12	1/13/17	American Federation for Aging Research	Arthritis and Aging Research Grant	$100,000	The Arthritis National Research Foundation and AFAR are seeking grant applications to study the underlying mechanisms by which aging processes contribute to the development of arthritis. Studies are encouraged on the role of one or more of the hallmarks of aging that include mitochondrial dysfunction, genomic instability, epigenetic alterations, loss of proteostasis, deregulated nutrient sensing, cellular senescence, stem cell exhaustion, telomere attrition and altered intercellular communication. Successful applications will utilize cell, tissue and animal model systems or human populations that allow for the study of the aging aspects of the condition of interest.	Arthritis and Aging Research Grant
13	1/13/17	American Federation for Aging Research and Arthritis National Research Foundation	Arthritis and Aging Research Grant	$100,000	Purpose: In a collaborative effort, the Arthritis National Research Foundation (ANRF) and the American Federation for Aging Research (AFAR) are seeking grant applications that focus on studying the underlying mechanisms of the aging process as it relates to arthritis. Applicants: Priority will be given to meritorious applications from newer, M.D. and/or Ph.D. applicants in early stage career development (equivalent to assistant professor and without serving as PI on an NIH R01 award).	Arthritis and Aging Research Grant
14	1/13/17	Council of State and Territorial Epidemiologists (CSTE)	Applied Epidemiology Fellowship	$46,810 - $61,810	To train recent graduates in the expanding field of applied epidemiology. The goal of the Fellowship is to provide a high quality training experience and to secure long-term career placement for Fellows at the state or local level. Participating fellows will receive two years of on-the-job training at a state or local health agency under the guidance of an experienced mentor. The Fellowship's mission is to meet the nation's ongoing need for applied epidemiology workforce capacity in state and local health departments through a national fellowship-training program. 15	Jan-17	Citizens United for Research in Epilepsy (CURE)	Pediatric Epilepsies Award	$250,000 over 2 years	LOI Due 1/15/2015; Full Application 5/5/2015: CURE seeks novel research projects of relevance to CURE grantary or all pediatric epilepsies, including: (1) the cellular, molecular, and systems-level understanding of the underlying pathogenic mechanisms; (2) investigations of the impact, natural history, and epidemiology; and (3) novel treatments which may impact progression of the disease. CURE specifically encourages studies that may not be currently fundable by other agencies because of their preliminary or unconventional nature. Priority will be given to innovative projects that address the severe, intractable pediatric epilepsies as well as collaborative projects, especially those that are inclusive of investigators and expertise from fields outside of epilepsy.	http://www.cureepilepsy.org/research/grant_pediatric.asp
16	1/15/17	Whitehall Foundation	Research Grant	$225,000	LOI due 1/15/17. If invited, full proposal due 6/1/17. Foundation will accept only 1 LOI/year from an investigator. The Foundation is currently interested in basic research in neurobiology, defined as follows: invertebrate and vertebrate (excluding clinical) neurobiology, specifically investigations of neural mechanisms involved in sensory, motor, and other complex functions of the whole organism as these relate to behavior. The overall goal should be to better understand behavioral output or brain mechanisms of behavior.	Research Grants
17	1/15/17	Whitehall Foundation	Grants in aid	$30,000	LOI due 1/15/17. If invited, full proposal due 6/1/17. Foundation will accept only 1 LOI/year from an investigator. 30	1/20/17	American College of Sports Medicine	Clinical Sports Medicine Endowment	$5,000	Clinical research in sports medicine must be derived from active care of athletes, such as prevention strategies, treatment protocols, or treatment outcomes. Research in clinical sports medicine must be directly related to issues of active care of athletes, such as pathogenesis, pathophysiology, biomechanics, or environmental issues. The proposals must demonstrate the study's direct relationship to one of these purposes. The active patient care must be provided to physically active recreational, competitive or elite athletes.	Clinical Sports Medicine Endowment
31	1/20/17	American College of Sports Medicine	Paffenbarger-Blair Fund for Epidemiological Research on Physical Activity	$10,000	Dr. Ralph S. Paffenbarger, Jr., a co-recipient of the first Olympic Prize in Exercise Science and Sports Medicine, made an extraordinarily generous gift to the American College of Sports Medicine by donating his share of the award to the College's capital campaign with the monies added to the College's epidemiology endowment. The interest on this contribution makes this grant possible. The intent of this award is to encourage researchers early in their career to become involved with physical activity epidemiology. The applications may focus on observational studies of physical activity and health outcomes, or on randomized controlled trials that are clearly focused on physical activity and important public health issues. Applicants are expected to apply within two (2) years of receiving a postgraduate degree or completion of clinical training.	Paffenbarger-Blair Fund for Epidemiological Research on Physical Activity
32	1/20/17	American College of Sports Medicine	Raymond A. Weiss Research Endowment	$1,500	Wishing to advance research into the health benefits - physical, mental and emotional - of physical activity and sports, the Weiss Research Endowment has been established for ACSM students studying in this field. One project will be funded for applied rather than for basic research, with the intent of applying the results to programs involving physical activity and sports. The psychological and emotional benefits of physical activity are of particular importance to the benefactors of this endowment, Drs. Raymond and Rosalee Weiss, and proposals addressing those issues will be given priority. One award of $1,500 is available.	Raymond A. Weiss Research Endowment
33	1/20/17	American College of Sports Medicine	Research Grants/Awards	$10,000	The research endowment has been made possible by charitable funds and individual donations derived from the annual campaign, specifically targeted for research. The intent of the research endowment is to use a portion of the interest derived from these funds to support basic and applied research in exercise science. The primary goal is to fund mechanistic, hypothesis driven, basic and applied research. A $10,000 grant is available and is applicable to all relevant fields of exercise science. Funding is primarily targeted for new or junior investigators, within 7 years of attaining a terminal degree (e.g., Ph.D., Ed.D.). It is the intent of this grant to provide seed money support after which further funding would be sought from other sources. Applications should clearly describe if the aims are achieved in the pilot, and how the data will be used in future grant applications. Only one application per person is allowed.	Research Endowment
34	1/20/17	American College of Sports Medicine	Carl V. Gisolfi Memorial Fund	$5,000	Carl V. Gisolfi, Ph.D., FACSM, was one of the most influential leaders of ACSM in its 50+ year history. With Gatorade, ACSM created the Gisolfi Memorial Fund to honor his many contributions to ACSM and the exercise science field. This grant is designated to encourage research in thermoregulation, exercise, and hydration. In support of the mission to increase diversity at ACSM, special consideration is given to minority applicants and proposals addressing minority health issues. One award will be dispersed to ACSM doctoral students in the amount of $5,000 each for a one-year period.	Carl V. Gisolfi Memorial Research Grant
35	1/20/17	Pfizer Inc.	Pfizer Independent Grants for Learning & Change Request for Proposals (RFP) Rheumatoid Arthritis Shared Decision Making	$500,000	LOI 1/20/17. Full proposal if invited 5/1/17. It is our intent to support projects that enable the training of clinical providers such as physicians (including residents and fellows), physical therapists, nurses, and nurse practitioners in musculoskeletal ultrasound in hemophilia (MSKUS).	http://www.pfizer.com/responsibility/grants_contributions/request_proposals
