Conditions of Visiting Student Enrollment

A visiting student is defined as: 1) an individual who is attending another college or university and who wishes to transfer credits earned at Case Western Reserve University to that institution; or 2) a non-degree individual (i.e. does not hold, nor is currently pursuing, an undergraduate or advanced degree) who would like to enroll for credit in courses for which their background experiences qualify them.

A visiting student must submit a Visiting Undergraduate Student Application. In lieu of completing the Dean's/Registrar's section, CWRU will accept an official letter from the home institution certifying that the student is in good academic standing, is not subject to disciplinary probation, and is eligible to resume studies at their home institution.

A visiting student will work with the dean, in the Office of Undergraduate Advising Support, responsible for advising non-degree students when it is time to register for courses. The student will receive instructions regarding registration at the time they are notified of their acceptance to CWRU. Students are encouraged to submit a transcript with this application in order to account for prerequisites and course readiness.

A visiting student is subject to policies outlined in the Case Western Reserve University Bulletin and University Policies (including registration dates, class withdrawal, academic integrity, etc.).

All registered students of the University may use the services provided by University Health and Counseling Service as their primary care facility. University Health and Counseling Service requires the completion of a medical history and an immunization record by students. Medical histories, immunization records, and Case Western Reserve University Medical Plan Waiver forms are available from University Health and Counseling Service by calling 216.368.2450.

The student's home institution will determine the transfer of credit earned at CWRU. Please confer with the appropriate official at your home institution if you have questions about the transferability of CWRU courses.

The privilege of enrolling as a visiting student for more than one semester is subject to the following limitations:

1. A minimum grade point average of "C" must be maintained.
2. All visiting students are limited to a maximum of 30 semester hours and they may not register in more than five semesters, summer session included.
