

GLOBAL TALK SERIES

WWW.CASE.EDU/INTERNATIONAL/GLOBALTALK

FALL 2016

SAY MY NAME WORKSHOP (CHINESE NAME PRONUNCIATION)

August 25, 2016 | 12-1:30pm | Nord Hall, Room 356

This workshop is designed to provide faculty and staff with tips on Chinese character pronunciation. Bring your class roster and learn how to correctly pronounce students' names and more.

OVERVIEW ON INTERNATIONAL STUDENT VISAS, INCLUDING THE NEW OPT STEM EXTENSION RULES

September 22, 2016 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Understanding the legal aspects that international students need to navigate is an important way to help them succeed on campus. Learn the basics of CPT, OPT, STEM, and some basic F1 visa regulations. Learn what resources are available on campus for immigration issues.

PROFILE OF THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENT BODY

October 13, 2016 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

The international student population has risen dramatically in the last decade. Learn about the international student population, in order to better support them as staff and faculty members.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK: NOVEMBER 14–18, 2016

International Education Week is a national celebration of the benefits of international education and global exchange. The Center for International Affairs, along with numerous collaborators, has organized a variety of events for faculty, staff, students and community members. Visit our website for a full list of exciting and informative activities scheduled throughout the week: www.case.edu/international/IEW

DEVELOPING FACULTY SHORT TERM STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

December 1, 2016 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Do you have an interest in starting a faculty short term abroad program? Join us to find out about the best way to start a program, attend to risk management issues, and more. The Office of Education Abroad is a resource for all faculty interested in this exciting proposal.

SPRING 2017

SAY MY NAME WORKSHOP (VARIOUS LANGUAGES – PRONUNCIATION)

January 12, 2017 | 12-1:30pm | Nord Hall, Room 356

This workshop is designed to provide faculty with tips on international student name pronunciation and tools to work with a diverse population of students, allowing domestic and international students to have a meaningful educational experience. Don't forget to bring your class roster.

SUPPORTING INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS IN THE CLASSROOM – DISCUSSING PEDAGOGY

February 16, 2017 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Communication failures in class may be the result of cultural differences and different academic environment experiences. Join ESS, UCITE, and the Center for International Affairs to learn some common cultural characteristics for international students and gain a new perspective when teaching a culturally diverse class. A student panel will answer questions after the workshop.

FACULTY FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR OPPORTUNITIES

March 9, 2017 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

The Fulbright Scholar Program provides participants with the opportunity to study, teach, conduct research, exchange ideas, and contribute to finding solutions to shared international concerns. Join us and learn more about the opportunities available to you through the flagship international educational exchange program.

STUDY ABROAD COURSE MAPPING

March 30, 2017 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

The hardest part of studying abroad for both faculty and students can often be determining which institutions and which courses are most applicable to their field(s) of study. The Office of Education Abroad (OEA) has years of data that can help, including which majors have studied where, which courses they have taken, and how those courses have transferred back to CWRU. This Global Talk will explore ways in which this data and the OEA can be a resource for faculty as they approve courses and advise students on study abroad.

CWRU OPPORTUNITIES IN STRATEGIC COUNTRIES

April 13, 2016 | 12-1:30pm

Tomlinson Hall Large Conference Room, 1st Floor 135

Join Vice Provost for International Affairs David Flesher in a discussion of current CWRU activities and future opportunities for collaboration with different organizations in the strategic countries emphasized in Phase II of the Plan for Internationalization.

OPEN TO ALL FACULTY AND STAFF
LUNCH PROVIDED

PLEASE RSVP BY TUESDAY
BEFORE EVENT DATE:
InternationalEvents@case.edu

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS