CWRU Employee Pilot Referral Bonus Program

Case Western Reserve University needs your help. Our employees are our best ambassadors and in the spirit of our core value of teamwork, you can help the University identify qualified candidates for available key positions. In return, you can receive $1,500 per referral through our new employee referral program! Currently, this is a pilot program, but the goal is to review the data and outcomes to expand the program.

The employee referral program is designed to increase the number of qualified candidates for positions experiencing critically short staffing, while rewarding current employees with a $1,500 bonus per referral, who is then hired.

Providing a referral for an applicant is not a guarantee that the individual will receive an interview or be hired for a position at Case Western Reserve University. Also, those involved in the hiring team (interviewing and selection process) for the specific job will not qualify for the referral bonus. The referring employee can receive up to two referral bonuses.

All referred applicants will need to complete the standardized process outlined by selection guidelines.

This program applies to: Regular full-time and part-time faculty and staff as outlined in the eligibility section below.

The University is rolling out a temporary pilot referral program from February 15, 2022 through June 30, 2022, in an effort to reinforce employee engagement and reward existing faculty and staff for referring individuals from their network to open staff positions within the University.

The pilot program will include referrals for staff positions in the SOM (up to 20 referred positions during this pilot timeframe), campus safety and security, and Dental School clinical. Referrals to staff positions in other departments are not eligible for this pilot program. Internal candidates are also excluded.
