Purpose

CWRU recognizes that our staff advance our mission through the critical roles they play within the university. The purpose of the Staff Orientation Evaluation is to engage and develop our staff by setting them up for success during their first three months.

The three-month orientation period is an opportunity for productive two-way communication between the employee and the supervisor. The Staff Orientation Evaluation aids in this discussion. It should help guide conversations between the supervisor and new employee in defining clear expectations, outlining work outcomes, and addressing any questions or challenges the employee may have. By starting strong, employees will have the necessary foundation to help lead the university toward our vision of being recognized internationally as an institution that imagines and influences the future.

Instructions

- 1. The supervisor should complete all sections of the form three times during the orientation period at one month, two months, and three months. This should be completed prior to meeting with the employee each month, except for Employee's Comments and Employee's Signature, which the employee should complete during the meeting.
- 2. The supervisor and employee should meet and discuss the evaluation:
 - Begin with a discussion of job description (having a copy to refer to is recommended)
 - Ask about concerns or needs from the new employee. The employee should also complete the Employee Comments, including assessing their overall performance.
 - Discuss the supervisor's evaluation on the competencies and successes
 - Make plans for areas in need of improvement as necessary
 - Set goals for upcoming review period, including yearly goals at the end of the orientation period
 - Summarize the outcome of the review meeting
- 3. After completing the Staff Orientation Evaluation each month, the supervisor should send the Form to the supervisor's management center HR office and provide a copy to the employee.

Orientation Extension

The orientation period may be extended for one month at a time, up to three times (three months total). If supervisors wish to extend orientation, they must:

- Have completed the one-month and two-month Staff Orientation Evaluations.
 - Exceptions can be made due to attendance or other unusual circumstances.
- Have received approval from Employee Relations for the extension two weeks prior to the end of the three month orientation period. Orientation cannot be extended after the three-month orientation period ends.
- Inform the employee of the orientation extension after gaining approval from Employee Relations.
- Continue to instruct and support the employee in areas where improvement is desired.
- Complete the Staff Orientation Evaluation at the end of the extension period(s)
- Contact Employee Relations during the extension period if performance remains unsatisfactory to discuss termination.

Termination

If a supervisor wishes to terminate employment due to performance issues, conduct, or poor attendance, they must discuss potential termination with Employee Relations and obtain approval from Employee Relations for the termination in advance, before discussing it with the employee.
