

Office of Energy & Sustainability

The Observer
special supplement
on the environment
see page 7.

is to educate everyone on the issue of the environment in preparation for April 22—Earth Day. The two-day conference will present outstanding speakers on this topic and there will be no admission charge. The schedule is as follows:

FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 7 p.m.—EMERSON GYM
Dr. Epstein-Chairman, Department of Environmental Toxicology and Carcinogenesis, Children's Cancer Foundation, Boston. Topic: "Biological Hazards due to Chemical Pollutants."
M. Bookchin—Author and Lecturer in Sociology, New York City. Topic: "Pollution and Political Action."
Dr. Radford—Professor, Environmental Health, Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Reitze—Professor of Law, CWRU. Topic: "Atomic Energy: Friend or Enemy?"
Dr. Davis—Professor, Department of Zoology, University of Kentucky. Topic: "Population, Pollution and Survival".
Dr. McGowen—Administrator, Center for Biology of Natural Systems, Washington University, St. Louis. Topic: "Citizen Action: Air and Water Pollution."
C. Bunche—Weeks—Women's Liberation Movement. Topic: "Consumerism: a New Movement."

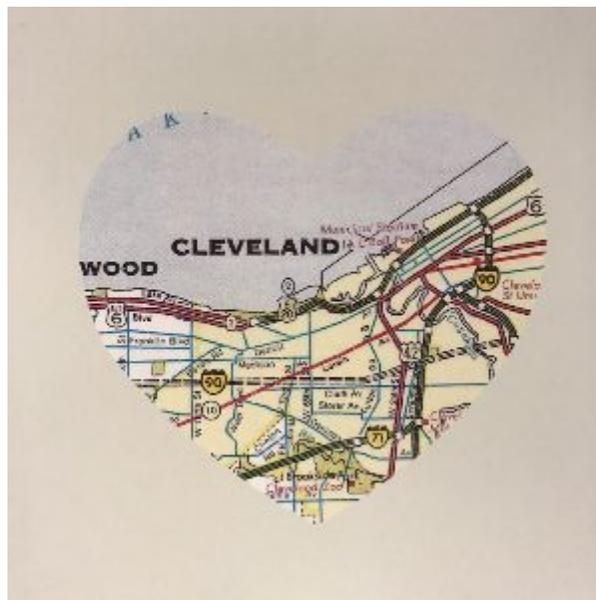

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, —BAKER BUILDING
9:30—12:30—workshops headed by experts
1:30—4:30—workshops
5:30 (in Sirostacker)—Results of workshops will be reported to prepare action for Crisis in the Environment Week (April 19-26).

The Observer

VOL. 1 NO. 45 The Student Newspaper of Case Western Reserve University APRIL 10, 1970

Historic Observer Articles Featuring the Environment

In observance of the 50th anniversary of Earth Day, we pulled together a collection of related Observer articles from 1970. Our campus held a day-long teach-in to celebrate the first Earth Day in 1970 with many speakers about environmental issues that are still relevant today. You'll find an entire Observer supplement focused on the environment for the first Earth Day along with articles through the 1980s.

2019-2020 Sustainability Champions Named!

We are excited to announce this year's Sustainability Champions. Thank you for the nominations. Annually, we honor a CWRU staff member, student, and faculty member for their work to move sustainability at CWRU forward. This year's recipients are:

- Siu Yan Scott - staff, School of Medicine Registrar

- Dr. Beverly Saylor - faculty, Professor of Earth, Environmental, and Planetary Sciences Department and endowed Armington Professor

We are thrilled to honor this group of Champions and thankful for their work on sustainability and climate. More details on the recipients will be published in early May.

Earth Day Bingo

You Can Still Take Action, Submit the Earth Day Bingo Game, and Win Prizes!

In lieu of an in-person event, our office is celebrating Earth Day with you at home. Download the bingo card on our website and complete at least five squares in a row. Squares all encourage green learning, habit change, or action have hyperlinks for more info. Email us at sustainability@case.edu to turn in your card and tag us on Instagram with #cwruearthday2020 to show how you're completing your squares to win and to be entered in a prize drawing. Have fun and happy 50th Earth Day.

Subscribe

Past Issues

Translate ▼

---

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list