CWRU - Staff Advisory Council
The SAC Staff Policy committee met on November 16, 2017, from 4:00 to 5:00pm in Sears 563. [the chair (JN) did not take attendance]

There was extensive discussion of the new HR Staff Policy Manual and the process around its introduction. Some issues highlighted include:

- attendance documents at the introductory meetings - does that imply any responsibility for knowing about the changes?
- questions about a change in the Equity Review process
- the complete text of the not-yet-approved Policy Manual - how can we comment on it or ask detailed questions without actually seeing it? SAC was given a copy of the Table of Contents, Index, and Glossary (and feedback request on those items).
- Question: what is the chain of approval for the Staff Policy Manual? Conflict of Interest Policies are required to be approved by the Board of Trustees; does that apply to the Staff Policy Manual as well, or is the Policy Manual approved at a lower level (President, General Counsel, VP of HR)?
- The new policy manual is intended to be a "living document" - what will that mean in practical terms? (esp. with regard to changes - will they take as long as approving the initial document?)

Additional discussions included the concept of a central "hub" web page linking to all of the individual policy documents throughout the university which may apply to any or all staff - for example, not only the HR Policy manual, but Procurement, Campus Security, UTech/IT Security, Parking, Research Administration, etc.

Finally, there was a discussion of how SAC receives input from constituents regarding major changes such as the new policy manual. We want to explicitly solicit feedback from the entire SAC constituency on this issue (related discussion of the effective use of the SAC Constituents email lists).

The next Staff Policy meetings are Thursday, Dec. 21, 2017 and Thursday, Jan. 19, 2018, both from 4:00-5:00pm in Sears 563.
Staff Recognition Committee.

The Staff Recognition Committee is on hiatus until January, 2018. There will be no reports from our committee until then.
Volunteer for December Orientations
Shannon Swiatkowski volunteered to give the new employee orientation presentation for SAC during the month of December. Thanks, Shannon!

APN Update
Michelle Lampton has joined the board of the APN. She will be a valuable addition to the leadership, since the mission of the PDC aligns so closely with the work the APN does. They are busy preparing for the half-day conference in 2018, tentatively scheduled for April 11. After a request from membership for more training on hard skills, the working title of the next conference is “The Skilled Admin.” Theresa has been communicating with Corrine Hoisington, a tech expert and keynote speaker from Central VA Community College, whom she met at the national conference. With any luck, we will be able to engage her to come and speak at our conference without too much expense.

The next meeting in December will focus on EMS (new facility management system) and Zoom. The APN is also collecting hats, socks and gloves for the needy to honor the memory of Kathie Dowdell.

There was a request from JC that the APN could possibly use its network to promote the WSLDI program, and to publicize the fact that it is not just for women in leadership positions, but also for those who aspire to be leaders (there seems to have been some general misunderstanding about this). If the Women’s Center would like to provide the APN with a marketing piece or a drafted announcement, they would be happy to pass it on when it comes time to recruit the next cohort.

PDC Update
The e-learning initiative is moving right along. The first offering, Employee Law, will be coming soon and will be accessed through Canvas.

There was some discussion about comments from our constituents asking for training in hard skills, and what the PDC might be able to do to help with this. Shannon talked about some training she had received through her department from Admin Pros, and wondered if maybe we could enlist the help of outside facilitators like this, since the PDC might be limited because it has a small staff? Melissa brought up another topic that might be appropriate to design some training around – the transition from a hard copy system to a digital one and the processes involved: how they might need to be adjusted.

SEEF
Shannon has found a copy of the strategic plan that Kathie Dowdell and Kathy O’Linn created for the committee several years ago. We will create a google drive just for ST&D committee and share this document along with others so that everyone can see. We agreed that the committee should read through the strategic plan, especially in regard to how it pertains to SEEF and its mission. At the next meeting, we will discuss if the strategic plan possibly needs revising.

There was more discussion about reinstating the traditional SEEF reimbursements. Once again, the sticking point seemed to be finding a way to fund SEEF sustainably, so the discussion was tabled until the next meeting.

Chair Announcement
Laura announced that due to a combination of factors, she will be stepping down as chair within the next 3 months. It is her hope that someone who has a true passion for the work of this committee will step forward to take over the position in her place. She will work with the new chair to ensure a smooth transition. Anyone who is interested or has questions should contact her directly: llw38 or x6403.
Our next meeting has been rescheduled: it will be December 13 at 1:30 and will be conducted via Zoom videoconferencing. Laura will send an invitation with a link to the meeting as the date draws nearer.
