

Mary Ann Swetland Center for Environmental Health

Department of Population and Quantitative Health Sciences
Case Western Reserve University

Do you want to deepen your knowledge of community systems science for environmental health equity?

Do you want to engage in thought-provoking experiences to enhance awareness of the environment's disparate impact on communities and populations?

- Ten weeks, May 26-July 31, 2020
- Monthly stipend
- Weekly seminars
- Technical skill building
- Professional development

Learn to advance your capacity in:
(1) community-engagement for environmental justice;
(2) ecological, systems, and computational methodologies; and
(3) implementation, evaluation, and dissemination of environmental health interventions.

Applications close Friday, February 14, 2020 (5pm EST)

APPLY HERE

For more information, visit:
www.case.edu/swetland/training/swetland-opportunities

Questions?
Contact Jennifer King, PhD at jab307@case.edu

MARY ANN SWETLAND
CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH