

Summary of Resolution Agreement between
The United States of America and
Case Western Reserve University

Overview

Under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (“Title IX”), students, faculty, and staff alike are entitled to an educational environment free of discrimination on the basis of sex. Sex discrimination refers to sex-based harassment (including sexual violence—rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual abuse, and sexual coercion), sex-based stalking, gender-based harassment, and retaliation for filing a Title IX complaint or otherwise participating in a Title IX investigation or adjudication.

In February 2021, the Educational Opportunities Section of the U.S. Department of Justice’s Civil Rights Division in coordination with the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Northern District of Ohio (collectively, the Department or United States) initiated a Title IX compliance review of Case Western Reserve University, looking at CWRU’s response to reports of student-on-student and employee-on-student sexual harassment and to allegations indicating a climate of sexual harassment in CWRU’s Greek Life program. The Department’s investigation concluded that CWRU did not comply with Title IX and its regulations in several respects, including the University’s response to known student-on-student and employee-on-student sexual harassment and to a well-known climate of sexual harassment in its Greek Life program.

During the course of the investigation, CWRU fully cooperated and worked in good faith with the Department. Rather than the Department conducting further investigation or the parties addressing these disputed issues through litigation, CWRU and the United States have entered into a Resolution Agreement (Agreement) to resolve the Department’s compliance concerns. The Agreement does not constitute an admission by the University as to any noncompliance with Title IX.

This Summary provides an overview of the Agreement, which can be found in its entirety on the Department’s website. The objective of this Summary is to provide transparency to the CWRU community about the United States and CWRU’s shared goal of ensuring Title IX compliance and to help students and the greater CWRU community understand their rights under Title IX.

Section 2: Reporting Structure and Resources

CWRU will:

- Commit to providing funding to the Flora Stone Mather Center for Women, the Greek Life Office, and University Health and Counseling Services sufficient to recruit, hire, and retain additional qualified advocates, confidential resources, and counselors, as needed, to support those impacted by sex discrimination.
- Reorganize its reporting structure to remove the Office of Equity from the purview of the Office of General Counsel.

- Ensure the Title IX Coordinator has independent authority to implement consistent processes for addressing and responding appropriately to reports of sex discrimination.
- Designate a Deputy Title IX Coordinator with responsibility for implementing and monitoring supportive measures, with oversight from the Title IX Coordinator.

Section 3: Policies, Procedures, and Protocols

CWRU policies and procedures will:

- Clarify what conduct constitutes prohibited sex discrimination
 - List reporting options
 - Eliminate the appearance of bias or conflict in handling complaints
 - Bar CWRU from deviating from its published grievance procedures
 - Prohibit CWRU from inserting language that protects the University's legal interests in agreements between students
- Ensure a prompt and equitable response to all reports of alleged sex discrimination
 - Increase communication with students following a report and throughout the grievance process
 - Require that all mandatory reporters report sexual harassment to the Title IX Coordinator within one working day
 - Identify and address trends in reports of sexual harassment (where, when, and how often they occur) and assess whether supportive measures are working to keep students safe and in class.

Section 4: Informational Materials

- CWRU will design and distribute plain language informational materials that summarize relevant policies and procedures, including:
 - How to contact and find the Office of Equity
 - How to access on-campus and off-campus resources and services
 - Reporting pathways for sex discrimination
 - A description of supportive measures
- CWRU will also:
 - Develop a multi-year campaign to elevate awareness of the Office of Equity across campus, using various platforms and mediums
 - Update key CWRU webpages to improve access to information for students and employees
 - Post status updates about steps the University has taken to comply with the Agreement

Section 5: Greek Life

- CWRU's Greek Life Office will work with its Governing Councils to develop programming and education for its fraternities and sororities
- CWRU will:
 - Distribute targeted digital materials to all members of the Greek Life community annually and post printed materials in all on-campus fraternity and sorority houses
 - Establish internal operating protocols for investigating reports of a hostile climate based on sex within fraternities and sororities
 - Devise and disseminate procedures for fraternities and sororities to address potential overlap between chapter misconduct and sex discrimination allegations, and to prohibit retaliation against students for engaging in the Title IX grievance process
- The Title IX Coordinator and Director of the Greek Life Office will work together to foster coordination and discuss trends, climate, supportive measures, and student resources in quarterly meetings

Section 6: Training

- CWRU will develop interactive and engaging training for all students and employees, including specialized training for Greek Life students
- Students must complete annual training
 - Spring 2024
 - Fall 2024
 - Fall 2025

- In this training, students will learn:
 - What constitutes sex discrimination
 - CWRU's policies and procedures on reporting, investigation, and resolution of Title IX complaints
 - How to report allegations of sex discrimination to the Title IX Coordinator
 - Their rights under Title IX
 - Consent in sexual interactions, including the role of alcohol and drug use
 - A variety of bystander intervention strategies

Section 7: Campus Engagement

CWRU will:

- Conduct campus-wide surveys to assess the prevalence of sexual misconduct and students' knowledge about resources and reporting options
- Host focus group meetings with Greek Life students each spring semester for the duration of the Agreement
- Create a proposal and implement a plan to increase student confidence in the Office of Equity and positive engagement with student leaders
- Host townhall events for students and student groups each spring semester to present updates on CWRU's work to address sex discrimination on campus and to hear from students about their experiences

Sections 8 & 9: Internal Monitoring and Reporting Requirements

- The Office of Equity will review its case files each semester to assess for deficiencies or failures in:
 - Recordkeeping practices
 - Communications with parties
 - Reporting by mandatory reporters
 - Delays in the prompt resolution of complaints alleging sex discrimination
 - The Office of Equity will also analyze its open and recently closed case files each semester to identify any trends

- CWRU will report to the Department:
 - Documentation of all reports of sexual harassment and retaliation, and CWRU's response to such reports
 - Analysis of patterns of sexual harassment and retaliation, including trends involving Greek Life
 - Documentation of trainings, surveys, and focus groups
 - Complaints, concerns, and recommendations
 - Any new programs or activities aimed at improving CWRU's sexual harassment prevention and response

Sections 10 & 11: Enforcement and Terms & Termination

- CWRU will work with the Department to respond to the Department's feedback on proposed policies, protocols, procedures, and trainings
- The Department will monitor CWRU's compliance by conducting on-site meetings with students, employees, and CWRU leadership; observing trainings; requesting additional documents from CWRU; and reviewing and responding to community emails
- The Agreement:
 - Is binding upon CWRU, its principals, administrators, representatives, and legal representatives
 - Will be in effect through the 2025-2026 academic year
 - Does not bar any person from pursuing a complaint under Title IX against CWRU
