

What Works to Promote Inclusive, Equitable Mixed-Income Communities

Mark L. Joseph and Amy T. Khare, Eds.

Table of Contents
2019

---

OPENING SECTION

Preface, Introduction essay and Research Outlook essay

MIDDLE SECTION

Cluster #1: What is the Current Landscape for Mixed-Income Strategies?

Section A: Spatial realities, challenges and opportunities

Section B: Inclusion and Equity in “Opportunity” Areas

Cluster #2: What Policy Innovations Do We Need?

Section C: Innovations in Policy Strategies

Cluster #3: Who Has a Say and Who Benefits?

Section D: Strategies for Increasing Community Ownership and Economic Benefits

Section E: Activating Community Change: Voice, Power and Influence

Section F: Who Benefits? Focus on Special Populations

Cluster #4: How to Engage the Private Sector in Inclusion and Equity?

Section G: Getting it Paid For: Financing and Investment

Section H: The Role of Development Entities

Cluster #5: What is Needed Beyond Mixed-Income Housing?

Section I: Designing for Community Health

Section J: Infrastructure, Architecture, and the Built Environment

Section K: Comprehensive Approaches to Mixed-Income Communities

CLOSING SECTION

Three closing essays

OPENING SECTION

1. Preface: Call to Action

Rip Rapson, The Kresge Foundation

2. Volume Introduction: Prioritizing Inclusion and Equity in the Next Generation of Mixed-Income Communities

Amy T. Khare, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University

Mark L. Joseph, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University

3. Research and Future Inquiry: What Else do We Need to Know to Create Successful Mixed-Income Communities?

April Jackson, Florida State University

Aram Yang, The Ohio State University

Rachel Garshick Kleit, The Ohio State University

MIDDLE SECTION

Cluster #1: What is the Current Landscape for Mixed-Income Strategies?

Section A: Spatial realities, challenges and opportunities

4. Spatial Context: The Geography of Mixed-Income Neighborhoods

Elizabeth Kneebone, Turner Center for Housing Innovation, University of California, Berkeley

Carolina Reid, Turner Center for Housing Innovation, University of California, Berkeley

Natalie Holmes, Turner Center for Housing Innovation, University of California, Berkeley

5. Attainability and Stability of Mixed-Income Neighborhoods

Elizabeth Luther, Capital Impact Partners

Noah Urban, Data Driven Detroit

Stephanie Quesnelle, Data Driven Detroit

Ayana Rubio, Data Driven Detroit

6. Mixed-Income LIHTC developments in Chicago: A First Look at Their Income Characteristics and Spillover Effects

Raphael Bostic, Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta

Andrew Jakobovics, Enterprise Community Partners

Richard Voith, Econsult Solutions, Inc.
Sean Zielenbach, SZ Consulting

Section B: Inclusion and Equity in Low-Poverty Neighborhoods

7. *High-Opportunity Partner Engagement (HOPE): Creating Low-Income Housing Options Near Good Schools

Peter Kye, Poverty & Race Research Action Council
Megan Haberle, Poverty & Race Research Action Council
Laura Abernathy, National Housing Trust
Scott Kline, National Housing Trust

8. *The MTO Fund: Harnessing the Market to Promote Opportunity and Inclusion

Hans Buder, Moving to Opportunity Fund

9. *Investing in New York’s Future: Affordable Rental Housing in Mixed-Income Projects

Sasha Tsenkova, University of Calgary
Alex F. Schwartz, The New School

10. *The Case for Social Inclusion in Inclusionary Development

Shomon Shamsuddin, Tufts University
Amy Khare, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University
Emily Miller, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University

Cluster #2: What Policy Innovations Do We Need?
--

Section C: Innovations in Policy Strategies

National Policy:

11. *National Policy Background and History and Possibilities for Policy Change

Salin Geevarghese, Mixed-Income Strategic Alliance, Center for the Study of Social Policy

