

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD LETTER: TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. All law school grants and scholarships are credited against law school tuition charges only.
2. This award is offered to only a limited number of applicants. If you wish to reserve this award, your seat deposit(s) must be received by the Admissions Office by the dates indicated in your Statement of Procedures.
3. All additional fees, including the student activity fee, medical insurance, seat deposits, etc., must be submitted as required and are not covered by this offer.
4. This award offer, as well as the continued validity of your admission to Case Western Reserve University School of Law, is contingent upon your timely adherence to all requirements during the admissions process, including payment of all deposits.
5. In order for this award to be credited to your tuition account, you must maintain status as a student taking a full-time load of law courses. You must complete and earn credit for the law courses taken during each semester. Students who matriculate into a dual degree program will pay additional tuition as set by the other program.
6. Your continued eligibility for the grant or scholarship that has been offered to you will be based upon your scholastic performance. You must remain in Good Academic Standing in order to renew your scholarship annually. If you do not remain in Good Academic Standing, the law school has the option of withdrawing your award for all subsequent semesters.
7. Your continued eligibility for this award is also contingent upon your participation in scholarship-related activities, i.e. receptions, phone-a-thons, writing letters to donors, prelaw advisors and prospective students, etc.
8. This award will be affected if you are eligible for Case Western Reserve University tuition remission as a result of parental, spousal or your own employment. Law scholarships for students who receive other Case Western Reserve University scholarship or grant awards are subject to adjustment.
9. Scholarships may not be used for summer terms.
