with the Privacy and Security Rules and as documented as required by the Privacy and Security Rules, unless the context requires otherwise, in which CWRU, Case Western Reserve University or CWRU shall mean the university as a whole.

Covered entity means a health plan, a health care clearinghouse, or a health care provider who transmits any health information in electronic form in connection with a transaction for which standards have been promulgated pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability

Act of 1996. CWRU's designated health care components are "covered entities" for purposes of the Privacy and Security Rules.

Workforce means employees, volunteers, trainees, and other persons whose conduct, in the performance of work for a covered component, is under the direct control of the covered component, whether or not they are paid by the covered component.

Data use agreement means an agreement between CWRU and the recipient of a limited data set which imposes certain requirements on that recipient as to the use of the limited data set and the confidentiality of PHI, as further described in the policy and procedures concerning research.

Designated health care component means any one of those departments, activities and/or functions, or any combination of departments, activities and/or functions of CWRU which have been designated by CWRU as health care components for purposes of compliance with the Privacy Rules; other than as provided in 45 CFR §164.504, the Privacy and Security Rules apply only to the designated health care components of CWRU and not to any other departments, components, activities and/or functions of CWRU.

Disclosure means the release, transfer, provision of access to, or divulging in any other manner of information outside of CWRU.

Health care operations means any of the following activities of CWRU:

- i. conducting quality assessment and improvement activities, provided that the obtaining of generalizable knowledge is not the primary purpose of any studies resulting from such activities; population-based activities relating to improving health or reducing health care costs, protocol development, CWRU management and care coordination, contacting of health care providers and individuals with information about treatment alternatives; and related functions that do not include treatment;
- ii. reviewing the competence or qualifications of health care professionals, evaluating practitioner and provider performance, health plan performance, conducting training programs in which students, trainees, or practitioners in areas of health care learn under supervision to practice or improve their skills as health care providers, training of non-health care professionals, accreditation, certification, licensing, or credentialing activities;
- iii. conducting or arranging for medical review, legal services, and auditing functions, including fraud and abuse detection and compliance programs;
- iv. business planning and development, such as conducting cost-management and planning-related analyses related to managing and operating the entity, including formulary development and administration, development or improvement of methods of payment or coverage policies; and
- v. business management and general administrative activities of CWRU including, but not limited to:

- (a) management activities relating to implementation of and compliance with the requirements of this subchapter;
- (b) customer service, including the provision of data analyses for policy holders, plan sponsors, or other customers, provided that protected health information is not disclosed to such policy holder, plan sponsor, or customer.
- (c) resolution of internal grievances;
- (d) the sale, transfer, merges, or consolidation of all or part of CWRU with another covered entity, or an entity that following such activity will become a covered entity and due diligence related to such activity; and
- (e) creating de-identified health information or a limited data set, and fundraising for the benefit of CWRU, all as carried on as permitted by the HIPAA Privacy Rules.

Health information means any information, whether oral or recorded in any form or medium, that:

- i. is created or received by a health care provider (including CWRU), a health plan, a public health authority, an employer, a life insurer, a school or university, or a health care clearinghouse; and
- ii. relates to the past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition of an individual; the provision of health care to an individual; or the past, present, or future payment for the provision of health care to an individual.

Hybrid entity means a single legal entity that is a covered entity for purposes of the Privacy Rules because it conducts certain activities which are subject to the Privacy and Security Rules and certain activities which are not, and which designates health care components as required by the Privacy and Security Rules; CWRU is a hybrid entity and, as such, only its designated health care components are subject to and must comply with the Privacy and Security Rules.

Individually identifiable health information is information that is a subset of health information, including demographic information collected from an individual, and:

- i. is created or received by a health care provider (including CWRU), a health plan, an employer, or a health care clearinghouse; and
- ii. relates to the past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition of an individual; the provision of health care to an individual; or the past, present, or future payment for the provision of health care to an individual; and

Institutional review board or IRB means the Case Western Reserve University Institutional Review Board, the CWRU Cancer Institutional Review Board, or any other similar body or board established in accordance with 45 CFR 46.102(g).

Limited data set means PHI from which certain direct identifiers of the individual and the individual's relatives, employer(s), and/or household members have been removed, as more fully described in CWRU's Policies and Procedures concerning research.

Payment means the activities undertaken by CWRU to obtain reimbursement for the provision of health care; such activities relate to an individual to whom health care is provided and include, but are not limited to:

- i. determinations of eligibility or coverage (including coordination of benefits or the determination of cost sharing amounts), and adjudication or subrogation of health benefit claims;
- ii. risk adjusting amounts due based on enrollee health status and demographic characteristics;
- iii. billing, claims management, collection activities, obtaining payment under a contract for reinsurance (including stop-loss insurance and excess of loss insurance), and related health care data processing;
- iv. review of health care services with respect to medical necessity, coverage under a health plan, appropriateness of care, or justification of charges;
- v. utilization review activities, including precertification and preauthorization of services, concurrent and retrospective review of services; and
- vi. disclosure to consumer reporting agencies of any of the following protected health information relating to collection of premiums or reimbursement
 - (a) name and address;
 - (b) date of birth;
 - (c) social security number,
 - (d) payment history;
 - (e) account number; and
 - (f) name and address of the health care provider and/or health plan.

Policies and Procedures means collectively the written policies and procedures adopted by CWRU concerning compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules.

Privacy Rules mean those standards, implementation specifications, rules and/or other requirements promulgated by the United States Department of Health and Human Services for the protection of individually identifiable health information, as set forth at 45 CFR Parts 160 and 164, as the same may be from time to time amended, modified and/or supplemented, and any successor rules or regulations dealing with substantially the same subject matter.

Protected health information or PHI means individually identifiable health information transmitted or maintained in any form or medium; protected health information excludes individually identifiable health information in:

- i. education records covered by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, as amended, 20 U.S.C. 1232g;
- ii. records described at 20 U.S.C. 1232g(a)(4)(13)(iv); and

- iii. employment records held by CWRU in its role as an employer.

Security Rules mean those standards, implementation specifications, rules and/or other requirements promulgated by the United States Department of Health and Human Services for the protection of individually identifiable health information, as set forth at 45 CFR Parts 160, 162 and 164, as the same may be from time to time amended, modified and/or supplemented, and any successor rules or regulations dealing with substantially the same subject matter.

Use means, with respect to individually identifiable health information, the sharing, employment, application, utilization, examination, or analysis of such information within an entity that maintains such information.

POLICY #2: HYBRID ENTITY STATUS AND DESIGNATED HEALTH CARE COMPONENTS
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") has hybrid entity status for purposes of compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules. For most purposes, only the designated health care components of CWRU are subject to the Privacy and Security Rules.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to; (1) explain CWRU's hybrid entity status under the Privacy and Security Rules; (2) specify compliance obligations arising out of CWRU's hybrid entity status; and (3) identify CWRU's designated health care components.

I. HYBRID ENTITY STATUS

A. Hybrid entity election. CWRU will comply with the Privacy and Security Rules as a hybrid entity. CWRU qualifies as a hybrid entity because it performs both covered functions, i.e., functions which characterize CWRU as health care provider under the Privacy and Security Rules, and non-covered functions.

B. Determination of Components. CWRU will designate as health care components all those activities, components, departments and/or functions (collectively, "activities") of CWRU, which, if a separate legal entity or treated as the sole activity(ies) of a single legal entity, would qualify such entity as a covered entity under the Privacy and Security Rules.

II. COMPLIANCE OBLIGATIONS

A. In General. Generally, the requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules apply only to the designated health care components of CWRU.

B. Interpretation of the Privacy and Security Rules. Any reference in the Privacy and Security Rules to a covered entity shall be understood to refer to the designated health care components of CWRU. Any reference in the Privacy and Security Rules to a "health plan" or a "covered health care provider" shall refer to a CWRU designated health care component if such designated health care component performs the functions of a health plan or a health care provider. References in the Privacy and Security Rules to “protected health information” or “PHI” refer to PHI that is created or received by or on behalf of a designated health care component of CWRU.

C. CWRU Obligations. CWRU, as opposed to just the designated health care components of CWRU, has the following responsibilities under the Privacy and Security Rules:

1. compliance with those sections of the Privacy and Security Rules set forth in 45 CFR Subpart C, concerning compliance and enforcement;
2. adoption of policies and procedures to ensure compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules, including implementation of safeguard requirements protecting PHI held by designated health care components; and
3. designating its health care components and documenting such designation.
4. Provide training on CWRU privacy and security policies and practices to all members of designated covered components at CWRU.
5. Apply appropriate sanctions when violations of this policy occur.

D. Organizational Unit Responsibilities

Each covered component (e.g., department, clinic) within CWRU is responsible for enforcing policies, standards, and practices set forth by CWRU to comply with HIPAA Privacy and Security Standards. Management responsibilities shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Secure storage of patient information
- Procedures for release of patient information (to third party payers, providers, etc.)
- Procedures for disposal of hard copy records
- Secure transmission and storage of electronic records
- Protection of confidential information from access, use, or dissemination by unauthorized persons
- Report to the Privacy and/or Security Officer any known or suspected violation of this policy or other CWRU privacy policies or any wrongful use or disclosure of protected health information.

E. Individual Responsibilities

All members of designated covered components at CWRU are responsible for adhering to this and related privacy and information security policies and standards and for safeguarding all confidential patient information. These responsibilities shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Avoid access, retrieval, or use of any information on a current or former patient unless authorized for legitimate duties (i.e., assisting in care/treatment, providing a consultation, or approved educational research or business purposes) within their organizational unit.
- Limit the access, use, and disclosure of protected health information to the minimum amount necessary to accomplish the intended purpose.
- Dictate patient notes and discuss patients and their care only in private areas (i.e., not in hallways, elevators, cafeteria lines,) to the extent practicable.
- Protect personal computerized data systems passwords from disclosure to others.
- Take special care to protect patient information (e.g., in hard copy charts or printouts or on computer screens) from view by unauthorized persons.
- Use secure methods for authorized storage, transmission, and disposal of confidential patient information.
- Report to the HIPAA Representative of the covered component AND the Privacy and/or Security Officer any known or suspected internal or external violation of this policy or other CWRU privacy policies or any wrongful use or disclosure of PHI.

III. DESIGNATED HEALTH CARE COMPONENTS

- A. Identification of Components. The following are CWRU's designated health care components:
1. CWRU School of Dental Medicine
 2. CWRU School of Dental Medicine Faculty Practice Plan
 3. CWRU Employee Health Plan
 4. CWRU Postdoctoral Benefits Program
 5. CWRU Student Self-Insured Health Plan and Optional Dependent Medical Plan
 6. Prion Disease Pathology Surveillance Center
 7. FPB Clinical Practice
- B. Identification of Additional Components. If any changes in CWRU's activities, or the addition of any activities to those currently undertaken by CWRU occur, and such changes in or additions of activities require any changes in the designation of designated health care components of CWRU, CWRU will make changes to such designation in accordance with the Privacy and Security Rules and any additional health care components designated as a result of such changes will comply with the Privacy and Security Rules.

IV. OTHER DEPARTMENTS/FUNCTIONS WITH ACCESS TO PHI

The designated health care components of CWRU will enter into a memorandum of understanding with those departments and/or functions of CWRU which provide services to the designated health care components or which otherwise might have access to PHI in the possession of the designated health, care components. As of the date of the promulgation of these Policies and Procedures, a memorandum of understanding will be entered into between the designated health care components and those components or functions of the following departments which interact with the designated health care components:

1. CWRU Office of General Counsel
2. CWRU Office of Audit Services
3. CWRU Controller's Offices including all accounting functions
4. CWRU Information Technology Services

If in the future any additional departments or functions of CWRU have access to PHI maintained or disclosed by a designated health care component of CWRU, the designated health care components will enter into a memorandum of understanding with such other departments) or function(s).

V. SEPARATION CONTROLS

- A. CWRU will create adequate separation between its designated health care components and other components of CWRU. These procedures for adequate separation are referred to as separation controls.
- B. CWRU shall implement the following separation controls in order to protect PHI used and/or maintained by its designated health care components:
 1. designated health care components shall not disclose PHI to other components of CWRU in circumstances under which the Privacy and Security Rules would prohibit such disclosure if the designated health care component and the other component were separate and distinct legal entities;
 2. a designated health care component will disclose information to another component of CWRU which would, if the components were separate entities, constitute a business associate of the designated health care component, only pursuant to a memorandum of understanding which requires that the other component not use or disclose PHI received from or on behalf of the designated health care component in any way that is prohibited under the Privacy and Security Rules;
 3. any person who performs duties or functions for both a designated health care component and another component of CWRU, or for a department which performs functions on behalf of a designated health care component which would be business associate of the designated health care component if such department and the designated health care component were separate legal entities, will not use or disclose any PHI created or received in the course of or incident to performing such duties or functions for or on behalf of the designated health care component in any way prohibited by the Privacy and Security Rules; and

4. all employees of any CWRU designated health care component or any function or department of CWRU that has entered into a memorandum of understanding with a designated health care component shall be subject to the discipline procedures set forth in the policy entitled "Internal Enforcement" in CWRU's Policies and Procedures.

POLICY #3: GENERAL USE AND DISCLOSURE
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") will use and disclose PHI only as specifically permitted or required by the Privacy and Security Rules and in accordance with CWRU's Policies and Procedures.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to specify when and how PHI maybe used and disclosed.

I. INTRODUCTION

The Privacy and Security Rules restrict the use and disclosure of PHI. PHI may be used and disclosed only as permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules. Each use and disclosure of and each request for PHI must meet the "minimum necessary" standard. This policy describes permitted uses and disclosures of PHI and application of the minimum necessary standard to those uses and disclosures.

II. BASIC RULE

CWRU will not use or disclose PHI except (a) as permitted or required by the Privacy and Security Rules, (b) in accordance with CWRU's Notice of Privacy Practices, (c) as consistent with any agreed upon restrictions, as discussed in CWRU's policy entitled "Requests for Additional Privacy" and (d) in compliance with the minimum necessary standard of the Privacy and Security Rules.

III. PERMITTED USES AND DISCLOSURES

A. Permitted uses and disclosures. Permitted uses and disclosures of PHI include:

1. to the individual;
2. incidental uses or disclosures, described below;
3. to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations;
4. pursuant to and in compliance with a valid authorization;
5. pursuant to a verbal agreement from an individual that permits disclosure to a caregiver;
6. for certain "priority" purposes such as disclosures required by law;

7. for various research purposes, pursuant to an appropriate waiver of authorization, as part of a limited data set and/or to create de-identified information (see policy on "Research");
 8. for fundraising, to the extent permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules; and
 9. to business associates, as described below.
- B. Incidental uses and disclosures. Incidental uses and disclosures that occur as a byproduct of a use or disclosure otherwise permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules are explicitly permitted, so long as CWRU has applied reasonable safeguards and implemented the minimum necessary standard, where applicable.
- C. Business associates. The disclosure of PHI to CWRU'S business associates is permitted in accordance with the guidelines set forth in CWRU's policy entitled "Business Associates."
- D. Required disclosures. The Privacy and Security Rules require CWRU to disclose PHI in the following instances:
1. when the individual requests access to information about himself or herself;
 2. when the Department of Health and Human Services ("MS") requests information to investigate or determine CWRU's compliance with the rules; and
 3. when required by law or other priorities, as discussed further in CWRU's policy for Disclosures of Protected Health Information Without Authorizations or Prior Agreement.

IV. MINIMUM NECESSARY

- A. The minimum necessary standard. When using or disclosing PHI, and when requesting PHI from another entity, CWRU will make reasonable efforts to use, disclose or request the minimum amount of PHI reasonably necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of the use, disclosure or request.
- B. Exceptions. Among the uses, disclosures, and requests to which the minimum necessary standard does apply are:
1. uses and disclosures for treatment purposes;
 2. disclosures to the individual who is the subject of the information;
 3. uses or disclosures made pursuant to an authorization;

4. uses or disclosures made in mandatory or situational fields of a HIPAA transactions standard;
 5. disclosures to HHS when required by HHS for compliance and foment purposes; and
 6. uses or disclosures that are required by other law.
- C. Uses of PHI. With respect to CWRU's use of PHI, CWRU's compliance and privacy officer will identify: (1) the persons or classes of persons in CWRU who need access to PHI to carry out their duties; (2) the categories of PHI that each person or class of person's needs; and (3) any conditions necessary for such access. It is CWRU's policy to limit access to only the identified persons and to only the identified PHI.
- D. Routine disclosures. For any type of disclosure of PHI that is made on a routine, recurring basis, it is CWRU's policy to permit only the disclosure of the minimum amount of PHI that is reasonably necessary to achieve the purpose of the disclosure. For routine, recurring disclosures, CWRU's privacy officer will identify the types of PHI to be disclosed and the conditions necessary for such access, and will distribute such information to the appropriate CWRU personnel. Any such disclosures must be made in accordance with the Privacy and Security Rules.

For example, if an individual requests that their PHI be transmitted to a health care provider, CWRU will comply with the request if it can determine that the disclosure is for treatment purposes or the individual provides an authorization.

- E. Non-routine disclosures. For non-routine disclosures, it is CWRU's policy to make such disclosures only in compliance with criteria designed to limit disclosure to only the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the purpose of the disclosure and review requests for such disclosures in accordance with those criteria. Among the factors that may be considered in making such a determination are:
1. What is the purpose of the disclosure? This could be relevant if the disclosure is not covered by the minimum necessary standard.
 2. What is the minimum amount of PHI that can be disclosed to accomplish the purpose of the disclosure?
 3. Are there standards in other industries or among health care providers as to what amount of information is sufficient to fulfill the intended purpose of the disclosure?
 4. To what extent would the disclosure increase the number of persons with access to the PHI?
 5. What is the likelihood of further disclosures?

6. Can substantially the same purpose be achieved using de-identified information?
7. Is there technology available to limit the amount of PHI disclosed?
8. What is the cost, financial or otherwise, of limiting the disclosure?

F. Requests for PHI. The minimum necessary standard applies to situations where CWRU is requesting an individual's PHI from another entity.

1. For requests to other entities made on a routine and recurring basis, CWRU will establish standard protocols describing the minimum amount of information reasonably necessary for purposes of a request, and limit its requests to only that information
2. For non-routine requests, it is CWRU's policy to make such requests only in compliance with criteria designed to limit a request to only the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the purpose of the request and review requests in accordance with those criteria. Among the factors that may be considered in making such a determination are:
 - a. What is the purpose of the request? This could be relevant if the request is not covered by the minimum necessary standard.
 - b. What is the minimum amount of PHI that can be disclosed to accomplish the purpose of the request?
 - c. Are there standards in other industries or among health care providers as to what amount of information is sufficient to fulfill the intended purpose of the request?

G. Reasonable reliance on requested disclosures. CWRU may rely, if reasonable under the circumstances, on statements by public officials, other covered entities or their business associates that they are requesting the minimum PHI necessary to achieve the stated purpose of the request. CWRU may also reasonably rely on the statements of its own business associates or professionals within its workforce that the information requested is the minimum necessary for such purposes, as well as on representations by researchers.

V. DISCLOSURES TO FRIENDS AND RELATIVES

A. Basic rule. CWRU may disclose to a person involved in the current health care of an individual (such as a relative, close personal friend, or any other person identified by the individual) PHI directly related to the person's involvement in the current health care of the individual or payment for the individual's health care.

Examples of persons who might be involved in the individual's cue include, but are not limited to:

1. blood relatives;
2. spouses;
3. roommates;
4. girlfriends and boyfriends;
5. domestic partners; and
6. neighbors.

B. Disclosures of PHI when the individual is present. When the individual is present and has the capacity to make their own decisions, CWRU may disclose PHI to the third party only if CWRU:

1. obtains the individual's agreement to disclose to the third party involved in their care;
2. provides the individual with an opportunity to object to such disclosure and the individual does not express an objection; or
3. reasonably infers from the circumstances, based on the exercise of professional judgment, that the individual does not object to the disclosure.

C. Disclosures of PHI when the individual is not present. When an individual is not present (e.g., when a friend of the individual seeks to pick up a record of an individual's PHI from CWRU) or when CWRU cannot practically give the individual an opportunity to agree or object to the use or disclosure (e.g., because of the individual's incapacity or an emergency circumstance), CWRU may, in the exercise of professional judgment, determine whether the disclosure is in the individual's best interests. If so, CWRU may disclose only PHI that is directly relevant to the person's involvement with the individual's health care. For example, CWRU might disclose dental records to a person who it knows to be assisting an individual with their dental care. CWRU personnel should follow these guidelines when deciding whether to disclose PHI when the individual is not present:

1. only disclose PHI that is directly related to the individual's current condition;
2. consider the individual's best interests and construe this opportunity narrowly, allowing disclosures only to those persons with close relationships with the individual, such as family members;
3. take into account whether the disclosure is likely to put the individual at risk of serious harm;
4. CWRU is not required to verify the identity of relatives or other persons involved in the individual's care;

5. An individual's agreement to disclosure of PHI in one situation or on one occasion does not mean that the individual agrees to disclosures of PHI indefinitely in the future; use professional judgment to determine the scope of the person's involvement in the individual's care and the time period during which the individual agrees to the other person's involvement.

VI. VERIFICATION

- A. Identity and Authority. CWRU personnel must verify the identity of the person requesting PHI and the authority of such person to have access to the PHI under the Privacy and Security Rules, if the identity or the authority of the person is not known to the CWRU personnel.
- B. Documentation. CWRU personnel should obtain documentation, statements, or representations, oral or written, from the person requesting the PHI, when such documentation is required under CWRU's policy entitled "Disclosures of Protected Health Information Without Authorization or Prior Agreement."
- C. Identity of Public Officials. CWRU may rely, if such reliance is reasonable under the circumstances, on any of the following to verify identity when the disclosure of PHI is to a public official or person acting on behalf of a public official: (1) an identification badge or other official credentials; (2) if a request is made in writing, the request is on the appropriate government letterhead; or (3) a written statement on appropriate government letterhead that the person to whom the disclosure will be made is acting under the government's authority, or other evidence or documentation of agency.
- D. Authority of Public Officials. CWRU may rely, if such reliance is reasonable under the circumstances, on any of the following to verify the authority of a public official or person acting on behalf of a public official: (1) a written statement of the legal authority under which the information is requested, or an oral statement if a written statement is impracticable; or (2) if a request is made pursuant to legal process, a warrant, subpoena, order or other legal process issued by a grand jury or judicial or administrative tribunal.
- E. Professional Judgment. CWRU personnel may rely upon professional judgment when making a disclosure in accordance with public safety, as set forth in CWRU's policy entitled "Disclosure of Protected Health Information Without Authorization or Prior Agreement."

VII. ORAL COMMUNICATIONS AND REASONABLE SAFEGUARDS

- A. Applicability of privacy standards. The Privacy and Security Rules apply to PHI in all forms — electronic, written, oral, and any other form.
- B. Use of PHI in oral communications. CWRU personnel may orally coordinate CWRU's services. CWRU personnel may discuss an individual's PHI over the telephone with the individual, a physician, or a family member.
- C. Documentation of oral communications. CWRU is not required to document any information, including oral information, that is used or disclosed for treatment, payment, or health care operations. However, where the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's Privacy and Security Policies require documentation of other types of disclosures, oral communications are included in such requirement. For example, oral disclosures of PHI for purposes other than treatment, payment, or health care operations must be documented in order to provide an individual with a complete accounting of disclosures.
- D. CWRU's duty to safeguard PHI. It is CWRU's policy to reasonably safeguard PHI, including oral information, from any intentional or unintentional uses or disclosures that are in violation of the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's privacy and security policies. This means that CWRU will use reasonable efforts to prevent improper uses and disclosures of PHI.

VIII. DECEASED INDIVIDUALS

It is CWRU's policy to protect the PHI of deceased individuals in accordance with the Privacy and Security Rules and CWRU'S Privacy and Security Policies for as long as CWRU maintains the information.

IX. PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES

CWRU must treat a person as the personal representative of an individual if the person is, under applicable Ohio or federal law, authorized to act on behalf of the individual in making decisions related to health care. However, the representative must be treated as the individual only to the extent that PHI is relevant to the matters on which the personal representative is authorized to represent the individual. For instance, if the personal representative is authorized to act on the individual's behalf only with respect to the individual's treatment for a particular condition, then CWRU may disclose to the personal representative only that information that is relevant to the individual's treatment for that condition. In addition, the personal representative's rights are limited by the scope of their authority under law.

X. DE-IDENTIFICATION AND LIMITED DATA SETS

- A. Basic standard. Health information is considered de-identified (i.e., not individually identifiable) under the Privacy and Security Rules if it does not identify an individual and CWRU has no reasonable basis to believe it can be used to identify an individual. Deidentified information is not PHI and therefore the requirements of the rules do not apply to such information.
- B. De-identifying information. CWRU may de-identify information in two ways:
1. if a person with appropriate knowledge and experience applying generally accepted statistical and scientific principles and methods for rendering information not individually identifiable makes a determination, and documents the analysis, that the risk is very small that the information could be used, either by itself or in combination with other available information, by anticipated recipients to identify a subject of the information; or
 2. if CWRU removes from the information all items on a list of specified identifying information about the individual or their relatives, employers, or household members, and CWRU has no actual knowledge that the information could be used alone or in combination to identify a subject of the information.
- C. Use of PHI to create de-identified information. CWRU may use PHI to create deidentified information or may disclose PHI to a business associate for such purpose, whether or not the de-identified information will be used by CWRU.
- D. Re-identification. If de-identified information is re-identified at some point by CWRU, it becomes subject to the Privacy and Security Rules again and may only be used or disclosed in compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules and CWRU's Policies and Procedures.
- E. Limited data set. CWRU may use PHI, or disclose PHI to a business associate, for the creation of a limited data set. A limited data set may be used or disclosed only for the purposes of research, public health, or health care operations, so long as CWRU enters into a data use agreement with the recipient of the limited data set.
1. A limited data set is PHI that excludes specified direct or “facial” identifiers of the individual or of relatives, employers, or household members of the individual.
 2. A data use agreement between CWRU and the limited data set recipient must:
 - a. establish the permitted uses and disclosures of such information by the limited data set recipient;

- b. prohibit the limited data set recipient's use or disclosure of the information in a manner that would violate the Privacy and Security Rules if done by CWRU;
- c. establish who is permitted to use or receive the limited data set; and
- d. provide that the limited data set recipient will:
 - i. not use or farther disclose the information other than as permitted by the data use agreement or as otherwise required by law;
 - ii. use appropriate safeguards to prevent use or disclosure of the information other than as provided for by the data use agreement;
 - iii. report to CWRU any use or disclosure of the information not provided for by its data use agreement of which it becomes aware;
 - iv. ensure that any agents, including a subcontractor, to whom it provides the limited data set, agrees to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the limited data set recipient with respect to such information; and
 - v. not identify the information or contact the individuals.

POLICY #4: DISCLOSURES WITHOUT AUTHORIZATION OR PRIOR AGREEMENT
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") may release PHI without a valid authorization or other permission from an individual if the use or disclosure falls within one or more of the exceptions of the Privacy and Security Rules and CWRU has complied with all of the conditions required by the exception.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain the situations where the Privacy and Security Rules allow CWRU to use or disclose PHI without a written individual authorization or oral permission, and to describe the relevant procedures CWRU must follow when using or disclosing PHI in such situations.

I. RELEASE OF PHI FOR PRIORITY PURPOSES

A. General rule. As discussed in CWRU's other Policies and Procedures, in many circumstances CWRU is allowed to use or disclose individuals' PHI without obtaining any form of permission (i.e., authorization or verbal agreement) from the individual. In such situations CWRU may use and disclose PHI to the extent permitted and/or for the purposes allowed under the Privacy and Security Rules.

B. Specific situations where individual permission is not required. Listed below are separate categories of uses and disclosures for which CWRU is not required to obtain affirmative permission from the individual prior to disclosure. In any case where there is doubt as to whether a disclosure is permitted, the matter should be referred to CWRU's compliance and privacy officer for review and handling.

1. Required by law. CWRU may use or disclose PHI as required by law if the use or disclosure complies with and is limited to the relevant requirements of such law.
2. Public health activities. CWRU may disclose PHI for the following public health activities:

- a. to a public health authority authorized by law to collect or receive information for (1) the purpose of preventing or controlling disease, injury, or disability (e.g., reporting communicable diseases), (ii) the conduct of public health surveillance, investigations, or interventions, and (iii) the purpose of receiving reports of child abuse or neglect; and
 - b. to a person subject to Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") jurisdiction regarding FDA-regulated products and activities that are the responsibility of that person, for purposes related to the quality, safety or effectiveness of that product or activity, including but not limited to:
 - (i) collecting or reporting adverse events or product defects or problems such as drug use or labeling problems;
 - (ii) tracking FDA-regulated products;
 - (iii) enabling product recalls, repairs, replacement, or lookback (including locating and notifying individuals who received products that have been recalled or withdrawn, or that are the subject of lookback); or
 - (iv) conducting post-marketing surveillance.
3. Health oversight activities. CWRU may disclose PHI to a health oversight agency for oversight activities authorized by law, including audits, investigations, inspections, licensure, or disciplinary actions; civil, administrative, or criminal proceedings; or other activities necessary for the oversight of the health care system, government benefit programs, or civil rights laws.
4. Judicial and administrative proceedings. CWRU may disclose PHI in the course of judicial or administrative proceedings if the request for PHI is made pursuant to a court or administrative order or in response to a subpoena or discovery request (or other lawful process) from a party to the proceeding.
- a. If the request is made pursuant to a court or administrative order, CWRU may disclose the information requested without additional process. In such cases, CWRU may disclose only the information expressly authorized by the order.

- b. Without a court order or subpoena issued by a court, CWRU must take additional steps to ensure the confidentiality of the information before it is permitted to disclose the minimum PHI necessary to fulfill the request. It is important to differentiate between subpoenas issued by a court and subpoenas issued by an attorney or a notary public. CWRU's privacy officer will determine what steps are required, such as written assurances or a protective order.
 - c. CWRU may consult with its privacy officer and/or legal counsel to determine its obligation to disclose PHI with respect to judicial and administrative proceedings.
5. Law enforcement purposes. CWRU may disclose PHI for law enforcement purposes to a law enforcement official as required by law (and not otherwise addressed in CWRU's Policies and Procedures) and in compliance with a court ordered warrant, subpoena or summons, a grand jury subpoena, or, under certain circumstances, an administrative subpoena or summons. If CWRU receives an administrative subpoena or summons, CWRU may disclose PHI if the PHI is relevant and material to a legitimate law enforcement inquiry, the request is specific and limited in scope to the extent possible, and de-identified information could not reasonably be used instead. CWRU will make this assessment in consultation with its compliance and privacy officer and/or legal counsel.
- In addition, under certain circumstances, CWRU may disclose PHI to a law enforcement official;
- a. to identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;
 - b. in response to a request about an individual who is or may be a victim of a crime;
 - c. about an individual who has died as a result of criminal conduct;
 - d. where CWRU believes that the information constitutes evidence of criminal conduct that occurred on CWRU's premises; or
 - e. where CWRU believes the disclosure is necessary to alert law enforcement to the commission and nature of a crime; the location of such crime or the intended victims of such crime; and the identity, description, and location of the perpetrator of the crime.

Under most of these circumstances, either only a limited amount of PHI may be disclosed or there are certain conditions that must be satisfied before the disclosure can be made.

6. Decedents. CWRU may disclose PHI about a deceased person to a coroner or medical examiner as may be necessary to ascertain the cause of death or for similar purposes authorized by law.
7. Specialized government functions. Under limited circumstances, CWRU may disclose the PHI of armed forces personnel if necessary for a military mission. CWRU may also disclose PHI to federal officials for intelligence and national security activities, to federal officials for the provision of protective services to the President of the United States and/or certain other officials, or to a law enforcement or correctional institution official who has custody of the individual and needs the information to provide health care to the individual or to protect the health and safety of others.
8. Workers' compensation. CWRU may disclose PHI as necessary to comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or similar programs.
9. Serious threat to health or safety. CWRU may disclose PHI if it believes in good faith that the disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public and the disclosure is to a person reasonably able to prevent the threat, or is necessary for law enforcement authorities to identify or apprehend an individual who has committed a violent crime or escaped from a correctional institution.
10. Research. CWRU may use or disclose PHI for research purposes pursuant to a waiver of authorization approved by an Institutional Review Board in accordance with all requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules. Any proposed use or disclosure of PHI for research shall be referred to CWRU's compliance and privacy officer and/or Institutional Review Board. (See CWRU's Policies and Procedures, "Research," for more information.)

II. VERIFICATION OF IDENTITY AND AUTHORITY

- A. Identity and authority. With the exception of disclosures made pursuant to valid authorizations, prior to disclosing PHI, CWRU must verify the identity of a person requesting PHI and the authority of such person to access PHI, if the identity and/or authority is not known.

- B. Conditions on disclosures. CWRU must obtain any documentation, statements or representations, whether oral or written, from the person requesting the PHI that are a condition of disclosure under the Privacy and Security Rules or other law (e.g., when making certain priority disclosures).
- C. Identity of public officials. CWRU may rely, if such reliance is reasonable under the circumstances, on any of the following to verify identity when the disclosure of PHI is to a public official or a person acting on behalf of the public official:
1. if the request is made in person, presentation of an agency identification badge, other official credentials, or other proof of government status;
 2. if the request is in writing, the request is on the appropriate government letterhead;
 3. if the disclosure is to a person acting on behalf of a public official, a written statement on appropriate government letterhead that the person is acting under the government's authority or other evidence or documentation of agency, such as a contract for services, memorandum of understanding, or purchase order, that establishes that the person is acting on behalf of the public official.
- D. Authority of public officials. CWRU may rely, if such reliance is reasonable under the circumstances, on any of the following to verify authority when the disclosure of protected health information is to a public official or a person acting on behalf of the public official:
1. a written statement of the legal authority under which the information is requested, or, if a written statement would be impracticable, an oral statement of such legal authority; or
 2. if a request is made pursuant to legal process, a warrant, subpoena, order, or other legal process issued by a grand jury or a judicial or administrative tribunal.

III. DOCUMENTATION

- A. Log of Disclosures. CWRU will maintain a log of these disclosures for purposes of the accounting of disclosures requirement, except that CWRU need not maintain a log of disclosures for national security or intelligence purposes or to correctional institutions, as set forth in Section I above.

- B. Information. CWRU's log of these disclosures will include: (i) the name of the entity and/or person to whom the PHI was disclosed; (ii) the date of the disclosure; (iii) a description of the PHI disclosed; and (iv) the purpose of the disclosure.

POLICY #5: AUTHORIZATIONS FOR USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") will obtain a valid, signed authorization from an individual prior to using or disclosing the individual's PHI for purposes for which an authorization is required under the Privacy and Security Rules.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain: (1) when a written individual authorization is required; (2) the content of a valid authorization; and (3) the relevant procedures CWRU will follow when using or disclosing PHI pursuant to a valid authorization.

I. WHEN AN AUTHORIZATION IS REQUIRED

- A. An authorization is required before CWRU uses or discloses PHI for purposes that are not "permitted purposes".

- B. "Permitted purposes" are uses and disclosures of PHI for which an authorization is not required. These uses and disclosures include those made:
 - 1. for treatment, payment, and health care operations;
 - 2. for involvement in the individual's care and notification purposes (with an opportunity to agree or object, as required by the Privacy and Security Rules);
 - 3. as required by law;
 - 4. for public health activities;
 - 5. about victims of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence;
 - 6. for health oversight activities;
 - 7. for judicial and administrative proceedings;
 - 8. for law enforcement purposes;
 - 9. about decedents to coroners, medical examiners and funeral directors;
 - 10. for research purposes, where a waiver has been obtained;
 - 11. to avert a serious threat to health or safety;
 - 12. for specialized government functions;

13. for workers' compensation purposes;
14. to the individual;
15. to the Department of Health and Human Services for enforcement of the Privacy and Security Rules;
16. for marketing communications that are made face-to-face or that involve promotional products of nominal value;
17. to a business associate, if satisfactory assurances are obtained from the business associate;
18. in a limited data set;
19. incident to a permitted use or disclosure;
20. to permit an individual access to their own PHI; and
21. to provide an accounting to the individual of disclosures of their PHI.

II. CONTENT REQUIREMENTS OF AUTHORIZATION

- A. Plain language. All authorizations must be written in "plain language." This means that CWRU will make a reasonable effort to:
 1. organize material to serve the needs of the reader;
 2. write short sentences in the active voice, using "you" and other pronouns;
 3. use common, everyday words in sentences; and
 4. divide material into short sections.

- B. Core elements. Authorizations must contain all of the following core elements:
 1. a description of the information to be used or disclosed that identifies the information in a specific and meaningful fashion;
 2. the name or other specific identification of the person(s), or class of persons, authorized to make the requested use or disclosure;
 3. the name or other specific identification of the person(s), or class of persons, to whom CWRU will disclose the information;
 4. a description of each purpose of the requested use or disclosure; if the individual is initiating the authorization, the purpose may be described as "at the request of the individual;"
 5. an expiration date or an expiration event that relates to the individual or the purpose of the use or disclosure; the authorization may expire on a specific date, after a specific time period (e.g., 3 years from the date of the signature), or upon the occurrence of an event directly relevant to the individual or the purpose of the use or disclosure (e.g., for the duration of the individual's participation in a drug study); authorizations for research disclosures may state that they expire at the end of the research study or have no expiration;

6. signature of the individual and date; and
7. if the authorization is signed by a personal representative of the individual, a description of the representative's authority to act for the individual.

C. Required notifications. In addition to the core elements, authorizations must contain all of the following notifications:

1. a statement that the individual has the right to revoke the authorization in writing and either a discussion of the exceptions to the right to revoke together with a description of how the individual may revoke the authorization, or, to the extent that this information is included in CWRU's Notice of Privacy Practices, a reference to such notice;
2. for most authorizations, a statement that CWRU will not condition benefits on the individual's provision of an authorization for the requested uses or disclosures; however, the rendering of research related treatment may be conditioned on the individual providing an authorization for uses and disclosures in connection with such research; and
3. a statement that information used or disclosed pursuant to the authorization may be subject to redisclosure by the recipient and no longer be protected by the Privacy and Security Rules.

D. Authorizations for marketing. If the authorization is for a marketing purpose, and the marketing involves any direct or indirect remuneration to CWRU from a third party, the authorization must state this fact for more information on the requirements governing marketing, see CWRU's Marketing Policy.

E. Copy to the individual. If CWRU requested the authorization, CWRU must give the individual a copy of the signed authorization.

F. Non-required elements. Valid authorizations may also contain non-required elements, so long as those additional elements are not inconsistent with the required elements.

G. Defective authorizations. An authorization is not valid if it has any of the following defects:

1. the expiration date has passed or the expiration event is known by CWRU to have occurred;

2. the required elements of the authorization have not been filled out completely;
 3. the authorization is known by CWRU to have been revoked;
 4. the authorization lacks a required element
 5. the authorization is not for the use or disclosure of PHI for a research study and it violates the rule on compound authorizations (see Section II.H. below);
 6. any material information in the authorization is known by CWRU to be false; and
 7. the authorization is conditioned upon CWRU providing services to the individual, under circumstances where the Privacy and Security Rules do not permit the authorization to be so conditioned.
- H. Combining documents. Generally, an authorization for use or disclosure of PHI may not be combined with any other types of documents (e.g., the Notice of Privacy Practices) to create a compound authorization. However, if the authorization is for the use or disclosure of PHI for a research study, it may be combined with say other type of written permission for the same research study, including a consent to participate in such research. Multiple authorizations for the use or disclosure of PHI may be combined, so long as CWRU has not conditioned the provision of treatment or payment on obtaining the authorization.