12. *Using Policy Tools to Preserve Affordability Amid Reinvestment: Findings from 80 U.S. Cities

Adele Cassola, Global Strategy Lab

13. *HUD’s Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing Rule as an Equity Planning Tool for Mixed Income Communities

Katherine O’Regan, Furman Center, New York University

Ken Zimmerman, Furman Center, New York University

Local Policy:

14. “California For All” Lessons Learned From The Front Lines: Using State Power to Redirect Affordable Housing Funding and Override Local Control in Service of Making Mixed-Income, Racially Diverse Communities a Reality
Ben Metcalf, California Department of Housing and Community Development

15. Qualified Allocation Plans as an Instrument for Mixed-Income Placemaking
Bryan P. Grady, South Carolina State Housing Finance and Development Authority
Charlie J. Boos, Legal Aid Society of Columbus

16. Embracing Odd Bedfellows in Odd Times: How to Sustain Financial and Political Support for Mixed-Income Financing and Messaging
Robin Snyderman, BRick Partners
Antonio R. Riley, Stewart Riley Consulting, LLC

Cluster #3: Who Has a Say and Who Benefits?
--

Section D: Strategies for Increasing Community Ownership and Economic Benefits

17. Community Benefits Agreements Can Promote Inclusive, Equitable Neighborhoods
Ralph Rosado, Rosado & Associates; Metropolitan Center at Florida International University

18. Multi-Sectoral Partnerships for Social and Affordable Housing: The Community Land Trust Model
Penny Gurstein, University of British Columbia

19. Community Land Trusts, What if Going to Scale and Community Control Aren’t Contradictions?
Emily Thaden, Grounded Solutions Network
Tony Pickett, Grounded Solutions Network

Section E: Activating Community Change: Voice, Power and Influence

20. Community Building and Neighborhood Associations in Seattle’s HOPE VI Neighborhoods
Ellen Kissman, Seattle Housing Authority
Stephanie Van Dyke, Seattle Housing Authority

21. *Using Empathetic Polling in Community Outreach

Aly Andrews, Project Management Advisors, Inc.
Sydney VanKuren, Farr Associates

22. *A Fish Never Asks About the Water: Why We Must Prioritize Public Will-Building to Advance Inclusive, Mixed-Income and Mixed-Use Communities

Tiffany A. Manuel, The Case Made, Inc.

23. *For Whom, By Whom: Equitable Approaches to Economic and Housing Development

Lena Afridi, Association for Neighborhood & Housing Development

Section F: Who Benefits? Focus on Special Populations

24. *Mixed-Income Communities, African-American Fathers, and Forging Strategic Alliances for a More Impactful Approach

Clinton Boyd, Jr., Georgia State University
Deirdre A. Oakley, Georgia State University

25. *Intersectional Approaches to Inclusive Community Building and Empowerment

Akira Drake Rodriguez, University of Pennsylvania
Majeedah Rashid, Nicetown CDC

26. *Youth Voice in Redevelopment: The Story of Green Garden Bakery

Youth authors with coordination and support by Esther Shin and Elana Dahlberg, Urban Strategies, Inc., and Taryn Gress, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University

27. *Opportunities Lost in Segregated White Spaces

Marisa Novara, Metropolitan Planning Council

28. *Sinners and Saints: Market-Rate Residents' Role in Mixed-Income Developments

Michaeljit Sandhu, University of California, Berkeley

Cluster #4: How to Engage the Private Sector in Inclusion and Equity?
--

Section G: Getting it Paid For: Financing and Investment

29. *Rebuilding the Bond Market for Mixed-Income Housing

Carol Galante, Turner Center for Housing Innovation, University of California, Berkeley
Carolina Reid, Turner Center for Housing Innovation, University of California, Berkeley
Nathaniel Decker, University of California, Berkeley

30. Making a Stronger Case for Mixed-Income Investments

Lisa Davis, PGIM Real Estate

31. How to Promote Equitable Mixed-Income Neighborhoods through Opportunity Zone Investments

Aaron Seybert, The Kresge Foundation

Kimberlee Cornett, The Kresge Foundation

Lori Chatman, Enterprise Community Investment, Inc.

