

Reporting Time

Each employee's job is categorized by Employee Class. You will see your Employee Class at the top of your timesheet. The screens you see will be customized on the basis of your job classification.

Time Reporting Codes (TRC) are in categories that determine how they affect earnings, leave usage, and credit for time worked.

The chart below shows each employee class and the type of time that can be reported, along with the appropriate Time Reporting Code (TRC).

The matrix indicates which TRC codes can be used by each employee class to report time.

Groups are a way to organize employees for security and are generally defined by department, employee type, or specific supervisor ID.
