Membership Terms: The composition of the Nominating Committee is outlined in the bylaws. It consists of the dean, the chair of the Faculty Council, the vice chair of the Faculty Council, four other Faculty Council members, two each from the preclinical and clinical sciences, and four non-members of the Faculty Council, two each from the preclinical and clinical sciences. The four Faculty Council members of the Nominating Committee shall be elected at large by the Faculty Council and shall serve for the duration of their terms as Faculty Council members. The four non-members of the Faculty Council shall be elected by ballot by the Faculty of Medicine and shall serve three-year terms. The dean shall serve as chair of the Nominating Committee. In order to increase the probability that nominating committee members have knowledge of possible candidates for committee membership, it is suggested that members of the nominating committee shall have been full-time faculty of the School of Medicine for at least four years.