III. REVOCAION OF AUTHORIZATIONS

- A. An individual may revoke an authorization at any time by means of a written revocation, except to the extent that CWRU has taken action in reliance upon the authorization.
- B. When an individual revokes an authorization, CWRU must stop making uses and disclosures pursuant to the authorization to the greatest extent practical, except as otherwise provided in these Policies and Procedures.
- C. Despite an individual's right to revoke an authorization, CWRU may continue using and disclosing PHI that was obtained prior to the time the individual revokes their authorization, as necessary to maintain the integrity of a research study. An individual may not revoke an authorization to the extent that CWRU has acted in reliance on the authorization. Accordingly, CWRU is permitted to continue to use and disclose PHI already obtained pursuant to a valid authorization to the extent necessary to preserve the integrity of a research study. For example, CWRU could continue to use and/or disclose PHI in such circumstances to account for a subject's withdrawal from a research study, as necessary to incorporate the information as part of a marketing application submitted to the FDA, to conduct investigations of scientific misconduct, or to report adverse events. However, CWRU would not be permitted to continue disclosing additional PHI or to use for its own research purposes PHI not already gathered at the time an individual withdraws their authorization.

IV. RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENT

CWRU will document and retain signed authorizations for six years after the date they were last in effect.

POLICY #6: RESEARCH AND PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") will use and disclose PHI for research purposes only as permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain: (1) how CWRU will use and disclose PHI for research purposes; (2) the relevant procedures CWRU will follow when using or disclosing PHI as a limited data set; (3) the rights of an individual with respect to access to PHI being used in clinical trials; and (4) how CWRU might account for disclosures of PHI for research purposes.

I. USE AND DISCLOSURE FOR RESEARCH PURPOSES

- A. Uses of PHI. PHI may be used in connection with research without an individual's authorization or a waiver of that authorization when used for purposes generally permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules. Accordingly, PHI can be used in the course of research for purposes of treatment, payment and/or healthcare operations without an individual's authorization or waiver of authorization. (See Policies and Procedures, Disclosures of Protected Health Information Without Authorization or Prior Agreement).

- B. Disclosures of PHI. To the extent that CWRU or any designated health care component of CWRU is acting as a covered entity, it may only disclose PHI for research purposes as permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules. Permitted disclosures may be made as follows:
 - 1. pursuant to a written authorization from the individual who is the subject of the PHI (see Authorization for Use and Disclosure of Protected Health Information);
 - 2. pursuant to a waiver or allegation of the authorization requirements approved by an Institutional Review Board ("IRB");
 - 3. for certain limited purposes preparatory to research; and
 - 4. for certain limited purposes in connection with research concerning decedents.

- C. Special Considerations. Research involving treatment of human subjects raises several issues concerning disclosures of PHI. Because CWRU does not act as a covered entity in most instances of research-related treatment, such disclosures of PHI will be made by an entity other than CWRU. In such cases, it is the policy of CWRU that the covered entity making the disclosure of PHI is responsible for compliance with all Privacy and Security Rules requirements related to that disclosure.
- D. Waiver of Authorization. The Privacy and Security Rules permit disclosure of PHI for research purposes without individual authorizations if an IRB or "privacy board" has waived the authorization requirement. CWRU will recognize the IRBs of CWRU, The Cleveland Clinic Foundation, MetroHealth System, The Louis Stokes Cleveland Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center and University Hospitals of Cleveland, and other similarly organized and administered IRBs or privacy boards as competent to grant a waiver for disclosure of PHI without authorization if done so in accordance with their approved policies and in compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules. A waiver approved by any such IRB will be deemed to comply with the Privacy and Security Rules if there is documentation of the following with respect to such authorization or waiver:
1. the identification of the IRB or privacy board which approved the waiver and the date on which that approval was granted
 2. that the IRB or privacy board determined that the alteration and waiver satisfied the following three (3) criteria:
 - a) that the use or disclosure of the PHI as proposed involved no more than a minimal risk of privacy to individuals, based on the presence of at least the finding that the research study included at least the following three (3) elements:
 - (1) an adequate plan to protect the identifiers from improper use and disclosure;
 - (2) an adequate plan to destroy the identifiers at the earliest opportunity consistent with the conduct of the research, unless there is a health or research justification for retaining the identifiers or such retention as otherwise required by law; and
 - (3) adequate written assurances that the PHI will not be re-used or disclosed to any other person or entity except as required by law, or authorized oversight of the research study or for other research for which the use or disclosure of the PHI would be permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules;
 - b) that research could not practicably be conducted without the waiver or alteration; and

- c) the research could not practicably be conducted without access to and use of the PHI.
3. a description of the PHI for which use or access has been determined to be necessary by the IRB or privacy board;
 4. a statement that alteration or waiver of authorization has been reviewed and approved under normal expedited review procedures; and
 5. a signature of the chair or other member, as designated by the chair of the IRB or privacy board approving the waiver or alteration.
- E. Disclosures Preparatory to Research. The Privacy and Security Rules recognize the importance of preparing research protocols as one of its first steps to effective research. For that reason, the Privacy and Security Rules permit a covered entity to disclose PHI to a researcher, without authorization or waiver, if the covered entity obtains from the researcher representations as follows:
1. use or disclosure is sought solely to review protected health information as necessary to prepare a research protocol or for similar purposes preparatory to research;
 2. no protected health information is to be removed from the covered entity by the researcher in the course of the review; and
 3. the protected health information for which use or access is sought is necessary for the research purposes.

If PHI is made available to a researcher under the above guidelines, no PHI may be removed from the premises where the PHI is reviewed and a researcher preparing the research protocol or reviewing potential research subjects may record only de-identified health information.

If a request for a disclosure of PHI preparatory to research is received by a designated health care component of CWRU, CWRU may comply with the disclosure request only if all requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules as to such request are satisfied.

- F. Research Involving Decedents. The Privacy and Security Rules permit use or disclose of PHI for research without authorization or waiver of authorization requirements in whole or in part in certain circumstances where research concerns decedents. In such CWRUs, the covered entity making disclosure must obtain from the researcher:
1. a representation that the use or disclosure sought is solely for research on the protected health information of decedents;
 2. documentation, at the request of the covered entity, of the death of such individuals; and

3. a representation that the protected health information for which use or disclosure is sought is necessary for the research purposes.

If a request for disclosure of PHI concerning decedents is received by a designated health care component of CWRU, CWRU may comply with the disclosure request only if all requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules as to such request are satisfied.

II. LIMITED DATA SETS

- A. Disclosure of a Limited Data Set. The Privacy and Security Rules also permit disclosure of PHI in the form of a limited data set without authorization or waiver of authorization. However, disclosure of a limited data set can only be made upon a receipt of a data use agreement by the party making disclosure.
- B. Contents of a Limited Data Set. A limited data set is PHI from which the following direct identifiers of the individual or individual's relatives, employers or household members have been removed:
 - names;
 - postal address information, other than town or city, state, and zip code;
 - telephone numbers;
 - fax numbers;
 - electronic mail addresses;
 - social security numbers;
 - medical record numbers;
 - health plan beneficiary numbers;
 - account numbers;
 - certificate/license numbers;
 - vehicle identifiers and serial numbers, including license plate numbers;
 - device identifiers and serial numbers;
 - web universal resource locators (URLs);
 - Internet protocol (IP) address numbers;
 - biometric identifiers, including finger and voice prints; and
 - full face photographic images and any comparable images.
- C. Data Use Agreement. If CWRU makes disclosure of a limited data set, CWRU will require the recipient to enter into a data use agreement with CWRU. The data use agreement will:
 1. establish the permitted uses and disclosures of the PHI by the limited data set recipient, which must be limited to uses and disclosures for research purposes; the data use agreement may not authorize the limited data set recipient to use or further disclose the information in a manner that would violate the requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules, if done by CWRU;

2. establish who is permitted to use or receive the limited data set; and
3. provide that the limited data set recipient will:
 - a) not use or further disclose the information other than as permitted by the data use agreement or as otherwise required by law;
 - b) use appropriate safeguards to prevent use or disclosure of the information other than as provided for by the data use agreement;
 - c) report to CWRU any use or disclosure of the information not provided for by its data use agreement of which it becomes aware;
 - d) ensure that any agents, including a subcontractor, to whom it provides the limited data set agrees to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the limited data set recipient with respect to such information; and
 - e) not identify the information or contact the individuals.

III. ACCESS TO PHI USED IN RESEARCH

A. Right to Access Records. It is CWRU's general policy to grant individuals access to their PHI as required under the Privacy and Security Rules. (See CWRU Policies and Procedures, "Right to Access Records".)

B. Restrictions on PHI Used for Research. An exception to the rights of an individual to have access and to receive copies of their PHI applies with respect to PHI used in or related to research. Where PHI was obtained in the course of clinical trials and the individual who is the subject of the PHI agreed to denial of access to that PHI when consenting to participate in the trial, access to that PHI may be denied for so long as the clinical trial is in process. When the clinical trial is completed, the individual will have the right to inspect and copy their PHI.

IV. ACCOUNTING FOR RESEARCH DISCLOSURES

A. General Policy. It is the general policy of CWRU to provide an accounting of disclosures of PHI upon requests by an individual (See CWRU policy "Accounting for Disclosures").

B. Research Disclosures. In cases where PHI has been disclosed, pursuant to a waiver of authorization, as described above, the Privacy and Security Rules permit CWRU to use an abbreviated method of accounting for such disclosures. CWRU may choose to follow this method of accounting for disclosures of PHI for research purposes. These procedures apply where disclosures have been made involving fifty (50) or more individuals and the PHI of the individual requesting disclosure may have been included in such a disclosure. The abbreviated accounting for disclosure must include:

1. the name of the protocol or other research activity in connection with which the disclosure was made;
2. a description, in plain language, of the research protocol or other research activity in connection with which the disclosure was made, including the purpose of the research and the criteria for selecting particular records;
3. a brief description of the type of PHI that was disclosed;
4. the date or period of time during which disclosures occurred, or may have occurred, including the date of the last such disclosure during the accounting period;
5. the name, address, and telephone number of the entity that sponsored the research and of the researcher to whom the information was disclosed; and
6. a statement that the PHI of the individual may or may not have been disclosed for a particular protocol or other research activity.

If CWRU provides PHI accounting for research disclosures in accordance with the above procedures, and if it is reasonably likely that the PHI of the individual requesting an accounting was disclosed for the described research protocol or activity, CWRU will, at the request of the individual, assist the individual in contacting the entity that sponsored the research and/or the researcher.

V. COMPLIANCE WITH OTHER PRIVACY AND SECURITY RULE REQUIREMENTS.

A. It is the policy of CWRU that all disclosures by a covered component for research purposes shall be conducted in full compliance with all requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules. In CWRUs of research involving treatment, it is the policy of CWRU and its IRB that the research protocol shall include satisfactory assurances that with respect to any treatment rendered as part of the research, the provider of such treatment has complied with all applicable requirements to the Privacy and Security Rules.

Responsible Official: University Chief Compliance and Privacy Officer

Related legislation and University policies: HIPAA
Review Period: 5 Years
Date of Last Review: August 1, 2021

POLICY #7: NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to provide individuals with a Notice of Privacy Practices as specified in the Privacy Rules ("Notice") upon their first receipt of health care items or services through CWRU. In addition, in those circumstances where required to do so, CWRU will post the Notice in a conspicuous location and will make the Notice available to all individuals upon request.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain: (1) an individual's right to a Notice; (2) the relevant procedures CWRU must follow when providing its Notice to individuals; and (3) the requirements for documentation of and revisions to the Notice. Acknowledgment of receipt of the Notice is addressed in the following policy, entitled "Acknowledgment of Receipt of Notice of Privacy Practices."

I. CONTENT OF A NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

The Notice shall provide adequate notice of:

1. the uses and disclosures of PHI that CWRU may make;
2. the individual's rights with respect to PHI;
3. CWRU's legal obligations regarding PHI; and
4. how and to whom to submit complaints or request further information about CWRU's privacy policies.

II. PROVIDING THE NOTICE

- A. General rules. CWRU will follow these rules for providing a paper copy of the Notice to individuals and the public in general.

1. CWRU will make the Notice available upon request to any person, even if such person is not receiving services from CWRU.
2. CWRU will provide the Notice to the individual no later than the date that CWRU first provides health care services or items to the individual in a transaction that involves PHI. In emergency treatment situations, the Notice will be provided as soon after the emergency as is reasonably practicable. CWRU may send the Notice at one time to all persons to whom it provides services, give the Notice to each individual as he or she receives services or items from CWRU, give the Notice to an individual when the individual contacts CWRU electronically, or by any combination of these approaches.
3. CWRU will have the Notice available for delivery to individuals upon request.
4. When required to do so by the Privacy Rules, CWRU will post the Notice in a clear and prominent location in the Dental Clinic where individuals will be able to read it.
5. Any CWRU group health plan obligated to do so under the Privacy Rules will provide a Notice to individuals covered by the plan as of April 14, 2003 and, thereafter, at the time of enrollment, to individuals who are new enrollees in the plan. Any such plan will also provide a revised Notice to all participants in such plan within (sixty) 60 days of a material revision to the Notice. In addition, no less frequently than once every three years, the plan will notify individuals then covered by the plan of the availability of the Notice and how to obtain the Notice. A plan may satisfy its obligation to deliver a Notice either by itself providing the Notice, or, when permitted under the Privacy Rules to do so, by having the Notice provided by an insurer that issues a contract of insurance which funds plan benefits.

B. Electronic notice. CWRU may be required to provide its Notice electronically under certain circumstances.

1. If CWRU maintains a web site that provides information about CWRU's services or benefits, it must prominently post its Notice on the web site and make the Notice available electronically through the web site.
2. CWRU may provide the Notice to an individual by e-mail, if the individual agrees to receive materials from CWRU electronically and the individual has not withdrawn their agreement. If CWRU knows that the e-mail transmission failed, CWRU must provide a paper copy of the Notice to the individual.
3. If service is first delivered to an individual electronically, CWRU must provide electronic notice automatically and contemporaneously with the individual's first request for service.

4. If an individual receives an electronic Notice from CWRU, he or she still has the right to obtain a paper copy of the Notice from CWRU upon request.

III. REVISIONS TO THE NOTICE

- A. The right to change the Notice. In its Notice, CWRU has reserved the right to change its privacy practices. If CWRU will apply any such changes to PHI previously created or retained, it must make a statement to that effect in the Notice.
- B. Making material changes to the Notice. CWRU will revise its Notice whenever there is a material change to the uses or disclosures of PHI, the individuals' rights, CWRU's legal obligations, or other privacy practices stated in the Notice.
 1. Whenever the Notice is revised, CWRU will make the Notice available upon request on or after the effective, date of the revision, make the Notice available to patients of the Dental Clinic, and post the revised Notice in a clear and prominent location.
 2. After giving an individual a copy of the Notice upon their first visit or delivery of a service or item, CWRU is not required to further distribute the Notice to the individual. Except as described above with respect to health plans, even if CWRU revises the Notice, it is not required to distribute the Notice to persons who have already received the Notice. Under such circumstances, CWRU only has to make the Notice available upon request and post the information in a prominent location.
- C. Implementation of revised privacy practices. In general, CWRU may not implement a material change to any term of the Notice before the effective date of the Notice that reflects the material change. This means that CWRU must revise its Notice accordingly and make it available to individuals before it may implement any new or different privacy practices.

IV. DOCUMENT RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

CWRU must retain a copy of each Notice it issues for a period of six years from the date that the Notice was last in effect.

POLICY #8: ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to make a good faith effort to obtain each individual's written acknowledgment that the individual has received CWRU's Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") upon the individual's first receipt of health care items or services through CWRU.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain: (1) when CWRU is required to obtain an acknowledgment; (2) the relevant procedures CWRU must follow when obtaining the acknowledgment from individuals; and (3) the requirements for documentation of the acknowledgment process.

I. OBTAINING AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT

- A. Acknowledgment requirement. Except in an emergency, CWRU must make a good faith effort to obtain an individual's written acknowledgment of receipt of the Notice no later than the date of the first delivery of health care services to the individual, including services delivered electronically. If the Notice that is delivered electronically as part of first service or item delivery, CWRU must be capable of capturing the individual's acknowledgment of receipt electronically. It is anticipated that CWRU will be obligated to deliver Notices and obtain acknowledgements of such deliveries only in connection with services rendered by the Dental Clinic and "faculty practice plan" of the CWRU Dental School.
- B. Patient's failure to provide acknowledgement. If an individual refuses or otherwise fails to provide an acknowledgment, CWRU must document its good faith efforts to obtain the acknowledgment and the reason why the acknowledgment was not obtained (e.g., the individual refused to sign the acknowledgment after being requested to do so). CWRU is not prohibited from providing treatment or otherwise using or disclosing PHI as permitted by law if the individual does not sign an acknowledgment after having been asked to do so.
- C. Single acknowledgment. Only one signed acknowledgment is required per individual. CWRU is not required to collect a signed acknowledgment every time an individual receives services. Even if CWRU's Notice is revised, CWRU is not required to ask individuals to sign a new acknowledgment.

- D. Logbook. CWRU may utilize any practical means of recording the receipt of acknowledgements.

II. RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

CWRU will retain copies of any written acknowledgments of receipt of the Notice, or, if not obtained, documentation of its good faith efforts to obtain such written acknowledgement. CWRU will retain this documentation from the date of its creation until six years after the date when it was last in effect.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to assist CWRU in complying with requirements of the Privacy Rules governing marketing practices that involve PHI.

I. DEFINITION OF MARKETING

- A. Marketing defined. Marketing is a communication about a product or service that encourages recipients of the communication to buy or use the product or service. Marketing specifically includes an arrangement between CWRU and a third party whereby CWRU discloses PHI, in exchange for direct or indirect remuneration, to assist the third party or its affiliate to make a communication about its own product(s) or service(s) that encourages recipients of the communication to purchase or use such product(s) or service(s).
- B. Exceptions to the definition of marketing. Marketing does not include communications made by CWRU:
1. for the individual's treatment;
 2. for case management or care coordination for the individual, or to recommend alternative treatments, therapies, health care providers, or settings of care; or
 3. to describe a health-related product or service (or payment for such product or service) that is provided by CWRU, or included in a plan of benefits of CWRU, including communications about the entities participating in a health care provider or health plan network, replacement of or enhancements to, a health plan, and health-related products or services available only to a health plan enrollee that add value to, but are not part of, a plan of benefits.

1. certain therapeutic substitution recommendations;
 2. information regarding insurance coverage and formularies;
 3. counseling and drug utilization review (DUR);
 4. certain disease management activities; and
 5. general health information, such as communications that explain how to lower cholesterol or enroll in wellness programs.

II USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PHI FOR MARKETING PURPOSES

- A. General rule. CWRU may use or disclose an individual's PHI for marketing purposes only if CWRU has obtained a valid, written authorization from the individuals.
- B. Exceptions to the general rule. CWRU may use and disclose PHI without an authorization to make a marketing communication to an individual if the communication:
1. occurs in a face-to-face encounter with the individual (not telephone consultations); or
 2. concerns promotional gifts of nominal value provided by CWRU (e.g., calendars, pens, and other general, inexpensive promotional merchandise).

CWRU personnel shall not use or disclose PHI for marketing purposes, except as set forth above in this Section II.B, without the written approval of CWRU's compliance and privacy officer, who will be responsible for confirming that an appropriate individual authorization has been obtained.

- C. Format requirements. A marketing authorization must conform in all respects with the requirements set forth in CWRU's Authorization Policy. In addition, if the marketing involves direct or indirect remuneration to CWRU from a third party, the authorization must state that such remuneration is involved.

POLICY #11: REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL PRIVACY
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to evaluate all individual requests for additional restrictions on the use and disclosure of PHI on a case-by-case basis in compliance with the procedures set forth below. At its option, CWRU will accommodate an individual's reasonable request to receive communications from CWRU by alternative means or at alternative locations, if the individual specifies the alternative means or location.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to explain; (1) when an individual has a right to request that CWRU restrict the use or disclosure of their PHI; (2) when an individual has a right to request that CWRU send communications of PHI by alternative means or to alternative locations; and (3) the procedures that CWRU must follow to handle these requests.

I. RIGHT TO REQUEST RESTRICTION OF USES AND DISCLOSURES

A. Individual's right to request restrictions. An individual may request additional restrictions on CWRU's use and disclosure of their PHI when the PHI is used or disclosed for the following purposes:

1. to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations;
2. to persons assisting in the individual's care; or
3. to friends, caregivers, or family members for notification purposes.

An individual does not have a right to request restrictions on other uses or disclosures of PHI.

B. Agreeing to a restriction. CWRU is not required to agree to a request for a restriction.

1. If CWRU agrees to a restriction it must document the agreement, and may not use or disclose PHI in violation of the restriction except in the following circumstances:
 - a. emergency treatment situations;
 - b. disclosures that CWRU is permitted to make without an individual's permission, such as those required by law; and

- c. disclosures made to the federal government during an investigation of CWRU's compliance with the HIPAA Privacy and Security Rules.
 2. If the restricted PHI is disclosed in an emergency treatment situation, CWRU must ask the health care provider to whom it is disclosed not to use or disclose the PHI for other purposes.
 3. All requests for additional restrictions must be referred to CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer and/or Security Officer, who will determine whether the requests will be granted. The Compliance and Privacy Officer will maintain documentation of all requests, decisions regarding such requests, and termination of restrictions. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer and/or Security Officer will determine how the restriction will be disseminated to CWRU's locations and other personnel, based upon the type of restriction.
- C. Terminating a restriction. CWRU may terminate its agreement to a restriction if:
1. the individual agrees to or requests the termination in writing;
 2. the individual orally agrees to the termination and CWRU documents the oral agreement by a notation in the individual's record or similar documentation; or
 3. CWRU informs the individual that it is terminating its agreement to the restriction. In this situation, the termination is effective only for the PHI created or received after CWRU has informed the individual of the termination.

II. RIGHT TO REQUEST ALTERNATIVE COMMUNICATIONS

- A. Individual's right to request alternative communications. Unlike requests for additional restrictions on uses and disclosures, which CWRU is free to grant or deny, CWRU must accommodate reasonable requests by individuals to receive communications of PHI from CWRU by alternative means or at alternative locations. For example, an individual may request that CWRU communicate with him or her at the individual's place of employment, by mail to a designated address, or by telephone to a certain phone number.
- B. Writing requirement. CWRU requires the individual to make a request for alternative communication in writing. All requests must be directed to CWRU's Compliance Office. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will maintain documentation of the request and handle the dissemination of the request to CWRU personnel who need to be aware of the request. The Compliance and Privacy Officer will notify Security Officer of requests as necessary.

- C. Refusing requests. CWRU may refuse to accommodate a request if the individual has not provided information as to how payment, if applicable, will be handled, or has not specified an alternative address or other method of contact. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will make all determinations as to whether to accommodate a request

- D. Reasons for requests. CWRU may not require the individual to give a reason for the request as a condition of accommodating the request.

III. DOCUMENTATION AND RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will document any restriction that CWRU accepts and will retain the documentation until six years after the date the restriction was last in effect.

POLICY #12: RIGHT TO ACCESS RECORDS
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") will process, in accordance with the procedures outlined below, a request to access, inspect, and/or obtain a copy of certain PHI maintained by CWRU, if the request is made by an individual or their authorized representative.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is (1) to establish a process for individuals to access, inspect and obtain a copy of certain PHI maintained by CWRU; and (2) provide guidance to CWRU employees in complying with such requests.

I. RIGHT OF ACCESS TO PHI

- A. Basic right to access. In general, an individual has a right to inspect and obtain a copy of their PHI held by CWRU, for as long as the PHI is maintained by CWRU. Exceptions to the right of access are set forth below.
- B. Written Requests. CWRU may require the individual to make requests for access in writing provided that it informs individuals of this requirement in advance and applies the policy uniformly. CWRU will inform individuals of this requirement in CWRU's Notice of Privacy Practices.
- C. Denials without an opportunity for review. CWRU may deny the individual's request for access to PHI without providing the individual an opportunity for review of the decision in any of the following circumstances:
 - 1. the PHI was compiled by CWRU in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding;
 - 2. the PHI was obtained by CWRU in the course of research that includes treatment of the research participants, while such research is in progress, and the individual previously agreed to this temporary suspension of access;or

3. the PHI was obtained from someone other than a health care provider under a promise of confidentiality and the access requested would be reasonably likely to reveal the source of the information.
- D. Denials with an opportunity for review. In the following circumstances, CWRU may deny an individual access to their PHI, so long as the individual is given a right to have the denial reviewed: (1) a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the individual or another person, (2) the PHI makes reference to another person (other than a health care provider) and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm of such other person; or (3) the request for access is made by the individual's personal representative and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the provision of access to the personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the individual or another person.
- E. Right to review of denial. If CWRU denies the individual access to their PHI for a reason described in Section I.D. above, the individual has the right to have the denial reviewed by a licensed health care professional who is designated by CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer to act as a reviewing official and who did not participate in the original decision to deny access. CWRU must provide or deny access in accordance with the determination of that health care professional.
- F. Verification. Prior to disclosing PHI to a person unknown to CWRU, CWRU must verify the identity of the person requesting the PHI and the authority of the person to have access to the PHI requested. In addition, CWRU must obtain any documentation, statements, or representations, whether oral or written, from the requester when such information is a condition of the disclosure.

II RESPONDING TO A REQUEST FOR ACCESS

- A. Acting on the request. If the PHI to which an individual requests access is maintained or is accessible on-site, CWRU must act on a request for access within 30 days of the date CWRU received the request. If the PHI is not maintained or accessible on-site, CWRU must act on a request for access within 60 days of receiving the request. All requests for access to PHI shall be directed to CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer, who will coordinate the handling of the request.
1. If CWRU grants an individual's request for access, it must inform the individual that the request has been granted and provide access to the PHI.
 2. If CWRU denies the individual's request for access, it must provide the individual with a written denial. (See Section II.C below.)

3. If CWRU cannot act on a request within the applicable deadline, it may extend the deadline by no more than 30 days by providing the individual with a written statement of the reasons for the delay and the date by which CWRU will complete its action on the request, CWRU must provide the written statement within the original time period and may only extend the time period once.

B. Provision of access. If CWRU grants a request for access, it must comply with the following requirements.

1. CWRU must notify the individual and provide the access as requested, including allowing the individual to inspect or obtain a copy, or both, of the PHI.
2. CWRU must provide the individual with access to the PHI in the form or format requested by the individual, if it is readily producible in such form or format; or if not, in a readable hard copy form or other form that is agreed upon by CWRU and the individual. For example, if CWRU maintains PHI electronically and the individual requests an electronic copy, CWRU must accommodate this request if the PHI is readily producible in this format.
3. If acceptable to the individual and CWRU, CWRU may provide the individual with a summary or explanation of the PHI instead of providing access to the actual PHI.
4. CWRU will provide access in a timely manner, including arranging with the individual for a convenient time and place to inspect or obtain a copy of the PHI, or mailing the copy of the PHI at the individual's request. CWRU may discuss the scope, format, and other aspects of the request for access with the individual as necessary to provide timely access.
5. If the individual requests a copy of the PHI or agrees to a summary or explanation, CWRU may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee, provided that the fee includes only the cost of copying, postage, and preparing an explanation or summary of the PHI (if a summary is requested by the individual).

C. Denial of access. If CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer determines to deny access to PHI, CWRU will take the following actions, and maintain complete documentation of such actions:

1. Give the individual access to any other PHI requested, to the extent possible, after excluding PHI for which CWRU has grounds to deny access.
2. Provide a timely, written denial to the individual. The denial must be in plain language and must include (i) the basis for the denial; (ii) if applicable, a statement of the individual's right to review of the decision, including a description of how the individual can exercise these review rights; and (iii) a description of how the individual may complain to CWRU or the Secretary of Health and Human Services, including the name or title and telephone number of the CWRU contact person or designated office.

3. Inform the individual where to direct the request for access, if CWRU does not maintain the PHI that is the subject of the individual's request for access, and CWRU knows where the requested information is maintained.
4. If the individual has requested a review of a denial, CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will designate a licensed health care professional who was not directly involved in the denial to review the decision to deny access. The Compliance and Privacy Officer will refer the request for review to the reviewing official. The reviewing official must determine, within a reasonable period of time, whether or not to deny access. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will provide written notice to the individual of the reviewing official's decision and carry out the decision.

III DOCUMENTATION AND RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

It is CWRU's policy to document the records that are subject to access by individuals and the titles of the persons or offices responsible for receiving and processing requests for access. CWRU will retain this documentation from the date of its creation until six years after the date when it was last in effect.

POLICY #13: REQUESTING AMENDMENTS
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to respond to an individual's request for an amendment to their PHI held by CWRU (and/or CWRU's business associates) in a manner which complies with the Privacy and Security Rules.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to establish a process for responding to individual requests to and PHI maintained by CWRU.

I. RIGHT TO AMENDMENT OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

- A. Right to request an amendment. An individual has the right to request that CWRU amend PHI about the individual that is contained in CWRU's records for as long as the PHI is maintained by CWRU. All such requests shall be forwarded immediately to CWRU'S Compliance and Privacy Officer.

- B. Accepting an individual's request for amendment. If CWRU has no grounds to deny the individual's request for amendment (as determined by CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer. see Section I.C. below), CWRU will do all of the following:
 - 1. Make the appropriate amendment to the individual's PHI or record. CWRU should, at a minimum, identify the records that are affected by the amendment and append or otherwise provide a link to the location of the amendment.
 - 2. Inform the individual on a timely basis that the amendment is accepted and obtain the individual's identification of and agreement to have CWRU notify the relevant persons with whom the amendment needs to be shared.
 - 3. Make reasonable efforts to inform and provide the amendment within reasonable time to:
 - a. persons identified by the individual as having received PHI and needing the amendment; and

- b. persons, including business associates, that CWRU knows have the unamended information and may have relied, or might rely in the future, on the information to the detriment of the individual.
- C. Denying an individual's request for amendment. Under certain circumstances, CWRU may deny the individual's request for amendment to their PHI held by CWRU.
 - 1. Permissible reasons for denial. CWRU may deny a request for an amendment only for any of the following reasons:
 - a. the PHI was not created by CWRU, unless the individual provides a reasonable basis to believe that the originator of the PHI is no longer available to act on the requested amendment.
 - b. the PHI is not part of the individual's designated record set.
 - c. the PHI would not be available for inspection under CWRU's policy regarding the individual's right to access to PHI.
 - d. the PHI is accurate and complete.
 - 2. Denial procedures. If CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer determines that CWRU should deny the requested amendment, in whole or in part, CWRU will take the following steps.
 - a. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will provide the individual with a valid, written denial that explains:
 - (i) the basis for the denial;
 - (ii) how the individual may file a written statement disagreeing with the denial;
 - (iii) the individual's options with respect to future disclosures of the disputed information; and
 - (iv) how the individual may make a complaint to CWRU or to the Department of Health and Human Services about the denial.

- b. CWRU will permit the individual to submit to CWRU a written statement disagreeing with the denial and the basis for the disagreement.
 - (i) CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer may prepare a written rebuttal to the individual's statement of disagreement.
 - (ii) If CWRU prepares a rebuttal, CWRU must provide a copy to the individual.
 - c. CWRU must identify, as appropriate, the information in the individual's record that is the subject of the disputed amendment and append or otherwise link to this information the individual's request for an amendment, CWRU's denial of the request, the individual's statement of disagreement, and CWRU's rebuttal to the individual's statement, if any.
 - d. CWRU will adhere to the following guidelines if it makes future disclosures of the individual's disputed PHI:
 - (i) If the individual has submitted a statement of disagreement, CWRU will include either the statement, as an appendix to the PHI, or an accurate summary of such statement, with any subsequent disclosure of the PHI to which the disagreement relates.
 - (ii) If the individual has not submitted a written statement of disagreement, CWRU will include the appended information with any subsequent disclosure only if the individual has requested that CWRU do so.
- D. Receiving a notice of amendment from other health care providers or health plans. Health care providers or health plans may contact CWRU to advise CWRU that they have made amendments to an individual's PHI. When CWRU is informed by a health care provider or health plan of an amendment to an individual's PHI, CWRU must make necessary amendments to the PHI in its records.
- E. Time period for acting on requests. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer should act on an individual's request for an amendment within 60 days of receipt of the request. If CWRU is unable to act on the amendment request within 60 days, CWRU may extend the time period once for 30 days, if within the original 60 day time limit CWRU provides the individual with a written statement of the reasons for the delay and the date by which CWRU will complete its action on the request. The Privacy Rule permits CWRU only one 30 day extension.

II. DOCUMENTATION AND RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will be responsible for receiving and processing requests for amendments by individuals. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer will also document requests for amendments and the resolution of those requests. POLICY #14: ACCOUNTING OF DISCLOSURES
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to provide individuals, upon request, a timely accounting of certain disclosures of their PHI as required by law.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to establish a process by which CWRU will respond to individuals' requests for an accounting of disclosures of their PHI.

I. RIGHT TO AN ACCOUNTING OF DISCLOSURES

- A. Basic right to an accounting. An individual has a right to receive an accounting of several types of disclosures of their PHI made by CWRU and its business associates for the six-year period prior to the date of the request. However, as listed below, several types of disclosures of PHI are exempt from this accounting requirement. All requests for an accounting of disclosures shall be forwarded to CWRU'S Compliance and Privacy Officer or their designated representative.
- B. Exceptions to the accounting requirement. CWRU is not required to provide an accounting of disclosures that were made by CWRU:
1. prior to April 14, 2003, the compliance date of the Privacy Rules;
 2. for purposes of treatment of the individual, such as disclosures made to a health care provider involved in the individual's treatment;
 3. for payment activities, including billing, claims management, eligibility determinations, coordination of benefits, determination of cost-sharing amounts, and adjudication of health benefit claims;
 4. for health care operations, including management and administrative activities, quality assessment and improvement, training programs, auditing, compliance business planning and development, and certain due diligence activities conducted in connection with the sale or transfer of assets;
 5. to the individual requesting the accounting;

6. to individuals involved in the individual's care where the individual verbally agreed to the disclosure;
7. to authorized federal officials for the conduct of lawful intelligence, counter-intelligence, and certain other national security activities;
8. to a correctional institution or law enforcement official, upon a request by, and during such time as, the correctional institution or law enforcement official had lawful custody of the individual;
9. incidental to a use or disclosure that is otherwise permitted by the Privacy Rules;
10. pursuant to a valid individual authorization; or
11. as part of a limited data set that was disclosed pursuant to a data use agreement for purposes of research, public health or health care operations.

C. Suspension of accounting. A health oversight agency or law enforcement official may request that CWRU temporarily suspend an individual's right to receive an accounting of disclosures made to the health oversight agency or law enforcement official. Upon appropriate request, CWRU must temporarily suspend an individual's right to receive an accounting of these disclosures for the time specified by such agency or official, if such agency or official provides CWRU with a written statement that (i) an accounting to the individual would be reasonably likely to impede the agency's activities; and (ii) specifies the time period for which a suspension is required. But if that agency or official statement is made orally to CWRU, CWRU must:

1. document the statement, including the identity of the agency or official making the statement;
2. temporarily suspend the individual's right to an accounting of disclosures subject to the statement; and
3. limit the temporary suspension to no longer than 30 days from the date of the oral statement, unless a written statement from the agency or official is submitted during that time.

CWRU personnel shall refer instructions for any such suspension to CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer.

D. Time period for action. All requests for an accounting of disclosures of PHI shall be referred to CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer. CWRU will act on an individual's request for an accounting no later than 60 days after receipt of such a request, in one of the following ways:

1. CWRU will provide the individual with the accounting requested; or

2. if CWRU is unable to provide the accounting within 60 days of receipt of the request, CWRU may extend the time to provide the accounting once, by no more than 30 days, if CWRU, within 60 days of receipt of the request, provides the individual with a written statement of the reasons for the delay and the date by which CWRU will provide the accounting.
- E. Fees for providing an accounting. CWRU must provide the first accounting to an individual in any 12-month period without charge. CWRU may impose a reasonable, cost-based fee for each subsequent request for an accounting by the same individual within the same 12-month period. If a fee will be charged, CWRU will inform the individual in advance of the fee and provide the individual an opportunity to withdraw or modify the request for an accounting to avoid or reduce the fee.

II. REQUIRED CONTENTS OF AN ACCOUNTING OF DISCLOSURES

A. Core elements. An accounting of disclosures must be in writing and must contain the following elements for each disclosure:

1. the date of the disclosure;
2. the name of the entity or person who received the PHI;
3. the address of the entity or person who received the PHI, if known;
4. a brief description of the PHI disclosed; and
5. either (a) a brief statement of the purpose of the disclosure that reasonably informs the individual of the basis for the disclosure, or (b) a copy of a written request for a disclosure made pursuant to CWRU's policy for disclosures to government entities.

B. Multiple disclosures. For certain disclosures that occur on a regular basis, other than disclosures listed in Section I.B. above, CWRU may provide a summary accounting addressing the series of disclosures rather than a detailed accounting of each disclosure.

1. When a summary accounting is permissible. A summary accounting for multiple disclosures is permissible if during the period covered by the accounting, CWRU has made multiple disclosures of PHI:
 - a. for a single purpose to HHS so it may investigate or determine CWRU's compliance with the rules; or
 - b. to the same person or entity for a single national priority purpose (as set forth in CWRU's policy regarding priority disclosures).

2. Required information for a summary accounting. Rather than include all of the core elements listed in section II.A. above for every disclosure in a series of disclosures, CWRU may limit the accounting to the following information:
 - a. the core elements (set forth in Section II.A. above) for the first disclosure during the accounting period;
 - b. the frequency or number of the disclosures made during the accounting period; and
 - c. the date of the most recent disclosure in the series during the accounting period.

3. Research disclosures. In cases where PHI has been disclosed, pursuant to a waiver of authorization, the Privacy Rules permit CWRU to use an abbreviated method of accounting for such disclosures. CWRU may choose to follow this method of accounting for disclosures of PHI for research purposes. These procedures apply where disclosures have been made involving fifty (50) or more individuals and the PHI of the individual requesting disclosure may have been included in such a disclosure. The abbreviated accounting for disclosure must include:
 - a. the name of the protocol or other research activity in connection with which the disclosure was made;
 - b. a description, in plain language, of the research protocol or other research activity in connection with which the disclosure was made, including the purpose of the research and the criteria for selecting particular records;
 - c. a brief description of the type of PHI that was disclosed;
 - d. the date or period of time during which disclosures occurred, or may have occurred, including the date of the last such disclosure during the accounting period;
 - e. the name, address, and telephone number of the entity that sponsored the research and of the researcher to whom the information was disclosed; and
 - f. a statement that the PHI of the individual may or may not have been disclosed for a particular protocol or other research activity.

If CWRU provides an accounting for research disclosures in accordance with the above procedures, and if it is reasonably likely that the PHI of the individual requesting an accounting was disclosed for the described research protocol or activity, CWRU will, at the request of the individual, assist the individual in contacting the entity that sponsored the research and/or the researcher.

III. RECORD RETENTION REQUIREMENTS

- A. Required documentation. CWRU's Compliance and Privacy Officer must create and maintain the following documentation, which can be kept in an electronic format:
1. the core elements of each disclosure as set forth in Section II.A. above;
 2. the written accounting that is provided to the individual; and
 3. the titles of the persons or offices within CWRU responsible for receiving and processing an individual's request for an accounting.
- B. Retention period. CWRU must retain the required documentation for a period of six years from the date of its creation or the date when it was last in effect, whichever is later.

- B. Each CWRU designated health care component will take reasonable precautions to protect paper records that contain PHI from inadvertent disclosure. The following are examples of steps that designated health care components could implement as appropriate to the specific circumstances of the designated health care component:
 - 1. files and documents should be stored in secure areas or in reasonably protective containers such as locked cabinets, locked drawers or locked files;

2. files and documents that are to be discarded should be placed in designated containers for shredding or shredded;
 3. files and documents should be promptly removed from printers and fax machines and should not be left on countertops and desktops in an insecure area;

Related legislation and University policies: HIPAA
Review Period: 5 Years

POLICY #19: INTERNAL ENFORCEMENT — SANCTION POLICY
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: This policy addresses violations of federal and state privacy laws and/or the HIPAA Policies and Procedures of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") ("Privacy and/or Security Violations") by workforce members of designated covered components at CWRU. It is the policy of CWRU to apply appropriate sanctions against faculty members, staff, other members of the CWRU workforce, or students of designated covered components at CWRU who fail to comply with CWRU's Policies and Procedures.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to establish written guidelines for undertaking disciplinary action against workforce members of designated covered components at CWRU or students who commit Privacy and/or Security Violations.

