Artistic Director

Daniel Crain (he/him) has been a dedicated music educator and band director for over 20 years. His ensembles have thrived under his leadership, consistently earning top honors—including numerous Superior ratings at OMEA Large Group adjudicated events—and growing in both size and musical excellence. In recognition of his commitment to the craft and his students, Dan was honored with membership in the American School Band Directors Association.

From 2013 to 2024, Dan served as a high school and middle school band director in the Shaker Heights City School District, directing concert bands, jazz band, marching band, and teaching music composition. He also led international tours with the Pride of Shaker Heights Marching Band to Spain, Italy, and France, and co-directed the Shaker Heights Summer Music Camp, where he developed a student leadership program rooted in community and collaboration. Dan previously taught in the Mentor Public Schools, Youngstown City Schools, and Perry Local Schools in Massillon, OH.

A proud 1999 graduate of North Royalton High School, Dan earned his Bachelor of Music Education from Bowling Green State University in 2003 and his Master of Arts in Music from Case Western Reserve University in 2008. He has continued his professional development through graduate coursework at Capital University, the University of Texas at Austin, and Northwestern University.

Dan has been an integral part of the Cleveland Youth Wind Symphony (CYWS) for 19 years, including serving as founding conductor of the CYWS II Concert Winds and currently as Co-Music Director and co-conductor of CYWS Group I. He also led the Lakeland Civic Band from 2017 to 2022, and has actively served the Ohio Music Education Association in various leadership roles.

Dan is deeply grateful to the mentors, colleagues, students, and family members who have shaped his journey. He credits his parents, Steve and Diane, for nurturing his love of music from a young age—starting with accordion lessons at age eight and tuba in fifth grade. Their sacrifices and encouragement laid the foundation for his lifelong calling. He is especially thankful to his mentors including Marty Lydecker, Dr. Gary Ciepluch, Dr. Bruce Moss, Paul Reed, Chuck Frank, Bill Hughes and Tom Deep for their enduring support.

Dan is incredibly honored and humbled to work alongside the talented musicians of the Cleveland Pride Band, and is grateful for the opportunity to continue sharing in the joy of music-making with this inspiring community.
