

Slate – How to Record Official Documents

Slate requires transcripts or test scores to be uploaded into the system, not simply recorded as being received. All official transcripts, test scores, or Letters of Recommendation (LORs) will now be available to view in Slate. If departments or Graduate Studies receives an official document, it should be uploaded into Slate. There is no longer a need to forward it on to Graduate Studies. (This also applies to unofficial documents applicants send to supplement their application, such as updated test scores or personal statements.)

Official versus Unofficial: Official transcripts come by mail or encrypted email directly from a university. Unofficial transcripts are those uploaded into the application or emailed to you by the applicant. Rule of thumb: if the applicant has seen the transcript, it is usually considered unofficial.

Use the Records tab or the Lookup Bar to search for the student in Slate.

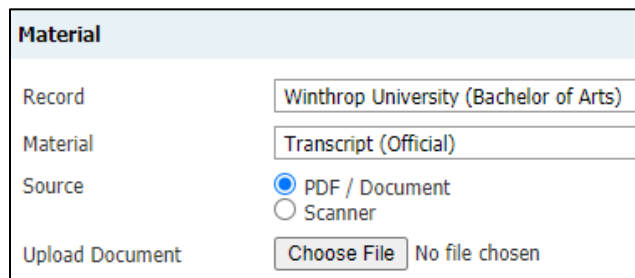

1. Navigate to their application tab at the top.
2. Scroll down the page to the Materials section and click New Material.

See instructions below for recording transcripts, letters of recommendation (LORs), test scores, and language scores.