I. GENERAL RULES

- A. Workforce members or students of designated covered components at CWRU are encouraged to report possible Privacy and/or Security Violations to the CWRU's Privacy and/or Security Officers.
- B. Whenever possible Privacy and/or Security Violations arise, CWRU's Privacy Officer, the School's HIPAA Representative, the Vice President of Human Resources, the Provost, or appropriate Vice President or Dean will conduct an investigation and determine whether a Privacy Violation has occurred.
- C. If the Privacy and/or Security officer(s), the School's HIPAA Representative, the Provost, the Vice President for Human Resources, or appropriate Vice President or Dean (referred to as the "Appropriate Administrative Officer") determines that a workforce member of a designated covered component at CWRU has committed a Privacy and/or Security Violation, such member shall be subject to appropriate sanctions as determined by the Appropriate Administrative Officer, and/or Legal Counsel for CWRU. Even if no actual Privacy and/or Security Violation has occurred, disciplinary measures may be imposed if otherwise warranted by the circumstances.

- D. Appropriate sanctions may be based on factors such as the severity, frequency, degree of deviation from expectations, and length of time involved in any Privacy and/or Security Violations. Privacy and/or Security Violations may result in disciplinary action consistent with the terms and conditions of CWRU's Human Resources Policies and Procedures, Faculty Handbook, Student Services Guide, or any other CWRU policy and procedure manual. Where otherwise permitted, CWRU reserves the right to terminate employment at any time, for any reason, with or without undertaking any other disciplinary actions outlined in this policy. In light of the variety of possible situations that may arise, CWRU may need to make decisions related to employment in a manner other than as provided in this policy.
- E. The sanctions that may be imposed because of a Privacy and/or Security Violation may include, but are not limited to, informal counseling, verbal warning, written warning, suspension or termination. An employee may also be placed on probation or demoted. Restitution will be required if appropriate in the circumstances. In all CWRUs, whether to impose sanctions, and the appropriate sanctions to impose, are within the discretion of CWRU. In most CWRUs the sanction will depend on the seriousness of the offense, among other factors. See Section II, below.
- F. A manager or supervisor, even if he or she did not actually commit a Privacy and/or Security Violation, may also be sanctioned in connection with a Privacy and/or Security Violation to the extent that inadequate supervision or a lack of due diligence contributed to the violation, or if the manager or supervisor's conduct was culpable or sanctionable in other ways. Managers and supervisors may be sanctioned for failing to detect noncompliance with applicable policies (including CWRU's Policies and Procedures) and legal requirements, where reasonable diligence would have led to the discovery of any problems or violations.
- G. A record of any Privacy and/or Security Violation and any discipline imposed in connection with such Privacy and/or Security Violation shall be maintained in the employee's personnel file with a copy to be filed in a master file maintained by the CWRU Privacy and/or Security officer(s) or the Appropriate Administrative Officer in accordance with applicable policies of CWRU.

II. ENFORCEMENT OF SANCTIONS

The following section discusses the imposition of sanctions in the event of a Privacy and/or Security Violation. The type of sanction(s) imposed will generally reflect the seriousness of the Privacy and/or Security Violation. Factors which may be considered in determining an appropriate sanction may include the severity, frequency, degree of deviation from expectations, and length of time involved in a Privacy and/or security Violation. Some offenses, such as intentional violations, are so serious that they will justify termination or suspension on the first offense. For offenses that may not justify serious discipline on the first offense, lesser sanctions may be applied in the discretion of CWRU. Progressive discipline is not a right, and CWRU reserves the right to impose discipline or to terminate employment at any time, for any reason, with or without undertaking any of the other sanctions outlined in this policy.

- A. Informal Counseling. The Appropriate Administrative Officer or Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) may engage in informal counseling with respect to privacy and/or security issues and/or Privacy and/or Security Violations that do not warrant more severe sanctions. Documentation of informal counseling may be maintained in personnel and departmental files.
- B. Verbal Warning. The appropriate Administrative Officer or Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) may issue a verbal warning to an employee. Documentation of the verbal warning will be maintained in personnel and departmental files.
- C. Written Warning. The appropriate Administrative Officer, in consultation with the Privacy and/or Security Officer(s), may issue a written warning to an employee. Such a warning may be appropriate, for example, when the behavior of the employee is a repeated violation and verbal counseling has been administered, or the violation is more serious in nature and/or subjects CWRU to potential legal liability. Written warnings will be documented in personnel and departmental files.
- D. Probation. In appropriate circumstances an employee may be placed on probation for a specified period of time. When probation is imposed, the employee will generally be provided with a written description of the behavior that resulted in the probation and the required behavioral or performance objectives that must be met in order to remove the employee from probation. Copies of documents relating to probations will be kept in personnel and departmental files.
- E. Suspension. Suspension or temporary release from duty, is a more severe action that may be imposed in the discretion of CWRU. Suspension may also be used during investigations in order to more easily conduct such investigations.
 - 1. Suspensions may be issued when, in the discretion of CWRU, it is determined that a second warning would not suffice or that an initial incident is too severe for a warning yet not sufficiently severe for termination. Suspensions may vary in length, according to the severity of the Privacy and/or Security Violation. Suspensions may be paid or unpaid, in the discretion of CWRU and consistent with applicable laws.
 - 2. Suspensions will be documented in personnel and departmental files.
- F. Demotion. In appropriate circumstances, an employee may be demoted (transferred to a lower-level position) as a sanction for Privacy and/or Security Violations. Demotions will be documented in personnel and departmental files.

G. Termination of Employment. Termination of employment is generally the most serious disciplinary sanction for Privacy and/or Security Violations.

1. In situations where employment with CWRU is at-will, and may be terminated at any time and for any reason, the decision to terminate an employee for a Privacy and/or Security Violation is in the discretion of CWRU. Termination as a disciplinary sanction may, for example, be imposed after other disciplinary measures have failed or when a Privacy and/or Security Violation merits such sanction as determined in the sole discretion of CWRU.
2. Copies of relevant documentation pertaining to terminations will be maintained in personnel and departmental files.

H. Restitution. Where an employee's Privacy and/or Security Violations have caused harm or damage to CWRU, sanctions may include restitution to CWRU.

III. ACTIONS THAT MAY RESULT IN SANCTIONS

Without limiting CWRU's right to discharge an employee at any time, with or without cause; the following acts of misconduct are provided as nonexclusive examples of Privacy and/or Security Violations that may result in sanctions up to and including termination.

- Misuse or theft of PHI, with or without the intent to unlawfully sell the information to an outside party.
- Failure to properly maintain an up-to-date accounting of instances in which CWRU has released an individual's PHI to a third party.
- Discussion of an individual's PHI in the presence of unrelated third parties.
- Disclosure of PHI for research purposes without a proper authorization or waiver of authorization, where such disclosure is not otherwise permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules.

Below are examples of privacy and security violations:

Examples

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: It is the policy of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") to mitigate, to the extent practicable, any harmful effect known to CWRU of a use or disclosure of protected health information made in violation of its Policies and Procedures or the requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules, to the extent that such use or disclosure is made by CWRU and/or one of its business associates.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to state CWRU's commitment to mitigation of any harmful effects known to CWRU of a use or disclosure of PHI made in violation of the Privacy and Security Rules.

I. MITIGATION

- A. Importance of Confidentiality. CWRU has adopted its Policies and Procedures in part to ensure the confidentiality and protection of PHI maintained by CWRU and/or its business associates. CWRU respects the confidentiality and privacy of PHI. To the extent that PHI is used or disclosed by CWRU and/or one of its business associates in a manner not permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules, CWRU will take action to mitigate any harmful effect of each use or disclosure to the extent such harmful effect is known to CWRU.
- B. Mitigating Steps. CWRU may take any one or more of the following actions to mitigate any harmful effects of a use or disclosure of PHI made in violation of the Privacy Security Rules:
1. recover the PHI which was used or disclosed from the party who participated in the use of or received a disclosure of PHI not permitted under the Privacy and Security Rules (a "recipient");
 2. request assurances from a recipient that all PHI that was used or disclosed other than as permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules has been returned to CWRU and that no copies of such PHI were retained by the recipient or any of its employees or agents;

3. obtain from the recipient an itemization of any uses or disclosures of the PHI made by the recipient;
4. notify such persons or entities as it deems appropriate and in a manner determined in its discretion that PHI may have been used or disclosed other than as permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules and request such other persons or entities to cooperate in mitigating any harmful effects of such use or disclosure that are known to CWRU; and other appropriate actions as determined in the discretion of CWRU.

II. REPORTING

Any member of CWRU's workforce who becomes aware of any use or disclosure of PHI in a manner not permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules and/or CWRU's Policies and Procedures should report relevant information concerning the use or disclosure to the CWRU privacy officer.

III. IMPLEMENTATION OF MITIGATION

Upon receipt of a report of a possible use or disclosure of PHI other than as permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules and or the Policies and Procedures, the CWRU privacy officer shall investigate such report, and, if appropriate, shall apply the procedures specified in this policy to mitigate any harmful effects of such use or disclosure as are known to CWRU.

IV. SANCTIONS

Any member of CWRU's workforce who participates in or facilitates a use or disclosure of PHI not permitted by the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's Policies and Procedures is subject to sanctions in a manner consistent with the "Internal Enforcement" policy of CWRU's Policies and Procedures.

POLICY #24: BUSINESS ASSOCIATES
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: All agreements with business associates of Case Western Reserve University ("CWRU") must be in writing and must contain certain mandatory provisions designed to protect the privacy and security of individuals' PHI. CWRU personnel shall not disclose PHI to a business associate without a signed business associate agreement.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this policy is to protect, through the execution and enforcement of written agreements, the privacy and confidentiality of PHI that CWRU discloses to individuals and ratifies that are business associates of CWRU.

I. INTRODUCTION

- A. Need for business associate agreements. From time to time, CWRU may contract with an individual or company to provide services to CWRU or on behalf of CWRU. If such a relationship involves sharing PHI that CWRU maintains, then CWRU is required to enter into a written contract, known as a "business associate agreement," with the individual or company. The primary purpose of the agreement is to ensure that the business associate will use or disclose the PHI for lawful purposes only.
- B. General rules regarding business associates. The Privacy Rules define a business associate as a person or entity that provides certain functions, activities, or services to or for CWRU, involving the use or disclosure of PHI. CWRU may disclose PHI to a business associate, or allow the business associate to create or receive PHI on its behalf, so long as CWRU and the business associate enter into a valid business associate agreement.
- C. Limitations on the use of PHI. The business associate may only use the PHI that it receives in its capacity as CWRU's business associate as permitted by law and its contract with CWRU.
- D. Additional compliance obligations. Disclosures of PHI to business associates must comply with all of CWRU's other Policies and Procedures.

II. IDENTIFICATION OF A BUSINESS ASSOCIATE

- A. Definition. A business associate is a person or entity who, other than as a member of CWRU's workforce:
1. on behalf of CWRU performs or assists in the performance of functions or activities involving the use or disclosure of individually identifiable health information, including, without limitation, PHI; examples of such functions include but are not limited to:
 - claims processing or administration
 - data analysis, processing, or administration
 - utilization review
 - quality assurance
 - billing
 - benefit management
 - practice management, or
 2. provides one of the following services to CWRU where the provision of services involves the disclosure of individually identifiable health information:
 - legal
 - actuarial
 - accounting
 - consulting
 - data aggregation
 - management
 - administrative
 - accreditation
 - financial.
- B. Workforce. Members of CWRU's workforce are not considered business associates.
- C. Treatment exception. When CWRU discloses PHI to a health care provider for the purpose of providing treatment to the individual, the health care provider is not considered a business associate.

III. PROPOSED AGREEMENTS WITH BUSINESS ASSOCIATES

- A. Proposed business associate agreements. CWRU's employees must forward to CWRU's privacy officer all proposed agreements between CWRU and an entity or individual pursuant to which CWRU may provide access to PHI. It is CWRU's preference to utilize the attached form Business Associate Agreement for use with CWRU's business associates.
- B. Review of proposed agreements. To determine whether a business associate agreement is required, the privacy officer and legal counsel will review each proposed agreement between CWRU and an outside contractor if the contractor will use and disclose PHI pursuant to the agreement.

IV. REQUIRED ELEMENTS OF A BUSINESS ASSOCIATE AGREEMENT

- A. A business associate agreement must be in writing and must include provisions that:
 - 1. establish the permitted and required uses and disclosures of PHI by the business associate, which may include the use and disclosure of PHI for the proper management and administration of its business and to provide data aggregation services for CWRU;
 - 2. provide that the business associate will:
 - a. not use or further disclose the PHI, other than as required by the contract or applicable law
 - b. use appropriate safeguards to be implemented by the business associate to prevent inappropriate use or disclosure;
 - c. report to CWRU any inappropriate use or disclosure of PHI of which it becomes aware;
 - d. ensure that agents and subcontractors of the business associate who receive PHI from CWRU also agree to the same restrictions and requirements with regard to use and disclosure of PHI;
 - e. make available PHI as necessary for compliance with the Privacy Rules' requirement to allow individuals to review and copy their PHI;
 - f. make available PHI as necessary to address an individual's request to amend their PHI;
 - g. make available PHI as necessary to provide an accounting of disclosures;

- h. make its internal practices, books, and records concerning PHI received from or created or received on behalf of CWRU available to the Department of Health and Human Services; and
 - i. upon termination of the contract, return or destroy (or if not feasible, continue to protect) all PHI received from or created or received on behalf of CWRU; and
 3. authorize CWRU to terminate the contract if the business associate violates a material term of the contract.

B. Optional provisions in the business associate contract. In addition to the required elements listed above, the business associate contract may also contain additional elements.

1. The business associate contract may permit the business associate to use the PHI it receives from CWRU for the proper management and administration of the business associate or to carry out the legal responsibilities of the business associate if:
 - a. the disclosure is required by law; or
 - b. the business associate obtains reasonable assurances from the person to whom the PHI is disclosed that it will be held confidentially and used or further disclosed only as required by law for the purpose for which it was disclosed to that person, and the person notifies the business associate of any instances of which the person is aware in which the confidentiality of the PHI has been breached.
2. The business associate contract may permit the business associate to provide data aggregation services to CWRU

V. PRIVACY AND SECURITY VIOLATIONS COMMITTED BY A BUSINESS ASSOCIATE

A. Duty to notify. If a CWRU employee or other staff personnel knows or has reason to believe that a business associate of CWRU is inappropriately using or disclosing PHI, whether the PHI was received by CWRU or not, the employee or other staff personnel is required to notify CWRU's Privacy Officer immediately regarding the suspected violation.

- B. Review of alleged violations. Upon receiving notice of an alleged or actual violation of a business associate agreement from any source, including notice obtained through individual complaints and reports from CWRU personnel, CWRU's Privacy Officer will initiate a review of the conduct or activities at issue.
- C. Investigation and resolution of violations. If the CWRU Privacy Officer determines that the complaint, report, or other form of notice contains substantial and credible evidence of violations by a business associate, the Privacy Officer will commence a formal investigation into the conduct or activities of the business associate.
1. If the investigation reveals that a business associate has violated its agreement with CWRU, the Privacy Officer shall notify the Vice President and General Counsel immediately.
 2. If the Privacy Officer, in consultation with the Vice President and General Counsel, determine that the business associate has committed a material breach or violation of its obligations under the business associate agreement, the Privacy Officer, with the assistance of the Vice President and General Counsel, must take reasonable steps to remedy the breach or terminate the contract of a business associate when feasible. If termination of the contract is not feasible, CWRU must report the problem to the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS").

Title: Password Management for Workforce of Covered Components (HIPAA Policy #25)

Effective date: April 19, 2005

Responsible Official: University Chief Compliance and Privacy Officer

University Office: Office of General Counsel-Compliance Program

Related legislation and University policies: HIPAA

Review Period: 5 Years

Date of Last Review: August 1, 2021

Relates to: Faculty, Staff, Students

POLICY #25: PASSWORD MANAGEMENT FOR WORKFORCE OF COVERED COMPONENTS POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Users who are workforce members of covered components are responsible for Network-ID accounts and any activities that are made using it. The password associated with the NetworkID is what protects an account from unauthorized access. Passwords must meet the minimum requirements as outlined in this policy.

PURPOSE: Passwords are the means by which the identity of system users is validated and information is protected from unauthorized access. If someone else obtains the password, they can use a user's account to peruse private data, including PHI, electronic mail and ERP personal records; alter or destroy files; and perform illegal activities in user's name. As a result, the proper selection and protection of a password are very important.

I. OBLIGATIONS

Computer system users who are workforce members of a covered component should choose passwords that cannot be easily guessed using the following standards:

- Passwords must be a minimum of eight characters and must contain more than one
- character types such as letters (a-z, A-Z), numbers (0-9), or symbols (!@s etc.).
- Passwords must be cryptic and not easily guessed.
- Passwords will automatically expire at least every 180 days.
- Passwords cannot be reused.
- Passwords must be maintained in a confidential manner:
 - User accounts and passwords cannot be shared.
 - Passwords should not be posted or kept in hard copy in an insecure location.
 - Passwords should never be sent via electronic messages (e.g., e-mail) without encryption.
 - Passwords to access any of CWRU's systems should not be used on any external (non-CWRU) systems (e.g., Internet accounts).

- Passwords should be immediately changed if they are suspected or are known to have been disclosed to unauthorized parties.
- Unattended computers should be locked. This will be enforced by having CWRU's computers automatically lock after 20 minutes of inactivity. A locked computer session will require the user to provide their password to regain use of their system.

II. GUIDELINES

The ideal password is easy to remember but difficult for someone else to guess. This will allow users not write it down, where it can be discovered, while being sufficiently strong to prevent security breaches.

When constructing and using a password, users should abide by the following guidelines:

- Do not use personal information — Such as names (including self, family members, friends, coworkers, pets), permutations of the user-ID, hobbies, phone numbers, birth dates, social security numbers, home town or street, automobile brand, computer systems being used, business functions, or other information about one's self that is readily discovered.
- Do not use commonly used words - For example 'CWRU', 'password', department names, sports teams, celebrity names, seasons, days of the week, months or years.
- Do not use consecutive keys, repeated keys, or simple keyboard patterns — Such as 'aaaa.', '1111...', 'abcd...', '1234...', 'qwerty', or 'ghjkl.'
- Do not use a systematic, or a well-adhered to algorithm — For example, appending consecutive numbers to a word for each password change (e.g., 'OP', then '02', etc.).
- Use as many different character types as possible — When forming your password, use numbers, punctuation characters, and mixed upper and lower-case letters. Choosing characters from the largest possible alphabet will make your password more secure.
- Use a password that you can type quickly, without having to look at the keyboard — This makes it harder for someone to steal your password by watching over your shoulder.
- Lock your computer when left unattended — Unattended computer sessions should be locked to prevent potential misuse. Use lock screen password protection (by typing 'Ctrl-Alt-Delete', then selecting 'Lock Workstation').
- Change your password when in doubt — If you have any uncertainty about whether anyone else knows your password, change it immediately.

Examples

There are several methods that are available to assist you in choosing a secure, easy-to-remember password that conforms to the above guidelines. These include the following:

- Use the first letter of each word in a phrase, poem, or song that you can easily remember. Choose a line or two from a song or poem and use the first letter of each word. For example, "<In Xanadu did Kubla Kabn a stately pleasure dome decree" becomes "<IxdKKaspdd>."
- Intentionally use misspelled words, or words with a number or punctuation mark, preferably somewhere in the middle. Examples include: "kite276s", and "w3aTT!er".
- Choose two short words and concatenate them together with numbers or symbols between them. For example:
 - dog + rain becomes 'Dog:4rain"
 - my + ninety-nine + books becomes "My9-9books"
- Use a pronounceable phrase that uses numbers or symbols to substitute for words. For example:
 - "the number one winner" becomes "the#1Winner"
 - "meet me at eight" becomes "meetME@8"
 - "dollars to doughnuts" becomes "$2doughNuts"

NOTE: Please do not use any of the above examples verbatim!

