

think: international

GLOBAL TALK FALL SERIES

OPEN TO ALL FACULTY
AND STAFF

LUNCH PROVIDED

PLEASE RSVP BY TUESDAY
BEFORE EVENT DATE:

kendee.franklin@case.edu

*Watch For More
Info Regarding International Education Week
November 11–15, 2013*

CWRU OPPORTUNITIES IN BRAZIL

Thursday, Sept. 26, 2013 | 12-1:30pm | Inamori Center (Lower Level Crawford Hall)

Join Associate Provost for International Affairs David Fleshler as he discusses current CWRU activities and future opportunities for collaboration with different organizations in Brazil, including the Brazil Science Mobility Program.

STUDY ABROAD 101: TIPS FOR FACULTY ADVISORS

Thursday, Oct. 10, 2013 | 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

This session will provide faculty advisors with concrete answers to student questions about study abroad program availability and the selection process, scholarship opportunities for them, overseas course transferability, and relevant Education Abroad policies. Expect an interactive and informative lunch break, with definitive take-aways.

IT'S CLEARLY CULTURAL! A FUN AND INTERACTIVE, CROSS-CULTURAL WORKSHOP

Thursday, Oct. 17, 2013 | 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Ever wonder why in spite of speaking a common language—English—we still have so many misunderstandings in our classroom, community and workplace interactions? This workshop will be led by Dr. Heidi Kempt Chew who has studied and worked on three continents and holds degrees in theology, ELS, journalism, education and cross-cultural training. The group will discuss and practice ways to recognize, analyze and navigate cross-cultural interactions. As well as, engage in an interactive exercise to explore cross-cultural communication skills that will foster cross-cultural understanding in our sphere of influence.

DEVELOPING INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

Thursday, Oct. 31, 2013 | 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Learn how to connect with CWRU colleagues to build on existing international agreements and how to identify and develop new international agreements with top universities around the world.

FACULTY-LED PROGRAM RISK MANAGEMENT

Thursday, Nov. 7, 2013 | 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Develop strategies for minimizing risk on short-term study abroad programs and for handling the unexpected crisis that may occur. Explore the role of the Office of Education Abroad in helping to manage the unexpected.

CENTER FOR
INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

think: international

GLOBAL TALK SPRING SERIES

WWW.CASE.EDU/INTERNATIONAL/GLOBALTALK

OPEN TO ALL FACULTY AND STAFF
LUNCH PROVIDED

PLEASE RSVP BY TUESDAY
BEFORE EVENT DATE:
InternationalEvents@case.edu

If you have ideas for future topics or if you would like to collaborate with us, please feel free to contact the Center for International Affairs at kendee.franklin@case.edu

DEVELOPING SHORT-TERM FACULTY-LED STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

Thursday, February 6, 2014: 12-1:30pm | Inamori Center (Lower Level Crawford Hall)

Discover best practices in developing new CWRU short-term faculty-led study abroad programs from a panel of CWRU faculty. The panel will discuss how to get started, resources available, curriculum design, how courses become approved, risk management policies, logistics, and everything else that you need to know to create your own study abroad course. All levels of experience with short term programs welcomed!

FACULTY FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR OPPORTUNITIES

Thursday, February 20, 2014: 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

The Fulbright Program provides participants with the opportunity to study, teach and conduct research, exchange ideas and contribute to finding solutions to shared international concerns. Come and learn more about the opportunities available to you through the flagship international educational exchange program.

WHAT ARE EXPORT CONTROLS AND DO THEY APPLY TO ME?

Thursday, March 6, 2014: 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Telepresence Room, 1st Floor 139

Are you involved in research with international partners? Do you transmit or ship information, materials, or equipment overseas? Do you purchase products from foreign vendors or travel abroad? If so, join us to learn how CWRU is impacted by export control regulations and how the CWRU Export Control Compliance Program relates to your specific work. Lisa Palazzo, Director of Export Control and Privacy Management will provide an overview of the regulations, as well as describe some of the changes we may be making as an institution in order to maintain compliance with these laws.

BEST PRACTICES IN SUPPORTING UNDERGRADUATE INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS IN THE CLASSROOM

Thursday, March 20, 2014: 12-1:30pm | Allen Memorial Library, Herrick Room

Explore tips on supporting and engaging undergraduate international students in the classroom by interacting with an international student panel focused on creating effective classroom dynamics. This session is designed to provide faculty with more tools to work with a diverse population of students and allow domestic and international students to have meaningful educational experiences. Moderated By Mano Singham, Director, University Center for Innovation in Teaching and Education (UCITE).

CWRU OPPORTUNITIES IN TURKEY

Thursday, April 17, 2014: 12-1:30pm | Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Join Associate Provost for International Affairs David Fleshler as he discusses current CWRU activities and future opportunities for collaboration with different organizations in Turkey.

CENTER FOR
INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS