

2016 CWRU Student Experience Survey (CWRUSES)

Results for Undergraduate Students

In spring 2016, a random sample of graduate and undergraduate students at Case Western Reserve University (CWRU) participated in the CWRU Student Experience Survey (CWRUSES). The survey asked students to evaluate their overall campus experience, including overall satisfaction, satisfaction with services and resources, time spent on activities, and the campus climate for inclusion and diversity. The survey was administered by CWRU's Office of Planning and Institutional Research. Of 3,200 randomly selected potential undergraduate participants, 52% (n=1,652) submitted responses. This table reflects their responses. All means and percentages are weighted to adjust for different response rates by gender and year.
