

CWRU DIGITAL SKILLS BOOT CAMPS Now Being Offered in Remote Learning Format

Addressing student needs, and government regulations, we're offering the Case Western Reserve University Digital Skills Boot Camp in a remote online synchronous (in-real-time) format.

CWRU Boot Camp students will experience the same skilled instruction and market-driven curriculum as they would with our in-person classes. Course instruction is focused on the most up-to-date tools and technologies that meet the demands of employers.

Any organization resituating for the next business cycle will be seeking skilled full-stack coders, data analysts, and cybersecurity specialists. Your certificate from Case Western Reserve University will validate your qualifications.

If you're ready to take on the challenge, we're ready to help you prepare for the next phase of your career. Learn more about the CWRU Boot Camp program's focus on C19.
