EMPLOYMENT EXPERIENCE

Case Western Reserve University
Cleveland, Ohio
PROFESSOR

May 1984—present

Alternative Dispute Resolution – 1 semester, 2 credit hour course
Interdisciplinary class, taught to business (MBA) and law students, explores alternatives to resolving legal conflicts—negotiation, arbitration, mediation, summary jury trial and mini-trial.

CaseArc Core 1 and 2 – 2 semester, 4 credit hour course
The fall term introduces legal research and analytical writing skills, emphasizing the clear, concise writing of legal memoranda. The spring term explores persuasive writing, particularly motions, trial and appellate briefs.

Child Welfare – summer semester, 3 credit hour course
This intensive summer semester course focuses on Child Welfare. It looks at Abuse, Neglect and Dependency and the institutional/governmental approaches to working with families in need of services.

Family Law – 1 semester, 3 credit hour course
General overview of legal principles regarding marriage and divorce, child custody and support, the state regulation of the parent-child relationship, procreational liberties, and adoption. Special emphasis on alternative dispute resolution.

Law and Public Policy – 1 semester, 3 credit hour course
Interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on the regulation of, use of, and testing for controlled substances.

Law and Social Work – 1 semester, 3 credit hour course
Seminar to introduce social work students to socio-legal issues, malpractice liability, privileged communications, reporting mandates, the judicial and legislative process, and child welfare and medical health practice.

Lawyering Process – 1 semester, 2 credit hour course
Seminar on interviewing, counseling and negotiation skills.

LLEAD: Leadership Assessment and Development --
2 semester course that is a graded component of the LLEAP program.
A course for all first year students that has three primary course objectives: 1) to develop awareness of yourself in the context of your values, your personal vision, your career aspirations, and your leadership competencies; 2) to develop awareness of yourself in relation to others through working with classmates in a learning group; and 3) to understand what it means to be an effective leader and develop a plan to increase your capability to lead, manage, and work with others effectively.

LLEAP 1 and 2 – 2 semester, 8 credit hour course

The fall term introduces legal research and analytical writing skills, emphasizing the clear, concise writing of legal memoranda, both objective and persuasive writing. The spring term continues to explore persuasive writing, particularly trial briefs. Both semesters focus on transactional drafting skills.

Mediation Representation: Theory, Principle and Practice –

1 semester, 2 credit hour course

An advanced seminar exploring the fundamentals of conflict; mediation theory, doctrine and practice; its historical evolution; and its increasing use as a centerpiece of modern legal dispute resolution. Course includes the writing of mediation memoranda, as well as mediation role-playing.

VIS Practicum – 1 semester, 3 credit hour course

This is a special course designed for students in the Joint LL.M. Degree in International Commercial Law and Dispute Resolution (“ICLDR”). It introduces students to the specifics of international commercial arbitration, including analysis of international commercial law (for example, under the CISG, or Convention on the International Sale of Goods), drafting a proper brief (with appropriate reference materials and citation forms), and performing oral argument.
