- Enrolled as a result of participation in the Job Opportunities and Basic Skills program
- Be participating in an on-the-job training program
- Be responsible for the care of a dependent household member under the age of 6
- Be responsible for the care of a dependent household member who has reached the age of 6 but is under age 12 and adequate childcare is not available
- Be a single parent and responsible for the care of a dependent child under the age of 12

For students who are participating in a State or federally financed work study program during the regular school year:

- To qualify under this provision, the student must be approved for work study at the time of application for SNAP benefits, the work study must be approved for the school term, and the student must anticipate actually working during that time. The exemption shall begin the month in which the school term begins or the month work study is approved, whichever is later. Once begun, the exemption shall continue until the end of the month in which the school term ends, or it becomes known that the student has refused an assignment.
- The exemption shall not continue between terms when there is a break of a full month or longer unless the student is participating in work study during the break or qualifies for SNAP in another way.