III. ENFORCEMENT

A violation of any provision of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including the termination of employment, suspension of privileges or imposition of academic sanctions consistent with applicable CWRU policies and procedures and see CWRU HIPAA Policies and Procedures, "Internal Enforcement — Sanction Policy."

Each workforce member of a covered component using electronic data and systems is responsible for knowing and adhering to established security standards.

Each individual within CWRU is also responsible for reporting immediately any known or suspected breach of the security or integrity of a system; the confidentiality of records/data obtained from a system; or any failure to adhere to approved security standards for electronic information and systems, to any of the following:

- The manager, supervisor, or CTO of the organizational unit in which the breach or failure occurred.
- The manager, supervisor, or CTO of the individual who witnessed the breach or failure.
- CWRU CISO
- CWRU Audit Officer
- CWRU Employee Relations Office

POLICY #28: BREACH NOTIFICATION
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

POLICY: Case Western Reserve University (“CWRU”) will comply with HIPAA’s “breach notification” regulations published on August 24, 2009, implementing certain provisions of Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (HITECH Act), part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA). It will do so by providing timely notice of certain privacy or security breaches, as set forth below. This policy is intended to complement CWRU’s existing privacy and security policies and procedures for HIPAA privacy and security compliance including, specifically, its HIPAA Privacy Policy No. 19 (Internal Enforcement - Sanctions Policy), as amended from time to time.

I. TIMELY REPORTING OF ALL POSSIBLE BREACHES.

Any workforce member of CWRU who becomes aware of a suspected incident involving the impermissible acquisition, use, or disclosure of PHI shall immediately report such incident to CWRU’s Privacy Contact (who, in turn, will notify the Privacy Officer to implement an investigation under Policy No. 19) regardless of whether such incident is ultimately determined to be a “reportable breach” pursuant to this policy.

- Such reports may initially be made orally, but within 48 hours all workforce members must follow up with a written report to CWRU’s Privacy Contact.
- The final determination as to whether there has been a breach for which reporting may or may not be required under this policy shall be made by CWRU’s Privacy Contact, pursuant to the procedures set forth herein.

II. EXCEPTIONS TO THE BREACH NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.

Not all violations of these HIPAA policies constitute “breaches” that are subject to the HIPAA breach notification rules. To determine whether notification is required, CWRU’s Privacy Contact (in conjunction with the Privacy Officer) will take the following preliminary steps:

- Conduct an immediate investigation to determine whether there has been an impermissible acquisition, access, use, or disclosure of PHI in violation of the HIPAA Privacy Rule.
- Conduct a risk assessment to determine whether the impermissible activity (if any) compromised the security or privacy of the PHI so as to meet the definition of “breach” as defined below in Section III.
- Evaluate whether the “breach” (if any) falls under one of the exceptions to the notification obligations. Those exceptions are as follows:
 - 1) Unintentional internal acquisition, access, or use of PHI by a workforce member does not trigger notification obligations if such unintentional activity was done in good faith, within the course and scope of employment or other professional relationship, and does not result in further use or disclosure not permitted by the HIPAA Privacy Rule. For example: Inadvertently pulling the chart for “Susan A. Smith” instead of “Susan B. Smith,” but as soon as the mistake is realized putting back the incorrect chart without further use/disclosure/access of the patient’s information.
 - 2) Inadvertent disclosure of PHI from one person with authority to access PHI within a Practice to another member of CWRU’s workforce, provided the recipient does not further disclose the information in violation of the HIPAA Privacy Rule.
 - 3) Unauthorized disclosures in which the person to whom PHI is disclosed would not reasonably have been able to retain the information do not trigger notification obligations. This exception can be applied when the disclosing individual has a good faith belief that the unauthorized recipient is unable to retain the information.

The Privacy Contact must complete these preliminary steps in a short time frame (generally, 30 days or less) and will document the results of their investigation and conclusions as to whether the incident constitutes a “breach” for which there is (or is not) an exception. Even if no reportable “breach” has occurred, the Privacy Contact should complete the steps outlined in Policy No. 19 to determine if any sanctions or other corrective action may be needed to redress the incident.

III. KEY DEFINITIONS

- A. “Breach” means that the acquisition, access, use, or disclosure of PHI is (1) is impermissible under the HIPAA Privacy Rule (and these Policies); and (2) poses a significant risk for financial, reputational, or other harm to the individual. The determination of whether an impermissible acquisition, access, use, or disclosure of PHI constitutes a “breach” hinges on whether there is a significant risk of harm to the individual as a result of the impermissible activity by considering: Who impermissibly used or to whom the information was impermissibly disclosed (e.g., if disclosed to another health care provider, there may be less risk because that entity is bound by HIPAA to protect the information).

- Whether immediate steps to mitigate the harm render the risk to the individual to be less than “significant,” (e.g., recipient signs a confidentiality agreement assuring that it will not use or further disclose the PHI).
- Whether impermissibly disclosed PHI was returned prior to it being accessed for an improper purpose (e.g., a stolen laptop is recovered and analysis establishes that the PHI was not opened, altered, transferred, or compromised).

What is not a Breach?

- Use or disclosure of “de-identified information” is not subject to the breach notification requirements because such information is not considered to be PHI. Use or disclosure of “limited data sets” where zip code and date of birth have been stripped also is not subject to the breach notification rules.
- Use or disclosure of PHI that is incident to an otherwise permissible use or disclosure and occurs despite reasonable safeguards and proper minimum necessary procedures does not qualify as a breach.

- B. “Unsecured PHI” means PHI that is not rendered unusable, unreadable, or indecipherable to unauthorized individuals through the use of a technology or methodology specified by the U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services.

IV. PROVIDING NOTIFICATION

If the incident constitutes a “breach” that does not meet one of the exceptions listed in Section II, above, it is a “reportable breach” and CWRU must provide notification in compliance with HIPAA.

- A. Notification to Individuals (for all “reportable breaches”).

1. Timing. CWRU must provide notice to affected individuals without unreasonable delay, but in no case later than 60 calendar days from the time the breach was discovered (or should have discovered the breach using reasonable diligence).
 - CWRU may take reasonable time to perform an investigation to collect the required information to provide notice to an individual (or to determine that the breach is not “reportable”).
 - However, this investigation does not extend the time in which CWRU must provide notice.

2. Content of Notification. The notifications must contain the following information, to the extent possible:
- A brief description of what happened, including the date of the breach and the date of discovery.
 - A description of the type PHI that was involved (e.g., name, Social Security Number, procedure, diagnosis, treatment, and so forth).
 - The steps recommended that the individual should take to protect themselves.
 - A brief description of the steps CWRU is taking to investigate, mitigate harm, and protect against future similar breaches (this might include information about steps to retrieve the PHI).
 - Contact information so the individual can communicate with CWRU for additional information regarding their specific breach (the contact information must include at least one of the following: a toll-free number; e-mail, Web site, or postal address).
 - A general description of our commitment to impose appropriate sanctions on any workforce members involved with the breach.

3. Methods of Notification to the Affected Individual(s)

- Actual Notification. CWRU will provide actual written notice via mail at the last known address of any individual whose unsecured PHI has been breached. (Written notice may be sent via e-mail if the individual earlier consented to being contacted in this manner.)
 - If the individual is a minor or otherwise not capable of receiving or understanding the notice, the notice should be sent to the parent or legal guardian, as authorized under applicable law.
 - In urgent cases, where there is a fear of possible imminent misuse of an individual's PHI, CWRU may use alternative methods to contact the individual, for example, by telephone. This method of notification is in addition to actual, written notification.
 - If CWRU knows the individual is deceased, the notification should be provided to the deceased's next-of-kin or personal representative, if known to us.
- Substitute Notification. If an affected individual's last known contact information is out-of-date or incomplete and cannot be used to contact the individual, or if notifications are returned because they are undeliverable, CWRU may provide a substitute notice in lieu of an actual written notice, so long as the substitute method does not unnecessarily disclose PHI:

- If there are less than 10 individuals at issue, an alternate written form, telephone call, or other means may satisfy this requirement, even if the individuals had not previously consented to such alternative forms of notice.
- Where 10 or more individuals are at issue, CWRU can satisfy the notification requirement by posting a conspicuous notice on the home page of its website for 90 days, or placing a conspicuous notice in a major print or broadcast media in the geographic areas where the individuals reside.
- The substitute notice must be reasonably calculated to reach those affected individuals and must include a toll-free number for those individuals to use to contact CWRU for additional information. This toll-free phone number must remain active for at least 90 days.

B. Notification to Media (Applies only to “reportable breaches” that affect 500 or more individuals).

1. General. In the unlikely event of a reportable breach that affects 500 or more current or former individuals, CWRU will notify a prominent media outlet serving the area, as follows:

- If the breach affects individuals in a particular city, then a “prominent media outlet” would be a major news outlet with citywide, but not state-wide, daily circulation.
- Notification to the media is in addition to the actual written notice to the individual(s), and not in lieu of it.
- However, this notice can serve as the substitute notice in the event actual notice is not possible if the notification to the media also meets all of the requirements for substitute notice (e.g., the notice includes a toll-free number and is reasonably calculated to reach those individuals to whom CWRU could not provide actual written notice).

2. Timeliness of Media Notification. Notice to the media must be provided without unreasonable delay, but no later than 60 calendar days from discovery. This notice must contain the same information as what is included in the actual written notice to the individuals (above).

3. Circumstances where Media Notification Is Not Required. Notification of the media is not required in the following circumstances, notwithstanding that a breach involves 500 or more affected individuals:

- Where the affected individuals are spread out over several states and no single state has 500 or more affected individuals.

- Where the breach occurred at a BA and implicated several different health care providers, but no individual provider had 500 or more affected individuals in a particular state or jurisdiction.

C. Notification to HHS Secretary. CWRU will provide notice of any “reportable breach” to the HHS Secretary, as follows.

1. For breaches involving fewer than 500 individuals, CWRU is only required to maintain a log of all breaches and submit information annually to the HHS Secretary.

- All notifications of such breaches occurring in a calendar year must be submitted within 60 days of the end of the calendar year in which the breaches occurred.
- This notice must be submitted electronically by following the link below and completing all information required on the breach notification form.
- A separate form must be completed for every breach that has occurred during the calendar year.

2. If the breach involves 500 or more individuals, notice to the HHS Secretary must be sent as follows.

- Provide such notice without unreasonable delay and in no case later than 60 days from discovery of the breach. (Same as notice to the individual(s))
- This notice must be submitted electronically by following the link below and completing all information required on the breach notification form.

V. WHEN BREACH BY A BUSINESS ASSOCIATE (“BA”) WILL BE IMPUTED TO CWRU

In some instances, the date the BA discovers (or should have discovered) the breach will be imputed to CWRU -- meaning that the 60-day “clock” to notify individuals begins when the BA learns of the breach. As a result, the Business Associate Agreement between the parties must clearly address that the BA must provide CWRU with immediate (no later than 5 days) notification of the breach.

HYBRID ENTITY: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Are all aspects of CWRU's activities and operation, subject to the Privacy and Security Rules?

No. CWRU is itself a covered entity for purposes of the Privacy and Security Rules because it carries out certain functions or activities which are subject to the Privacy and Security Rules. For example, CWRU, through the CWRU Dental School, provides health care to patients. However, the vast majority of CWRU's activities and operations do not involve activities which are covered functions for purposes of the Privacy and Security Rules. While CWRU itself has several obligations under the Privacy and Security Rules, such as adopting policies and procedures, cooperating in compliance efforts and designating its health care components, it is primarily CWRU's designated health care components that are subject to the requirements and specifications of the Privacy and Security Rules.

- B. What does it mean to be a designated health care component?

A designated health care component of CWRU is a department, collection of activities or functions which if a separate legal entity, or if such activities or functions were performed by a separate legal entity, such separate entity would be a covered entity for purposes of the Privacy and Security Rules. CWRU has listed its designated health care components in its Policies and Procedures concerning its hybrid entity status.

- C. Can a designated health care component of CWRU disclose PHI to another department, or for the purposes of another function or operation of CWRU?

Yes, but that disclosure, must meet all requirements for a disclosure under the Privacy and Security Rules by a covered entity to a separate, unrelated entity, unless it is made pursuant to a memorandum of understanding entered into by the designated health care component with a department or activity of CWRU that supports the designated health care component.

GENERAL USE AND DISCLOSURE: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Can an individual have a friend or family member pick up an individual's PHI for delivery to a health care provider?

Yes. CWRU personnel may use professional judgment and experience with common practice to make reasonable inferences of an individual's best interests in allowing another person to pick up an individual's PHI. The fact that a friend arrives at CWRU asking to pick up specific PHI for an individual effectively verifies that the friend is involved in the individual's care, so CWRU personnel may give the PHI to the friend. The individual does not need to provide CWRU with the names of such persons in advance.

- B. Do the minimum necessary requirements prohibit CWRU trainees and interns from accessing individuals' PHI in the course of their training?

No. CWRU may give trainees and interns access to PHI if appropriate, so long as the access is the minimum necessary for such training.

- C. In limiting access to PHI, does CWRU have to completely restructure workflow systems, including redesigns of space and upgrades of computer systems, in order to comply with the minimum necessary requirements?

No. CWRU is only required to limit access to PHI to those in the workforce who need access based on their roles in CWRU. Facility redesigns are generally not necessary to meet the reasonableness standard for minimum necessary uses. CWRU may need to make certain adjustments to its facilities, however, to minimize inappropriate access. Examples of such adjustments may include isolating and locking the file cabinets or records rooms, or providing additional security, such as passwords, on computers that contain PHI. CWRU may configure record systems to allow access to only certain information, depending in part upon the feasibility of that reconfiguration.

- D. What if CWRU believes that a request for PHI seeks more than the minimum necessary?

CWRU must limit the disclosure to the minimum necessary as it sees fit. The rules permit CWRU to rely on the judgment of the requesting person in some situations. If such reliance is reasonable despite CWRU's concerns, CWRU may make the disclosure as requested.

PRIORITY DISCLOSURES: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. Do the Privacy and Security Rules require CWRU to disclose individuals' PHI for government enforcement of the rules?

Yes, in some cases. The HHS Office for Civil Rights ("OCR") has the authority to investigate complaints and conduct compliance investigations to ensure that CWRU complies with the Privacy and Security Rules. Although the Privacy and Security Rules do not require CWRU to send information to the government for a database or similar operation, the government does have the power to investigate allegations that the Privacy and Security Rules have been violated. This power authorizes the government to gain access to PHI, such as when an individual complains to OCR that they believe CWRU has not properly handled their PHI.

The rules limit disclosures to OCR to information that is "pertinent to ascertaining compliance." What information would be needed by OCR depends on the circumstances and the alleged violations. In some cases, no PHI would be needed. For instance, OCR may need to review only a business associate contract to determine whether CWRU included appropriate language to protect privacy when it hired an outside company to help with certain functions involving PHI.

Examples of investigations that may require OCR to have access to PHI include but are not limited to:

- allegations that CWRU refused to note a request for amendment in an individual's designated record set, or did not provide the individual with appropriate access to their PHI;
- allegations that CWRU used PHI for marketing purposes without first obtaining the individual's authorization when required to so by the rules. OCR may need to review information in the marketing department that contains PHI to determine whether a violation has occurred.

B. May CWRU disclose PHI to a state board of health that is conducting an investigation or inspection?

Yes. A board of health would be considered a health oversight agency. Therefore, under the Privacy and Security Rules, CWRU could disclose PHI to the board for oversight activities such as audits; civil, administrative, or criminal investigations; inspections; licensure or disciplinary actions; civil, administrative, or criminal proceedings or actions where necessary to provide oversight of the health care system, government benefit programs that have health-related eligibility criteria, and entities subject to government regulatory programs. It is important to note, however, that the rules do not create any new rights of access to health records by oversight agencies and cannot be used as authority to obtain records not otherwise legally available to the oversight agency.

AUTHORIZATION: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. Who may sign an authorization?

The individual who is the subject of the PHI that will be used or disclosed, or a personal representative of the individual, may sign an authorization. If an authorization is signed by a personal representative of the individual, CWRU must obtain a description of the representative's authority to act for the individual.

B. Can CWRU refuse to provide health care items or services to an individual who refuses to sign an authorization?

Except for research related treatment, CWRU may not refuse to provide treatment or other health plan benefits to individuals who refuse to sign an authorization. For example, CWRU may not refuse to provide dental care services solely because an individual refuses to authorize a disclosure to a pharmaceutical dental care products manufacturer for the purpose of marketing a new product.

C. Can CWRU use or disclose PHI pursuant to an authorization that was obtained from the individual by a different person or entity?

Yes. Authorizations for use or disclosure of CWRU's individual records may be obtained by entities or persons other than CWRU. For example, an attorney may obtain an individual's authorization for CWRU to disclose PHI to the attorney for use in litigation. Whether the authorization is submitted to CWRU by the individual or by another person on the individual's behalf, CWRU may not use or disclose the PHI pursuant to an authorization unless the authorization meets the specified requirements set forth above.

D. Is CWRU required to disclose PHI to a third party pursuant to an authorization?

No. CWRU is not required to disclose PHI to a third party pursuant to an individual's authorization. The authorization permits, but does not require, CWRU to disclose the requested PHI. For example, if CWRU concludes that an authorized request for the individual's PHI is too burdensome (e g., it requires CWRU to review the individual's record and select portions relevant to the request or redact portions not relevant), CWRU may instead provide the entire individual record to the individual, who may redact and release more limited information to the third party.

RESEARCH: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. May PHI ever be used for research purposes without an individual authorization?

Yes. A recognized IRB, following its own internal and certain procedures specified by the Privacy and Security Rules, is able to grant waivers of authorization requirements that generally apply to a disclosure of PHI.

B. May I combine an authorization to disclose PHI created maintained and/or used in the course of research involving human subjects with any other document?

Yes. An authorization for a research related disclosure of PHI may be combined with an informed consent required under the Common Rule.

C. May I have access to PHI without an authorization (such access is required to create or refine a research protocol)?

Yes. The Privacy and Security Rules permit certain disclosures of PHI that are preparatory to research if certain conditions are met. These include that the party making disclosure obtain from the researcher representations as follows:

1. use or disclosure is sought solely to review protected health information as necessary to prepare a research protocol or for similar purposes preparatory to research;
2. no protected health information is to be removed from the covered entity by the researcher in the course of the review; and
3. the protected health information for which use or access is sought is necessary for the research purposes.

If PHI is made available to a researcher under the above guidelines, no PHI may be removed from the premises where the PHI is reviewed and a researcher preparing the research protocol or reviewing potential research subjects may record only de-identified health information.

D. Where can I obtain additional information concerning research and the Privacy and Security Rules?

Additional information concerning research, the Privacy Rule and the Security Rule is available from the CWRU Privacy Officer and the CWRU Office of Research Compliance (http://ora_re.CWRU.edu/main/research_compliance_page.htm).

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. Are CWRU personnel required to explain the Notice to individuals?

No. The Notice must be written in plain language so that the average reader will be able to understand it. Patients who have questions may be referred to the CWRU contact person and telephone number listed in the Notice.

B. Can CWRU distribute the Notice to Individuals as part of other publications or communications?

Yes, in many circumstances. For example, the Notice and the individual acknowledgment form may be included in the same document. However, the Notice may not be combined in a single document with an authorization.

C. Is CWRU required to respond to requests for the Notice from the general public?

Yes. In order to allow individuals to use the Notice to compare privacy practices and to select a provider, CWRU must provide the Notice to any person who requests a copy, including members of the general public who are not patients of the CWRU Dental Clinic.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. May CWRU use a logbook that individuals sign after receipt of a Notice of Privacy Practices to comply with the acknowledgment requirements?

Yes. CWRU may have the individual sign or initial an acknowledgment within a logbook that individuals sign when they receive a Notice of Privacy Practice, so long as the individual is clearly informed on the logbook of what they are acknowledging. However, the acknowledgment must be separate and distinct from any other acknowledgment or any grant of waiver or permission.

- B. How can CWRU comply with the acknowledgement requirement if an individual has a personal representative?

If an individual has a personal representative, such as the parent of a minor, the personal representative may sign the acknowledgment on behalf of the individual. But if the individual is unable to sign an acknowledgement and is not accompanied by their personal representative, CWRU may choose to send the Notice of Privacy Practices and acknowledgment to the personal representative and provide instructions for the personal representative to send the acknowledgment back via mail or drop it off during the next visit to CWRU.

