LEADERSHIP AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Co-Director, Frederick K. Cox International Law Center (2013-present):

- Organized, budgeted, and fundraised for two major annual conferences;
- Prepared and deployed marketing, fundraising, CLE programming, and personnel management plans;
- Developed and carried out business development projects that led to new programs, partnerships, student internships, and JD/LLM/SJD admissions; and
- Served as Case Study-Abroad-at-Home program director

JD/MA (Political Science) Program Director (2020-present):

- Advised, supervised, and monitored student compliance with dual degree program

Interim Associate Dean for Global Legal Studies (2019-21)

- Organized Office of Global Legal Studies, and implemented year-long operational, admission-monitoring, and budgeting procedures for the school's leading revenue-generating program;
- Supervised LLM, SJD, Visiting Scholar, Visiting Researcher, and Exchange Student Programs;
- Led Office of Graduate Legal Studies' academic, business development, teaching, and program-building initiatives;
- Charged, trained, and supervised four staff members with responsibility on admissions, career-counselling, exchange and international partnership management, and day-to-day administrative operations;

Assisted co-Deans in preparation and execution of general planning; budget; recruitment; negotiation; fundraising and development; and Supervised drafting of reports on LLM programs in compliance with CWRU's School of Graduate Studies requirements
All functions are now supervised by one of the co-Deans.

Chair and Vice-Chair, Case Western Reserve University (CWRU) Faculty Senate (2016-19):

Worked in close cooperation with University President, two Provosts, central administrators, and Faculty on developing consensus and approving, through the Faculty Senate numerous initiatives, including: further internationalization initiatives; research protocols; conflict-of-interest and conflict-of-commitment disclosures; reform of Minority Faculty and Personnel Committees; inter-school coordination on improving CWRU's international rankings, etc.;
Streamlined the approval of new certificate, MA, MS, and PhD programs through the Graduate Studies Committee;
Ensured that all Faculty Senate Committees Chairs routinely reported their activities and concerns to the Faculty Senate Executive Committee;
Charged and Supervised performance of incoming Faculty Senate Committee Chairs;
Created ad hoc committees on: (i) "Community Concerns Reporting" (replaced the "Bias Reporting Committee," to include enhanced anonymity protections while implementing due process safeguards); and (ii) "Faculty Budget Priorities" (to provide more opportunity for considered faculty input on the year-long budget planning process in closer consultation with the University Budget Committee and the Provost)

Executive Board Member, ACAMS Northern Ohio Chapter, (2016-17):

Drafted Northern Ohio's anti-money laundering regional committee's ByLaws and original Charter