32. A Practitioners' Perspective on the Evolution of Financing of Mixed-Income Communities

Andy Geer, Enterprise Community Development

LaShunda Gonzalez, McCormack, Baron, Salazar

Section H: The Role of Development Entities

33. What Works for Building and Sustaining Mixed-Income, Mixed-Use Communities: A Perspective from the Development Community

Rosie Hepner, Urban Land Institute

Lisa Sturtevant, Urban Land Institute

Vicki Davis, Urban Atlantic

Daryl Carter, Avanath Capital Management

34. Creating Equity through Mixed-Income Communities

Vince Bennett, McCormack, Baron, Salazar

Cady Seabaugh, McCormack, Baron, Salazar

Ann Kittlaus, Consultant

35. Doing Our Part to Create a Mixed-Income America

Bev Bates, The Community Builders, Inc

Elizabeth Gonzalez-Suarez, The Community Builders, Inc

Bart Mitchell, The Community Builders, Inc

36. Deep Hospitality: Forging New Relationships and Roles in Managing Mixed Income Developments

Frankie Blackburn, Trusted Space Partners

Bethany Friel, Trek Development

37. West Philadelphia Scattered Site Model: An Affordable Housing Impact Study

Michael Norton, Reinvestment Fund

Karen Black, May 8 Consulting

Jacob Rosch, Reinvestment Fund

38. *Weinland Park: Building Community as a Neighborhood Transitions to Mixed Income

Stephen Sterrett, Weinland Park Collaborative
Kip Holley, The Ohio State University, Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity
Zachary E. Kenitzer, Alliance Data
Matthew Martin, The Columbus Foundation

39. *Re-Making Midtown: The Non-Profit Sector Takes the Lead

Michelle Wooddell, Grand Valley State University

Cluster #5: What is Needed Beyond Mixed-Income Housing?
--

Section I: Designing for Community Health

40. *Residents' Trauma and Resilience Experiences: Examples from Housing Transformation in San Francisco

Susan Neufeld, BRIDGE Housing
Leslie Dubbin, University of California, San Francisco
Irene Yen, University of California, Merced

41. *Recognizing and Incentivizing Healthy Communities

Sara Karerat, Center for Active Design
Lisa Creighton, Center for Active Design

42. *Mixed-Income Community Interventions and Health Outcomes

Mark L. Joseph, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University
Joni Hirsch, Center for the Study of Social Policy
Salin Geevarghese, Center for the Study of Social Policy

Section J: Infrastructure, Architecture, and the Built Environment

43. *Ten Urban Design Strategies for Mixed-Income Neighborhoods

Emily Talen, University of Chicago

44. *Successful Disaster Mitigation through Resilient Human Capital and Infrastructure Investments

Vince Bennett, McCormack, Baron, Salazar
Cady Seabaugh, McCormack, Baron, Salazar
Ann Kittlaus, Consultant

Section K: Comprehensive Approaches to Mixed-Income Communities

45. Comprehensive Community Change through the Choice Neighborhoods Model

Mindy Turbov, Choice Neighborhoods Initiative Director, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

46. Social Inclusion/Exclusion in Choice Neighborhoods

Morgan Bulger, National Initiative on Mixed-Income Communities, Case Western Reserve University

47. Mixed-Income Communities Need Mixed-Income Early Care and Education

Matthew Tinsley, Strong Start, Santa Clara County Office of Education
Mary Ann Dewan, Santa Clara County Office of Education

CLOSING SECTION

48. Looking Back, Looking Forward

Rachel Bratt, Joint Center on Housing Studies, Harvard University

49. Inclusion and Equity: Challenges and Opportunities for Innovation

Rolf Pendall, University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana

47. Racial Equity: Changing Mindsets and Systems

Author(s) TBD