FUNDRAISING: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. May CWRU disclose PHI for fundraising purposes?

Yes. However, CWRU may disclose only a limited amount of PHI for these purposes and may make such disclosure only to a business associate or to a tax-exempt, charitable foundation which has as its mission the support of CWRU.

B. What if an Individual does not want to receive fundraising materials?

CWRU must disclose in any fundraising materials in connection with which PHI was used or disclosed information on how an individual can elect to not receive any additional similar materials. CWRU must use its best efforts to honor all such requests.

MARKETING: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Is a communication with a patient that is intended exclusively to further the treatment of the patient considered marketing for purposes of the Privacy Rules?

No. The definition of "marketing" in the Privacy Rules excludes a communication made for treatment of the individual. For example, a dentist may refer an individual to an oral surgeon for a follow-up or provide free samples of a prescription drug to a patient.

- B. Is an authorization required if a marketing communication is made face-to-face with a patient?

No. The Privacy Rules except from the marketing authorization requirements communications that are made face-to-face or communication that are in the form of a promotional gift of nominal value provided by CWRU. For example, dentists may give patients free toothbrushes, floss and toothpaste.

REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL PRIVACY: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. What types of requests are considered reasonable requests for alternative communications?

1. An individual lives with an abusive co-habitant and is concerned that their knowledge of health care treatment may lead to additional abuse, so a request is made that any mail from CWRU be sent to a friend's home or that telephone calls be made to work.
2. An individual does not want family to know that he is taking a prescription medication, so he requests that CWRU send all written communications to a designated post office box instead of his home address, or he requests that CWRU mail information using closed envelopes instead of post cards.
3. An individual who is not a minor does not want their parent to know that they are receiving medical treatment, so they request that CWRU contact them by e-mail.

B. Are restrictions effective to prevent uses and disclosures for which the individual's permission is not required?

No. If the use or disclosure does not require the individual's permission (e-g., disclosures required by law, for law enforcement purposes, legal or administrative proceedings, and other disclosures for "national priority purposes"), the restriction is not binding on CWRU. CWRU can agree to this type of restriction, but the restriction is not enforceable. For example, if CWRU makes a disclosure relating to serious and imminent threats (a situation where the individual's permission to make the disclosure is not required), the disclosure will not be in violation of the regulation even if the disclosure is contrary to an additional restriction previously accepted by CWRU.

C. If CWRU terminates a restriction without the individual's permission, does this apply to all of the individual's PHI that CWRU holds?

No. If CWRU wants to terminate the restriction without the individual's permission, it may only terminate the restriction with respect to PHI it creates or receives after it informs the individual of the termination. The restriction continues to apply to PHI created or received prior to informing the individual of the termination. Thus, any PHI that has been collected before the termination may not be used or disclosed in a way that is inconsistent with the restriction, but any PHI that is collected after informing the individual of the termination of the restriction may be used or disclosed as otherwise permitted

D. If CWRU agrees to a restriction, is CWRU bound by that restriction?

Yes. When the individual requests a restriction and CWRU agrees to the individual's request, CWRU is bound by that restriction, with a few specified exceptions.

E. If CWRU agrees to a restriction, are other parties bound by that restriction?

Yes. If CWRU agrees to the restriction, CWRU's business associates must also be bound by the restriction. However, any downstream entities to whom PHI is subsequently disclosed would not be bound by the restriction. Although the rules encourage CWRU to disclose the existence of a restriction when appropriate to do so, CWRU is not required to disclose this information.

RIGHT TO ACCESS RECORDS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Is CWRU required to deny the individual access in the situations described in Sections I C and D of its policy on rights of access to PHI?

Even in situations where CWRU is permitted to deny the individual's request, CWRU may choose to provide the requested PHI to the individual. For each request by an individual, CWRU may provide all of the information requested or evaluate the requested information, consider the circumstances surrounding the individual's request, and make a determination as to whether the request should be granted or denied, in whole or in part, in accordance with one of the permitted bases for denial.

- B. If the individual requests a summary or agrees to a summary at CWRU's suggestion, do they still have the right to access the actual PHI?

Yes. Individuals have the right to obtain access both to summaries and the underlying information. An individual retains the right of access to the underlying information even if they request access to, or production of, a summary.

- C. May CWRU charge any fees related to individuals' requests for access?

CWRU may not charge any fees solely for retrieving or handling the information or for processing the individual's request. However, CWRU may charge a fee for copying, including supplies (paper or computer disk), labor and postage. CWRU may also charge a fee for preparing a summary or explanation of the information that an individual may request or accept.

- D. Is CWRU required to provide individuals access to information that was obtained or created prior to the compliance date of the rules?

Yes. Information created prior to the compliance date of the rules must be accessible by the individual. However, since CWRU is not required to maintain PHI in accordance with the rules until the compliance date of April 14, 2003, CWRU is not required to recreate any PHI that is destroyed prior to that date. Thus, if an individual requests access to PHI created prior to the compliance date, CWRU must provide access if it still maintains the information. If CWRU no longer maintains the information, it is not required to recreate it to comply with the individual's request.

REQUESTING AMENDMENTS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. If an individual's request for an amendment of PHI does not meet the requirements established by CWRU, is CWRU required to grant the request?

No. For example, if CWRU requires that a request for amendment be in writing and state a reason for the amendment and CWRU has informed individuals of these requirements, then CWRU is not required to act on an individual's request that does not meet these requirements. However, CWRU's privacy officer should inform the individual why no action is being taken and document why CWRU did not take action. The individual has the right to resubmit their request in compliance with CWRU's policy.

- B. Is CWRU required to delete information from the individual's records?

No, CWRU is never required to delete information from an individual's records. The Privacy and Security Rules do not attempt to alter record retention laws or CWRU's current practices. CWRU is only required to append information as requested to ensure that the individual's records are complete. If CWRU agrees that the information is erroneous and wants to delete it, and such a deletion is consistent with other laws and CWRU's practices, then CWRU may do so. However, CWRU's privacy officer may wish to seek legal review before information is deleted.

- C. Does the request for amendment requirement apply only to information held by CWRU?

No, the requirement for amendment applies to records maintained by or for CWRU. Relevant information in the possession of CWRU's business associates will also be covered by this requirement, and CWRU's business associates will be required to make any necessary amendments.

ACCOUNTING OF DISCLOSURES: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Do individuals have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures made by CWRU to its business associates?

Yes. Individuals have the right to request and receive an accounting of disclosures made by or to a business associate of CWRU, to the same extent they have a right to an accounting of disclosures made by CWRU.

- B. Can an individual request an accounting of disclosures for a period of less than six years?

Yes. An individual may request, and CWRU may then provide, an accounting of disclosures for a period of time less than six years from the date of the request. For example, an individual may request an accounting of disclosures that occurred during the two years prior to the request.

- C. Does CWRU have to make copies of requests for disclosures available with the accounting?

No. CWRU is, however, required to give a brief statement of the purpose of the disclosure with the accounting. The statement must reasonably inform the individual of the basis for the disclosure. In lieu of this statement of purpose, CWRU may include a copy of the relevant written request for disclosure.

PERSONNEL DESIGNATIONS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Can one person act as the privacy officer, information security officer and the contact person?

Yes. The contact person can be, but is not required to be, the privacy officer and/or the information security officer.

- B. How are the jobs of the privacy officer, information security officer and the contact person different?

The privacy officer is responsible for promulgating and overseeing compliance with CWRU's Privacy Policies and Procedures. The privacy officer also serves as a resource to the CWRU designated health care components and CWRU employees for matters related to application, implementation, and interpretation of and compliance with the Privacy Rule.

The information security officer is responsible for promulgating and overseeing compliance with CWRU's Information Security Policies and Procedures. The information security officer also serves as a resource to the CWRU designated health care components and CWRU employees for matters related to application, implementation, and interpretation of and compliance with the Security Rules.

The contact person interacts with persons whose PHI is maintained, used, and disclosed by CWRU. The contact person will handle inquiries from recipients of CWRU's notice of privacy and information security practices and receive complaints about CWRU's Policies and Procedures and/or compliance with the Privacy and Security Rules.

TRAINING; FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. Is CWRU required to impose privacy and security training requirements on its business associates?

No. CWRU is not responsible for monitoring whether or not its business associates have established privacy and security training programs for members of their workforce.

B. Does privacy and security training need to be conducted annually?

No. However, CWRU recognizes that for a privacy and security program to be effective, members of the workforce must receive education and training on a regular basis. CWRU will establish appropriate periodic training for workforce members

SAFEGUARDS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. What are reasonable precautions to safeguard PHI in patient files?

Patient files should be stored in secure areas if at all possible, otherwise in protective containers such as locked cabinets, locked drawers or locked files.

B. What types of precautions should be taken to safeguard PHI in verbal exchanges and conversations?

If possible, verbal exchanges regarding PHI should be conducted in reasonably private areas, and voices should be modulated to avoid unintended transmission to others. Minimum necessary requirements should be observed with respect to incidental uses or disclosures.

C. What types of precautions should be utilized to safeguard PHI on computer screens?

Computer screens should be positioned to limit unauthorized viewing of PHI. Some computer screens may need to be relocated to more private areas.

PATIENT COMPLAINTS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. Can an individual make an anonymous complaint about privacy issues to CWRU?

Yes. If an individual desires to make an anonymous complaint, CWRU should treat that complaint in the same manner as other complaints. Individuals may complete anonymous Complaint Forms or provide anonymous complaints over the telephone or by mail. To facilitate this option CWRU has implemented an Integrity Hotline, through which complaints or concerns may be submitted on an anonymous basis by phone at (866)483-9367 or online at <https://www.CWRUintegrityhotline.com/>. The Integrity Hotline allows filers of reports to monitor the university's response, as well as the status and resolution of the complaint, which is reviewed, documented, and resolved, and the resolution documented, in accordance with this policy.

B. Can a CWRU employee make a privacy complaint to CWRU?

Yes. The Privacy Rules allow any person to make a privacy complaint to CWRU regarding its privacy practices. Employees and other individuals who are not employers of CWRU have the right to file a complaint about CWRU's compliance with its Policies and Procedures and the Privacy Rules.

C. If an individual requests feedback about their complaint, is there a time period in which CWRU must respond?

No. Because the rules do not require CWRU to provide the individual with feedback but the resolution of their complaint, there is no specified time period for providing that information. If CWRU's privacy officer chooses to provide feedback to the individual, the privacy officer should decide on a time period for informing individuals about the resolution of their complaints, document this time period in a policy, and consistently apply the policy to all complaints.

INTERNAL ENFORCEMENT: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Do the Privacy and Security Rules require the CWRU Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) to be involved in the employee sanctions process?

No. The Privacy and Security Rules require only that CWRU have and apply appropriate sanctions against employees who fail to comply with the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's Policies and Procedures, and that CWRU document any sanctions that are applied. In practice, the Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) should consult with the Appropriate Administrative Officer in determining whether and how to sanction an employee for a Privacy and/or Security Violation.

- B. Do the Privacy and Security Rules provide specific penalties for any particular violations?

No. Employee sanctions may be based on factors such as the severity, frequency, degree of deviation from expectations, and length of time involved in any Privacy and/or Security Violations. However, the appropriate sanctions to impose are within the discretion of CWRU. Privacy and/or Security Violations may result in disciplinary action including, but not limited to: informal counseling, verbal warning, written warning, probation, suspension, demotion, dismissal or restitution.

- C. Will an employee be subject to sanctions for reporting a suspected violation of CWRU's Policies and Procedures?

No. In fact, all employees are strongly encouraged to report actual or suspected Privacy and/or security Violations to their supervisor or the CWRU Privacy and/or Security Officer(s). CWRU will not impose sanctions on any employee who in good faith reports a suspected Privacy and/or Security Violation simply because of such reporting.

- D. Do the Privacy and Security Rules require the CWRU Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) to be involved in the employee sanctions process?

No. The Privacy and Security Rules require only that CWRU have and apply appropriate sanctions against employees who fail to comply with the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's Policies and Procedures, and that CWRU document any sanctions that are applied. In practice, the Privacy and/or Security Officer(s) should consult with the Appropriate Administrative Officer in determining whether and how to sanction an employee for a Privacy and/or Security Violation.

- E. Do the Privacy and Security Rules provide specific penalties for any particular violations?

No. Employee sanctions may be based on factors such as the severity, frequency, degree of deviation from expectations, and length of time involved in any Privacy and/or Security Violations. However, the appropriate sanctions to impose are within the discretion of CWRU. Privacy and/or Security Violations may result in disciplinary action including, but not limited to: informal counseling, verbal warning, written warning, probation, suspension, demotion, dismissal or restitution.

F. Will an employee be subject to sanctions for reporting a suspected violation of CWRU's Policies and Procedures?

No. In fact, all employees are strongly encouraged to report actual or suspected Privacy and/or security Violations to their supervisor or the CWRU Privacy and/or Security Officer(s). CWRU will not impose sanctions on any employee who in good faith reports a suspected Privacy and/or Security Violation simply because of such reporting.

MITIGATION: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Must CWRU always take action in the event of an improper use or disclosure of protected health information?

No. CWRU must only take steps in mitigation of harmful effects of an improper use or disclosure that are known to CWRU.

- B. Must CWRU fully mitigate any harmful effects that are known to it on account of an improper use or disclosure of PHI?

CWRU is required to mitigate harmful effects to the extent practicable. CWRU is not required to eliminate harms unless it is practicable to do so.

- C. Does the duty to mitigate harmful effects apply to a violation of CWRU'S Policies and Procedures as well as to a violation of the Privacy and Security Rules?

Yes. Harmful effects that are known to CWRU that arise from either a violation of the Privacy and Security Rules or CWRU's Policies and Procedures must be mitigated to the extent practicable.

INTIMIDATING AND RETALIATORY ACTS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. What is an example of conduct that might be considered to be in violation of this policy?

An example of conduct that would violate this policy is threatening to not provide treatment to an individual because the individual made a complaint to CWRU's privacy officer about a failure to comply with the Privacy Rules.

B. Is refusing to provide we item or services to an individual because of a refusal by the individual to pay for such item or services wrongful?

No, so long as the refusal has nothing do with any exercise of privacy rights by the individual. A refusal to provide services because an individual refuses to pay is not considered a retaliatory, threatening or intimidating act for purposes of the Privacy Rules.

WAIVER: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. To what types of individual rights under the Privacy Rules does the prohibition against waivers of rights apply?

Individuals have a number of specific rights under the Privacy Rules. These include the right to request additional privacy protections, confidential communications and amendments of PHI, the right to access their PHI and the right to an accounting of disclosures of their PHI. It is impermissible to require a patient to waive her or his right to exercise any of these rights or to file a complaint about CWRU's compliance with the Privacy Rules.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATES: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. Are all companies or entities with which CWRU does business considered business associates?

No. The business associate relationship does not describe all relationships between CWRU and other persons or organizations. Business associate contracts are only required for those CWRUs in which CWRU is disclosing PHI to a person or organization that will use the PHI on behalf of CWRU (as if it were standing in the shoes of CWRU), when the other person or organization will be creating or obtaining PHI on behalf of CWRU, or when the business associate is providing specified services to or for CWRU and the provision of those services involves the disclosure of PHI by CWRU to the business associate (e.g., legal advice and accounting services).

- B. Is CWRU required to enter into business associate agreements with entities such as couriers, janitorial services or financial institutions?

No. CWRU is not required to enter into a business associate contract with a person or organization that acts merely as a conduit for PHI (e.g., the US Postal Service or private couriers). A conduit transports information but does not access it other than on a random or infrequent basis as may be necessary for the performance of the transportation service or as required by law. Because CWRU does not intend for any disclosure of PHI to occur and the probability of exposure of any particular PHI to a conduit is very small, conduits are not considered business associates of CWRU.

CWRU need not enter into a business associate contract with a person or entity who has only incidental or minimal contact with PHI. For example, a business associate contract is not required between CWRU and a janitorial service, despite the fact that the service's janitor may accidentally see PHI while cleaning CWRU's facilities.

Banks and other financial institutions are not considered to be acting on behalf of CWRU. Therefore, no business associate contract is required when CWRU processes consumer financial transactions by debit, credit, or other payment card, clears checks, initiates or processes electronic funds transfers, or conducts any other activity that directly facilitates or transfers funds for payment to CWRU.

- C. Is CWRU required to enter into business associate agreements with individuals' insurance companies or health plans?

No. CWRU is not required to enter into a business associate contract with an insurance company or health plan. Although it is possible for CWRU to be both a covered entity and a business associate to another covered entity under certain circumstances, this is not one of those situations. When the insurance company discloses PHI to CWRU to allow CWRU to determine the individual's insurance coverage and submit a payment claim, CWRU is not providing a service to, or on behalf of the insurance company. CWRU is simply following the procedures necessary to obtain payment for services provided to the individual. Similarly, the insurance company is not considered a business associate of CWRU when CWRU discloses PHI to the insurance company for payment purposes.

DOCUMENTATION: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- A. What types of records are subject to the documentation requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules and CWRU: Policies and Procedures?

Two examples of records that must be retained under the documentation requirements of the Privacy and Security Rules and the Policies and Procedures are: (1) the designation of the HIPAA Privacy and Security Officers and contact person for CWRU, and (2) the designated health care components of CWRU.

- B. Who is responsible for maintaining the documentation required by the Privacy and Security Rules and the Policies and Procedures?

CWRU's Policies and Procedures require the CWRU Privacy and Security Officers to maintain the required documentation.

- C. How long must the required documentation be retained under the Privacy and Security Rules and the Policies and Procedures?

The required documentation must be retained for six (6) years from the date of its creation or the date when it was last in effect, whichever is later.

FORM OF NOTICE -- GENERAL

CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY
NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

Effective Date: April 14, 2003

THIS NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

This Notice will tell you about the ways in which CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY ("CASE") protects, uses and discloses your protected health information ("PHI"). This Notice also describes your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of PHI. If you have any questions about this Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice"), please contact CASE's Privacy Officer, at CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY, 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44106.

PHI means any information, transmitted or maintained in any form or medium, which CASE creates or receives that relates to your physical or mental health, the delivery of health care services to you or payment for health care services and that identifies you or could be used to identify you. We maintain your PHI in a record we create of the services and items you receive from CASE. This Notice applies to all of those records created, received or maintained by CASE.

We are required by law to: make sure that PHI is kept private; give you this Notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your PHI; and comply with the currently effective terms of this Notice.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PHI ABOUT YOU

The following paragraphs describe different ways that we use and disclose PHI.

Use for Treatment, Payment, or Health Care Operations

We are permitted to use and disclose your PHI (1) to provide treatment to you, (2) to be paid or request payment for our services, and (3) to conduct health care operations. This section of this Notice discusses each of these types of uses and disclosures of PHI.

- For Treatment. We may use PHI about you to provide you with health care treatment or services. For example, we may use your PHI when performing dental procedures. We may disclose PHI about you to CASE personnel, as well as to doctors, nurses, hospitals, clinics, or other health care providers who are involved in your care. For example, a doctor treating you for a medical condition may need to know the medications which have been prescribed for you, or the services and items that have been provided to you. CASE may also share PHI about you in order to coordinate health care services and items that you may need.
- For Payment. We may use and disclose PHI about you so that the services and items that you receive from CASE may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company, or a third party payor. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about the services or items that you received so that your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the services or items.
- For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose PHI about you for health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to make sure you receive quality care. For example, we may use PHI to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in providing services to you. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, hospitals, clinics, and other health care providers, for review and learning purposes. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of PHI so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning the names of the specific individuals.

Other Uses and Disclosures of PHI

Listed below are a number of other ways that CASE is permitted or required to use or disclose PHI. This list is not exhaustive.

Therefore, not every use or disclosure in a category is listed.

- Appointment Reminders. We may use and disclose protected health information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment with us.

