COVID-19 is being described as a global life-quake event. A life-quake is a massive life change that reshapes our lives with aftershocks that can last for years. In this interactive webinar, we consider how this life-quake could change our work and education. Strategies will be presented on how nurses can help themselves and those they work with to rebuild resilience after COVID-19.

Sponsored by the Marian K. Shaughnessy Nurse Leadership Academy.
