

ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

RESPONSIBLE GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP

INAMORI INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR ETHICS AND EXCELLENCE

OUR STORY, OUR STRUCTURE, OUR SPACE
2022-2027 - EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We provide opportunities for people to develop as ethical leaders and responsible global citizens

ALL THINGS CONSIDERED

The Inamori International Center for Ethics and Excellence at Case Western Reserve University has devoted significant time and effort to reviewing our nearly 15-year operational history and conducting a comprehensive financial analysis, environmental scans, and surveys and interviews of our constituents and partners. We are happy to share this Executive Summary of key goals and objectives for the next five years, including some current priorities. Contact inamoricenter@case.edu for a presentation and to discuss partnership opportunities.

- Prof. Shannon E. French, Director and
Beth Trecasa, Associate Director

KEY GOALS

2022-2027

OUR STORY

We will make our mission, capacity, and investment potential clear.

OUR STRUCTURE

We will develop more sustainability through human infrastructure.

OUR SPACE

We will better utilize the power of our physical proximity and resources at Case Western Reserve University and the Tinkham-Veale University Center.

INAMORI INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR ETHICS AND EXCELLENCE

2022 PRIORITIES

- Pursue indexing options for The International Journal of Ethical Leadership to allow for citation tracking and increased individual and institutional indicators that affect rankings.
- Formalize the MA/JD track and create an online Certificate option with strategic international partners to expand the Military Ethics master's degree program.
- Collaborate with strategic partners on secondary school engagement to collectively develop and steward relationships and increase student participation in CWRU events.
- Improve the international exposure of the Inamori Ethics Prize and the nomination process to increase nominations from and for individuals outside of the United States, as well as more nominations for female and non-binary individuals.

We create space and support to advance scholarship and service on topics of Ethics, Values, and Justice

We cultivate and honor Excellence made possible through Ethical Leadership

KEY GOALS & OBJECTIVES 2022 - 2027

- OUR STORY: Meet with current and potential partners to talk about Our Story, Our Structure, Our Space. Create a comprehensive Inamori Center identity and materials that can help us engage more people, especially internationally, and develop additional support and funding.
- OUR STRUCTURE: Develop pilot funding and endowed support for ethics at CWRU and create a Presidential/Provost-level fundraising campaign for:
 - additional Inamori Center human infrastructure;
 - at least two new CWRU Professorships in Ethics (at a CWRU School/College); and
 - the student organization, Global Ethical Leaders Society (GELS).
- OUR SPACE: Increase Inamori Center space utilization by hosting additional courses on-site; by making the Inamori Center library and other resources more accessible to students and partners; and by creatively and actively communicating with those visiting the Inamori Center or passing by our campus footprint in the Tinkham-Veale University Center.