HIPAA POLICIES

- Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care. We may release PHI about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care. We may share PHI about you with family members or friends who accompany you to the Dental Clinic. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care. In addition, we may disclose PHI about you to a person or entity assisting in an emergency so that your family can be notified about your condition, status and location.
- As Required By Law. We will disclose PHI about you when required to do so by federal, state, or local law.
- Public Health Risks. We may disclose PHI about you for public health activities, including to prevent or control disease or, when required by law, to notify public authorities concerning cases of abuse or neglect.
- Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose PHI to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure.
- Lawsuits and Disputes. If you are involved in a lawsuit or dispute, we may disclose PHI about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose PHI about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.
- Law Enforcement. We may release PHI if asked to do so by a law enforcement official as permitted by law.
- Coroners and Medical Examiners. We may release PHI to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death.
- Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose PHI about you for research purposes. For example, we might disclose PHI to be used in a research project involving the effectiveness of certain dental procedures. In some cases, we might disclose PHI for research purposes without your knowledge or approval. However, such disclosures will be made only if approved through a special process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of PHI, trying to balance the research needs with an individual's need for privacy of their PHI.
- To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose PHI about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person.
- Military and Veterans. If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release PHI about you as required by military command authorities.
- Health-Related Benefits and Services. We may use and disclose PHI to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.
- Workers' Compensation. We may release PHI about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.
- Fundraising. We may disclose PHI about you for fundraising purposes. Any such disclosure of PHI will be limited in scope and disclosed only to our business associates or to a charitable organization which is obligated to act for the benefit of CASE. If you do not want CASE to contact you about fundraising, you must notify the CASE Privacy Officer in writing. Further information about disclosures for fundraising purposes may be found in CASE's Policies and Procedures, "Fundraising."

Other uses and disclosures will be made only upon your written authorization. You also have the right to revoke such authorization, in writing, except where we have previously taken action in reliance on your prior authorization or if the authorization was a condition to obtaining insurance or health plan coverage and applicable law provides the insurer or health plan with the right to contest a claim under the policy.

Certain provisions of Ohio law may now, or in the future, impose greater restrictions on uses and/or disclosures of PHI or otherwise be more stringent than federal rules protecting the privacy of PHI. If such provisions of Ohio law apply to a use or disclosure of PHI or under other circumstances described in this Notice, CASE must comply with those provisions.

When required to do, the Plan will disclose only the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of a use, disclosure or request for PHI.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING PHI

You have the following rights with respect to your PHI:

- Right to Inspect and Copy. You have the right to inspect and copy your PHI maintained by CASE. Generally, this information includes health care and billing records. You do not have a right of access to (1) psychotherapy notes; (2) information prepared in anticipation of or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action; and (3) PHI maintained by CASE that is (a) subject to the Clinical Laboratory Improvements Amendments ("CLIA") of 1988, 42 U.S.C. 263a, if access to the individual would be prohibited by law, or

HIPAA POLICIES

(b) exempt from CLIA pursuant to 42 CFR 493.3(a)(2). Under certain circumstances, you also do not have a right of access to information created or obtained in the course of research involving treatment or received from someone other than a health care provider under a promise of confidentiality.

To inspect and copy PHI maintained by CASE, you must submit your request in writing to CASE's Privacy Officer. We may charge a fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with your request. We may deny your request to inspect and copy your PHI for the reasons set forth above or under certain other limited circumstances. If you are denied access to PHI other than for a reason stated above, you will receive a written denial. You may request that the denial be reviewed. Thereafter, a licensed health care provider chosen by CASE will review your request and the denial. The person conducting the review will not be the person who originally denied your request. We will comply with the outcome of the review.

- Right to Request Amendment. You may ask us to amend the PHI we have about you. You have the right to request an amendment for so long as the information is kept by or for CASE. To request an amendment to your PHI, your request must be made in writing and submitted to CASE's Privacy Officer. In addition, you must provide a reason that supports your request. We will generally make a decision regarding your request for amendment no later than 60 days after receipt of your request. However, if we are unable to act on the request within this time, we may extend the time for 30 more days but we will provide you with a written notice of the reason for the delay and the approximate time for completion. If we deny your requested amendment, we will provide you with a written denial.

We have the right to deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. We are not required to agree to your request if you ask us to amend PHI that: was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to make the amendment; is not part of the PHI kept by or for CASE; is not part of the PHI which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or is already accurate and complete.

- Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request an "accounting of disclosures." This is a list of certain disclosures of PHI we have made about you. We do not have to list certain disclosures such as those made for the purposes of treatment, payment, or healthcare operations, pursuant to a prior authorization by you or for certain law enforcement purposes.

To request this list or accounting of such disclosures, your request must be submitted in writing to CASE's Privacy Officer. Your request must also state a time period, which may not be longer than six (6) years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003. Your request should also specify the format of the list you prefer (i.e. on paper or electronically). The first list you request within a twelve (12) month period will be free. For additional lists, we may charge you for the costs of providing the list. We will notify you of the costs involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

- Right to Request Restriction of Uses and Disclosures. You have the right to request that we restrict the uses and disclosures of PHI about you to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations and/or to individuals involved in your care. We cannot restrict disclosures required by law or requested by the federal government to determine if we are meeting our privacy protection obligations. We are not required to agree to your request; however, if we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you emergency health care treatment. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to CASE's Privacy Officer. Your request must specify (1) what PHI you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply (i.e., disclosures to your spouse). We may terminate our agreement to the restriction if you orally agree to the termination and it is documented, you request the termination in writing, or we inform you that we are terminating our agreement with respect to any information created or received after receipt of our notice.

- Right to Request Confidential Communications. You also have the right to request that we communicate with you about health care matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail. To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to CASE's Privacy Officer. We will not ask you the reason for your request. We will accommodate all reasonable requests. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

- Right to Receive Notice Electronically. You have the right to a paper copy of this Notice. You may ask us to give you a copy of this Notice at any time. Even if you have agreed to receive this Notice electronically, you are still entitled to a paper copy of this Notice. To obtain a paper copy of this notice, please write to or call CASE's Privacy Officer.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE

We reserve the right to change our privacy practices that are described in this Notice. We reserve the right to make the revised or changed privacy practices applicable to PHI we already have about you as well as any information we receive in the future. A copy of our current notice will be posted at CASE. Prior to a material change to the uses or disclosures, your rights, our legal duties, or other privacy practices stated in this Notice, we will promptly revise the Notice. The Notice will contain the effective date on the first page.

COMPLAINTS

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with CASE or with the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services. To file a complaint with CASE, write to CASE's Privacy Officer. All complaints must be in writing. You will not be penalized or retaliated against for filing a complaint.

OTHER USES OF PHI

Other uses and disclosures of PHI not covered by this Notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written authorization. If you provide us permission to use or disclose PHI about you, you may revoke that authorization, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose PHI about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to retract any disclosures we have already made with your authorization, and that we are required to retain our records of the care that we provided to you.

CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY
EMPLOYEE WELFARE BENEFIT PLANS
NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

Effective Date: April 14, 2003

THIS NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

This Notice will tell you about the ways in which the CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY employee welfare benefit plans (collectively, the “Plan”) protect, use and disclose your protected health information (“PHI”). This Notice also describes your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of PHI. If you have any questions about this Notice of Privacy Practices (“Notice”), please contact CASE’s Privacy Officer, at CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY, 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44106.

PHI means any information, transmitted or maintained in any form or medium, which the Plan creates or receives that relates to your physical or mental health, the delivery of health care services to you or payment for health care services and that identifies you or could be used to identify you. We maintain your PHI in records we create of claims submitted to or payments made by the Plan and related information. This Notice applies to all of those records created, received or maintained by the Plan.

We are required by law to: make sure that PHI is kept private; give you this Notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your PHI; and comply with the currently effective terms of this Notice.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PHI ABOUT YOU

The following paragraphs describe different ways that we use and disclose PHI.

Use for Treatment, Payment, or Health Care Operations

We are permitted to use and disclose your PHI (1) to provide treatment to you, (2) to be paid or request payment for our services, and (3) to conduct health care operations. This section of this Notice discusses each of these types of uses and disclosures of PHI.

- For Treatment. We may use PHI about you in connection with health care treatment or services. We may disclose PHI to doctors, nurses, hospitals, clinics, or other health care providers who are involved in your care. For example, a doctor treating you for a medical condition may need to know the medications which have been prescribed for you, or the services and items that have been provided to you. We may also share PHI about you in order to coordinate health care services and items that you may need.
- For Payment. We may use and disclose PHI about to process payments for the services and items that you receive from health care providers. For example, we may need to share your health information with a provider to verify the delivery of services or items that you received so that the Plan can pay the provider or reimburse you for the services or items.
- For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose PHI about you for health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to make sure you receive quality care. For example, we may use PHI to review treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of providers. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, hospitals, clinics, and other health care providers, for review and learning purposes. We may remove information that identifies you from PHI used for such purposes so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning the names of the specific individuals.

Other Uses and Disclosures of PHI

Listed below are a number of other ways that the Plan is permitted or required to use or disclose PHI. This list is not exhaustive. Therefore, not every use or disclosure in a category is listed.

HIPAA POLICIES

When required to do, the Plan will disclose only the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of a use, disclosure or request for PHI.

MORE STRINGENT LAWS

Certain provisions of Ohio law may now, or in the future, impose greater restrictions on uses and/or disclosures of PHI or otherwise be more stringent than federal rules protecting the privacy of PHI. If such provisions of Ohio law apply to a use or disclosure of PHI or under other circumstances described in this Notice, CASE must comply with those provisions.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING PHI

You have the following rights with respect to your PHI:

HIPAA POLICIES

- Right to Inspect and Copy. You have the right to inspect and copy your PHI maintained by the Plan. Generally, this information includes health care and billing records. You do not have a right of access to (1) psychotherapy notes; (2) information prepared in anticipation of or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action; and (3) PHI maintained by the Plan that is (a) subject to the Clinical Laboratory Improvements Amendments (“CLIA”) of 1988, 42 U.S.C. 263a, if access to the individual would be prohibited by law, or (b) exempt from CLIA pursuant to 42 CFR 493.3(a)(2). Under certain circumstances, you also do not have a right of access to information created or obtained in the course of research involving treatment or received from someone other than a health care provider under a promise of confidentiality.

To inspect and copy PHI maintained by the Plan, you must submit your request in writing to CASE’s Privacy Officer. We may charge a fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with your request. We may deny your request to inspect and copy your PHI for the reasons set forth above or under certain other limited circumstances. If you are denied access to PHI other than for a reason stated above, you will receive a written denial. You may request that the denial be reviewed. Thereafter, a licensed health care provider chosen by CASE will review your request and the denial. The person conducting the review will not be the person who originally denied your request. We will comply with the outcome of the review.

- Right to Request Amendment. You may ask us to amend the PHI we have about you. You have the right to request an amendment for so long as the information is kept by or for the Plan. To request an amendment to your PHI, your request must be made in writing and submitted to CASE’s Privacy Officer. In addition, you must provide a reason that supports your request. We will generally make a decision regarding your request for amendment no later than 60 days after receipt of your request. However, if we are unable to act on the request within this time, we may extend the time for 30 more days but we will provide you with a written notice of the reason for the delay and the approximate time for completion. If we deny your requested amendment, we will provide you with a written denial.

We have the right to deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. We are not required to agree to your request if you ask us to amend PHI that: was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to make the amendment; is not part of the PHI kept by or for the Plan; is not part of the PHI which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or is already accurate and complete.

- Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request an “accounting of disclosures.” This is a list of certain disclosures of PHI we have made about you. We do not have to list certain disclosures such as those made for the purposes of treatment, payment, or healthcare operations, pursuant to a prior authorization by you or for certain law enforcement purposes.

To request this list or accounting of such disclosures, your request must be submitted in writing to CASE’s Privacy Officer. Your request must also state a time period, which may not be longer than six (6) years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003. Your request should also specify the format of the list you prefer (i.e. on paper or electronically). The first list you request within a twelve (12) month period will be free. For additional lists, we may charge you for the costs of providing the list. We will notify you of the costs involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

- Right to Request Restriction of Uses and Disclosures. You have the right to request that we restrict the uses and disclosures of PHI about you to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations and/or to individuals involved in your care. We cannot restrict disclosures required by law or requested by the federal government to determine if we are meeting our privacy protection obligations. We are not required to agree to your request; however, if we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you emergency health care treatment. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to CASE’s Privacy Officer. Your request must specify (1) what PHI you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply (i.e., disclosures to your spouse). We may terminate our agreement to the restriction if you orally agree to the termination and it is documented, you request the termination in writing, or we inform you that we are terminating our agreement with respect to any information created or received after receipt of our notice.

- Right to Request Confidential Communications. You also have the right to request that we communicate with you about health care matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail. To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to CASE’s Privacy Officer. We will not ask you the reason for your request. We will accommodate all reasonable requests. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

- Right to Receive Notice Electronically. You have the right to a paper copy of this Notice. You may ask us to give you a copy of this Notice at any time. Even if you have agreed to receive this Notice electronically, you are still entitled to a paper copy of this Notice. To obtain a paper copy of this notice, please write to or call CASE’s Privacy Officer.

To file a complaint with CASE, write to CASE's Privacy Officer. All complaints must be in writing. You will not be penalized or retaliated against for filing a complaint.

OTHER USES OF PHI

Other uses and disclosures of PHI not covered by this Notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written authorization. If you provide us permission to use or disclose PHI about you, you may revoke that authorization, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose PHI about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to retract any disclosures we have already made with your authorization, and that we are required to retain records of the Plan relating to claims, coordination of benefits, payments by the Plan and related matters.

If access to requested information has been denied for any of the last three reasons listed above, you have the right to have the denial reviewed by another licensed healthcare professional who did not participate in this denial. If you choose to have this denial reviewed, please submit a written request to CASE's Privacy Officer at CASE, 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44106.

CASE's Privacy Officer will respond with a written decision within a reasonable period of time whether or not to ultimately grant or deny access to your PHI as originally requested. A GUIDE FOR THE PRIVACY OFFICER TO IDENTIFY BUSINESS ASSOCIATES

¹ However, PHI disclosed by one provider to another provider for treatment purposes is not a business associate relationship.

Stop. The Party Is a Business Associate

BUSINESS ASSOCIATE AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT is made by and between CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY (“CASE”) and _____ (“Business Associate”). The purpose of this Agreement is to comply with the privacy standards of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 and the applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (collectively referred to as “HIPAA”) as those standards and regulations pertain to business associate relationships.

I. OBLIGATIONS OF BUSINESS ASSOCIATE

Section 1.1 Use and Disclosure of Protected Health Information. For the purposes of compliance with HIPAA, Business Associate’s relationship with CASE shall be considered that of “Business Associate.” As used hereunder, the terms “Business Associate”, “Protected Health Information”, “use” and “disclosure” shall have the meanings ascribed to them in 45 CFR Sections 160.103, 164.501 and 164.504.

Business Associate agrees to conduct its business with CASE in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations, including HIPAA. Business Associate further agrees to comply with all policies and procedures adopted by CASE related to use and disclosure of Protected Health Information.

Disclosure by CASE to Business Associate of any Protected Health Information will be made for the sole purpose of helping CASE carry out its healthcare functions and to allow Business Associate to complete its contractual obligations to CASE. Protected Health Information will not be used or disclosed by Business Associate other than as permitted by this Agreement or applicable law. Business Associate may not use any Protected Health Information for any of its purposes or activities not related to this Agreement. Business Associate represents and warrants that it will use Protected Health Information only to complete its obligations pursuant to this Agreement, and as may otherwise be required by law.

Section 1.2 Safeguards Against Misuse of Information. Business Associate covenants, represents and warrants that it will safeguard and protect all Protected Health Information from use and/or disclosure other than as provided by this Agreement, and that upon Business Associate’s learning of any misuse or improper disclosure of Protected Health Information, Business Associate will take immediate steps to stop such impermissible use or disclosure and to prevent further dissemination or misuse of such Protected Health Information.

Section 1.3 Reporting of Disclosures of Protected Health Information. Business Associate further represents and warrants that it will immediately report to CASE and/or its Privacy Officer any use or disclosure of Protected Health Information not provided for by this Agreement of which Business Associate becomes aware.

HIPAA POLICIES

Section 1.4 Agreements by Third Parties. Business Associate covenants, represents and warrants that it will cause its agents, including any subcontractor(s) to whom it may provide Protected Health Information received from, or received or created by Business Associate on behalf of CASE, to agree to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to Business Associate with respect to such Protected Health Information. Business Associate further agrees it will incorporate in any and all agreement(s) with subcontractor(s) to whom it discloses PHI subject to and/or protected by this Agreement a provision naming CASE as an intended third party beneficiary with respect to the enforcement of, and right to benefit from, the subcontractor's covenants regarding the use and disclosure of Protected Health Information.

Section 1.5 Access to Information. Business Associate agrees to make available Protected Health Information within ten (10) days of a request by CASE. If any individual requests access to Protected Health Information directly from Business Associate, Business Associate shall provide information concerning such request to CASE. Any denials of access to the Protected Health Information shall be decided solely by CASE.

Section 1.6 Availability of Books and Records. Business Associate agrees to make its internal practices, books, and records relating to the use and disclosure of Protected Health Information available to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services for purposes of determining CASE's compliance with HIPAA.

Section 1.7 Availability of Protected Health Information for Amendment. Business Associate agrees to provide to CASE an individual's Protected Health Information for amendment within ten (10) days of a receipt of a request from CASE. Within ten (10) days of receipt of notice by Business Associate from CASE that CASE has received a request for an Accounting, Business Associate agrees to make available to CASE any information in Business Associate's possession that is required for CASE to make the Accounting in accordance with the requirements of 45 C.F.R. §164.528, provided that Business Associate need not provide information about disclosures of Protected Health Information: related to treatment, payment, or health care operations: made to the individual who is the subject of the relevant PHI or pursuant to an authorization from such individual; or made earlier than six (6) years prior to the date on which the Accounting was requested. If any individual requests an Accounting directly from Business Associate, Business Associate shall, within three (3) days of receipt of such request, forward the request to CASE.

Section 2.2 Termination for Cause. Upon CASE acquiring knowledge of a material breach of this Agreement by Business Associate, CASE shall either:

- (a) give notice to Business Associate and provide an opportunity for Business Associate to cure the breach or end the violation, and terminate this Agreement [and any other related agreement(s) with Business Associate (which such other agreement(s) shall hereby be amended to be consistent with this termination provision of this Agreement)] if Business Associate does not cure the breach or end the violation within the time specified by CASE;
- (b) immediately terminate this Agreement [and any other related agreement(s) with Business Associate (which such other agreement(s) shall hereby be amended to be consistent with this termination provision of this Agreement)] if Business Associate has breached a material term of this Agreement and cure is not possible or CASE deems, in its total discretion, that such termination is necessary; or
- (c) if neither termination nor cure are feasible, CASE shall report the violation to the Secretary.

Section 2.3 Return/Destruction of Protected Health Information. Business Associate agrees that upon termination of this Agreement, Business Associate shall return or destroy all Protected Health Information received from, or received or created by Business Associate on behalf of CASE, and Business Associate agrees that it will not maintain copies of such Protected Health Information in any form, except as might otherwise be required and/or permitted by applicable law, in which event, Business Associate shall continue to protect the confidentiality of any such Protected Health Information in a manner consistent with this Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement regarding uses and disclosures of Protected Health Information shall continue beyond termination of this Agreement.

Section 2.4 Right to Cure. At the expense of Business Associate, CASE shall have the right to cure any breach of Business Associate's obligations under this Agreement. Business Associate agrees to cooperate and comply with the efforts by CASE to cure any such breach.

III. MISCELLANEOUS

Section 3.1 Effect. This Agreement, including all exhibits or other attachments thereto, constitutes the final, complete and exclusive understanding between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes any prior or contemporaneous agreement.

HIPAA POLICIES

Section 3.2 Amendment. No modification, amendment, or waiver of any provision of this Agreement will be effective unless in writing and signed by the party to be charged. Business Associate and CASE agree to amend this Agreement to the extent necessary to permit either party to comply with the Privacy Standards (the "Standards"). Business Associate agrees to comply with all such Standards and amend this Agreement to incorporate any material required by the Standards.

Section 3.3 Indemnification. Business Associate hereby agrees to indemnify and hold CASE harmless from and against all liability and costs, including attorneys' fees, created by a breach of this Agreement by Business Associate, its agents and subcontractors.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, CASE and Business Associate have executed this Agreement as of _____, 200__.
