Seminar Presenter: Ms. Yvonka Hall, Founder and Executive Director of the Northeast Ohio Black Health Coalition (NEOBHC), Cleveland, OH

Presentation Title: Protecting the Future of Our Youths: Effective Parental Engagement

Purpose: The purpose of this presentation is to discuss the importance of parental roles and responsibilities related to educating, advocating, and empowering youths, and to examine the differences between parental engagement and “dropping in on” their academic performance.

Objectives: At the end of the seminar, the Provost Scholars parents will be able to:

- (1) Discuss historical trends and consequences in the education system and how they are associated with health and well-being and graduation rates of youths in the African American community.
- (2) List two best practices that can be used to reinforce parental engagement with the Provost Scholars that will help to increase their academic performance and improve self-confidence.
