Advanced Clinical Research Symposium

Friday, September 18, 2026
9:00 AM – 5:00 PM

Energy Advancement & Innovation Center
The Ohio State University
2281 Kenny Rd., Columbus, OH 43210

ELEVATE is a collaborative symposium designed to address current and emerging trends in the management of clinical and translational research, specifically tailored for advanced Clinical Research Professionals (CRPs).

This event brings together the three Ohio Clinical and Translational Science Award (CTSA) institutions:

- The Ohio State University
- The University of Cincinnati
- Case Western Reserve University

This inaugural biennial regional symposium focuses on strengthening and advancing the experienced CRP workforce by:

- Exploring key challenges and innovations in clinical research
- Encouraging cross-institutional collaboration
- Engaging participants through interactive and collaborative sessions
- Promoting discussion, shared learning, and future planning

Join fellow clinical research leaders to elevate practice, collaboration, and innovation across Ohio's CTSA network.
