

CASE WESTERN RESERVE
UNIVERSITY

ThinkForum

In Partnership with The Millis Lecture

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 2025

Kevin Roose

Award-winning technology columnist for
The New York Times

*Preparing You for a World
Dominated by Technology and AI*

Program

University Welcome

Eric W. Kaler

President, Case Western Reserve University

Speaker Introduction

Venkataramanan “Ragu” Balakrishnan

Dean, Case School of Engineering

Lecture

Kevin Roose

Award-winning technology columnist
for The New York Times

Question and Answer Session

Venkataramanan “Ragu” Balakrishnan

Dean, Case School of Engineering

Immediately following the lecture, please join us in the PNC Lobby for a book signing with Kevin Roose.

Futureproof 9 Rules for Surviving in the Age of AI Kevin Roose

With a new afterword by the author

"A concise, insightful and sophisticated guide to maintaining humane values in an age of new machines."
—The New York Times

Kevin Roose is an award-winning technology columnist for The New York Times and the bestselling author of three books: Futureproof, a guide to surviving the technological future; Young Money; and The Unlikely Disciple. His column, The Shift, examines the intersection of tech, business and culture.

Roose is the host of two New York Times podcasts: Hard Fork, a weekly chat show with Casey Newton about the wild frontier of technology, and Rabbit Hole, an eight-part series released in 2020 about how the internet is influencing our beliefs and behavior.

He is a recurring guest on The Daily podcast and appears regularly on leading TV and radio shows. Roose writes frequently on topics including automation and artificial intelligence, social media, disinformation and cybersecurity, and digital wellness.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Thursday, May 22, 2025

Think Forum featuring Hua Hsu

Pulitzer Prize-winning author of Stay True and staff writer for The New Yorker

Maltz Performing Arts Center

For details on this event and more, visit case.edu/events or call 216.368.2229.

CWRU PAGE
TURNERS

All alumni, parents and friends are invited to join Page Turners, a virtual book discussion organized by The Alumni Association of CWRU in partnership with our signature lecture series, Think Forum.

This series will discuss the works of our distinguished Think Forum lecturers.

For more information, please visit case.edu/alumni/pageturners or email alumnirelations@case.edu.

Since the founding in 1826 of Western Reserve College, the creation of Case School of Applied Science in 1880, and the federation of the two in 1967, Case Western Reserve University has been known for its commitment to innovation in education and research. Now, the university marks its bicentennial—celebrating 200 years of history and an even more promising future.

Learn more at case.edu/bicentennial.