

JACK, JOSEPH AND MORTON MANDEL
SCHOOL OF APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCES

CASE WESTERN RESERVE
UNIVERSITY

SHARON E. MILLIGAN, Ph.D.

Faculty Biographical Sketch

Sharon Milligan is an Associate Professor of Social Work, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Chair of the Master of Science in Social Administration (MSSA) and Master in Nonprofit Management Organizations (MNO) programs at the Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio., U.S.A. At the Mandel School, she is also Associate Director of the Center on Urban Poverty and Community Development. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh and joined the Mandel School in 1982. Since 1973 when she began her career as a social work coordinator at the Chicago Housing Authority Child Development Program, she has been continuously involved in the social work, community development and public health fields as a program developer, researcher, teacher and consultant to government and nonprofit agencies for women, children and the elderly.

Dr. Milligan teaches graduate courses in community development, social welfare policy and research methodology. Dr. Milligan directed a study to uncover technology for evaluating conditions and assets in low-income communities. She directed several funded research projects focusing on health and minorities.

A contributor of scholarly articles to professional literature, Dr. Milligan's publications appear in Women and Health, The New England Journal of Medicine, Controlled Clinical Trials, Social Work in Health Care, The Gerontologist, Ethnicity and Disease, Community Mental Health Journal and Arthritis Care and Research.

- Community Development
- Health and Minorities
- Policy for the Poor